CANADA'S INDUSTRIES

THE CENSUS RETURNS SHOW EXTENSIVE GROWTH.

Immense Production of Some Establishments — Ontario Still Holds Leading Position Among Provinces, and Montreal in the Cities.

Ottawa, Dec. 27.—The information obtained from the census of the manufactures of Canada taken in June, 1911, has just made its appearance in a bulletin from the census branch. Some of the information was given the public by Mr. Archibald Blue in a speech at the annual meeting of the Manufacturers' Association in September, but much is entirely new.

The returns show that at the time of the census Canada had 19,218 manufacturing establishments, with a capital of $1,247,573,609; with 215,193 employees; with a pay roll of $645,288,733; using raw materials to the value of $601,509,018; and turning out products to the value of $1,165,975,629.

In ten years the number of establishments increased by 4,568; capital by $800,000,000; employees by 176,000; wages by $128,000,000; raw materials handled by $32,000,000 and finished products by $685,000,000.

The extensive development of Canada's industries is indicated by the immense production of some of the establishments. One in Nova Scotia in 1910 turned out more than eight million dollars' worth of products, one in Ontario more than nine million dollars' worth, and two in Quebec more than ten million dollars' worth. These were fourteen establishments which had a product of just under seven million dollars each for the year.

Ontario continues the banner province for manufacturing, having 6,543 establishments, Quebec being next with 4,845; Nova Scotia following with 1,188; New Brunswick 919; British Columbia 392; Prince Edward Island, 334; Manitoba, 324; and Alberta and Saskatchewan together 105.

The figures indicate that amalgamation was practised in Ontario to a very large extent, as during the last five years the number of manufacturing establishments increased by only five, while the total capitalization of the Ontario manufacturing companies increased by 200,000,000, the number of employees by fifty thousand, the amount of wages paid by $55,000,000, and the total production by $210,000,000.

In Quebec the number of establishments showed an increase of 1,619 in five years, the total capitalization $71,000,000, the number of employees by 29,000, the wages paid them by $22,000,000, and the total production of the factories showed an increase of $131,000,000. The province with the highest rate of increase in the value of products during the last ten years was Alberta, with 1,331 per cent, the amount of increase being $17,000,000.

MONEY NO GUARANTEE

OF WORTH, DECLARES J. OGDEN ARMOUR.

Multi-Millionaire Says it Often Means Little, and What Counts, He Says, is Work.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 27.—J. Ogden Armour of Chicago, worth numerous millions, does not think money is a guarantee of worth or character or a touchstone of happiness, according to an interview he gave as he strolled back and forth on the terrace of the Hotel Maryland, in Pasadena, to-day.

"Maybe you don't think I work," he said. "Why, every man must work—if he's worth a million, if he is worth a hundred millions or if he is dependent on his weekly salary. We ought all to take our pieces in the great organization and work of the world."

"You know money doesn't mean everything—in fact, very little in some cases for the full value of it is not gained. Take the sons of some rich men; their money is squandered in drinking and other ways."

"Sometimes a poor man is far and away better off than a rich man. I watch my men. I know the lives of many. That doesn't mean only the men who are close about me, but the men in my plant. Some with only a moderate salary are far happier than men to whom the worth of a bank means no more than a box of cigars in value to the ordinary person."

"Because a man has money, that does not make him any better. Perhaps it would be better if all men were equal in wealth; still if that Utopian condition were brought about there would be some in the world that would corral the dollars of the others and we would come back to the conditions of the present day."

"But let me tell you something right here. I have no rich men working for me. I don't want them. When a man takes a position and is rich enough not to be dependent on his salary which comes from that position he has reached a stage when he is not worth a continental. Now, this is generally speaking. Of course there are exceptions to all rules. I don't care to have a rich man's son in my employ unless the boy is there for work."

"In my plant all of the head men have risen from the ranks. There is not an office boy in my employ at the present day who cannot rise to my position—well, I will not say my position, but next to me. The office boys are picked most carefully. We never go outside for a man; we advance them."

"Take T. J. Connors. He started with our firm thirty years ago as a clerk, with a salary of perhaps $3 a month. Now he is one of my head men."

CHINAMEN UP-TO-DATE.
Will Likely Celebrate Dawn of New Year, Jan. 1st.

Although the local Chinamen are not saying anything about it, it is expected that they will follow the example set by Chinamen in various other places, and celebrate the dawn of the new year for the first time on January 1st.

It is stated that the celebration of the Chinese new year in the month of February is likely to be discontinued. With the fall of the Manchu dynasty, the ages of the old calendar of the Ming dynasty, it is stated, will be followed no longer, and that hereafter, January 1st will be the date for the beginning of the new year with all the Chinese.
