

DREADFUL ITCHING AND BURNING

White Blisters Spread All Over Head, Scratched Until Mass of Sores, Hard Crusts Left Raw Flesh, Had to Cut Hair Away, Healed by Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Hair Growing Thick.

339 Romaine St., Peterboro, Ontario.—My little girl's head was in a terrible state. It started with little white blisters, which would break until it spread all over her head. The burning and itching were dreadful, especially at night when she would scratch it until it was one mass of sores all over her head, and the pillow would be covered with blood. She could get no rest at all with the pain. She would beg of me to put something on to cool the burning and irritation. Hard crusts would form on her head which when she scratched it would leave the raw flesh underneath, and her hair came off with it or would be in such a dreadful state that I would be obliged to cut the hair away.

"I tried several remedies but none of them seemed to do any good. I then cut her hair quite close, washed it with Cuticura Soap and bandaged it using Cuticura Ointment. It is now quite healed without a mark on the skin. Her hair is growing nice and thick again." (Signed) Mrs. M. Saunders, Feb. 13, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. A single set is often sufficient. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post card Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 2612, Boston, U. S. A.

Ellerbeck and Miss Lillian Ellerbeck, Mr. Edward Joyner and Mrs. H. Walker, Yarker, at T. Bradford's. Mrs. Lambert was called to the bedside of her mother recently, who is seriously ill. W. Bradford at Verons.

Milk Meeting at Chantry.

Chantry, Feb. 22.—The annual milk meeting took place on Friday, and was largely attended by those interested. Thomas Malton acted as chairman. The secretary, I. Stevens, reported 2,600,980 pounds of milk, 130,314 pounds of cheese, and 192 pounds of butter. It took 11.02 pounds of milk for a pound of cheese, the average price for the season for a ton of milk being $24.51. The managers of the Union and Merchants' banks were present.

Miss Bell Brown, of Simcoe, is visiting her parents. Mrs. John Schofield is moving to Athens. A. Elliott has purchased the Seman property.

Bath Road News.

Bath Road, Feb. 20.—The remains of the late C. Potter, who died at Oshawa, were brought to his father's residence on the 10th inst. The funeral service was held on Tuesday, the 11th, and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Elliott, of Cataract. Deceased leaves wife and child, and was much regretted. The sorrowing family met with a second bereavement this week when a young son of Charles Trussell, a daughter of Mr. Potter, Sr., died in Hamilton. This vicinity was well represented at the races on Col. W. A. Benn's on Tuesday. The young son of S. Abbott has recovered from his recent attack of pneumonia.

At Bicknell's Corners.

A number of delegates from here attended the conservative convention in Perth on Friday. Mr. Ebbs was the choice. Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer spent Sunday at William Palmer's. Robert Sergeant at John Buchanan's.

Sharbot Lake Entertainment.

Sharbot Lake, Feb. 25.—A fine treat was given those who attended Erwin's hall, Friday evening, when a Japanese musical play, entitled, "The Tea House," was presented. The different parts were well taken, and much enjoyed. Special mention is due Miss Williamson, who took the part of Molly Seamore; Miss A. Kilborn, who played the part of O. Mimosa San, the chief Geisha, and H. Cornell, as Reginald Fairfax. Those who took part were Mrs. Walsley, Mrs. Cannon, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Erwin, Miss Williamson, Mr. Kilborn, H. Smith, Mr. Laggett, A. Buell, C. Connell, Miss Ada Cannon, Miss Grey, Miss Reid, Miss A. Kilborn, H. Cornell, A. Reynolds, B. Buell and J. Swindella.

Wolfe Island Revival.

Wolfe Island, Feb. 25.—The special services, which continued for the past three weeks in the Methodist church, closed on Thursday evening. The weather and attendance were all that could be desired. Evangelist Norman Lambly, of Inverness, Que., came to the assistance of the pastor, Rev. A. W. Stewart, and his gospel messages in sermon and song will never be forgotten. A sacramental service was held in the church last Sabbath morning and the number of communicants was larger than it has been for years. The Ladies Aid met on Feb. 19th, at the home of Mrs. William Mosier. Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper and Rev. and Mrs. Stewart visited at the home of Rev. (Dr.) Nesbitt, Cusheon, on Monday. Miss Lily Woodman has returned from a visit with friends in Aultsville. Visitors: James Brash, Kingston, at George Keyes'; Rev. (Dr.) Nesbitt, Cusheon, and Stanley Ball, K.E.C., at the Methodist parsonage; Robert and Miss Clara Gillespie, St. Lawrence, at William Bolton's.

Sleighing at Berryton.

Berryton, Feb. 24.—The people around here are enjoying the first sleighing of the season. Inspector Johnson visited the school on Thursday last. Most of the people are busy filling their ice houses. A number of young people attended the annual tea meeting held in Springfield Methodist church at South Lake. Charles Bar yaw is recovering after a severe attack of grippe. Miss Margaret McPherson spent the week-end with Miss Lena Bryan at her home at Long Point. Miss Pearl Hill has resumed her position as bookkeeper in Brockville. Stop Hand and Cold Sores

Are your hands chapped, cracked or sore? Have you "cold cracks" which open and bleed when the skin is drawn tight? Have you a cold sore, frost bite, chilblain, or a "raw" place, which at times makes it agony for you to go about your household duties? If so, Zam-Buk will give you relief, and will heal the frost-damaged skin. Anoint the sore places at night. Zam-Buk's rich healing essences will sink into the wounds, and the smarting, and will heal quickly.

Mrs. Yellen, of Portland, says: "My hands were so sore and cracked that it was agony to put them near water. When I did so they would smart and burn as if I had scalded them. I seemed quite unable to get relief from anything I put on them until I tried Zam-Buk, and it succeeded when all else had failed. It closed the big cracks, gave me ease, soothed the inflammation, and in a very short time healed my hands."

Zam-Buk also cures chafing, rashes, winter sores, cuts, ulcers, frost-bites, sore heads and heels, abrasions, grazes, ringworm, eczema, burns, scalds, warts, pruritus. Of all druggists and stores, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Price 50c per tin.

Value of a Laugh.

The value of a good natured laugh may be rated low by some people, but many writers have attested its worth in no measured terms. It is not surprising that Charles Lamb should have said, "A laugh is worth a hundred groans in any market," but from the lips of the somber Carlyle one is scarcely prepared to hear, "No man who has once heartily and wholly laughed can be altogether or irretrievably bad."

It was Douglas Jerrold who boldly stated that "what was talked of as the golden chain of Jove was nothing more than a succession of laughs, a chromatic scale of merriment reaching from earth to Olympus." "I am persuaded," wrote Laurence Sterne, "that every time a man smiles—but much more so when he laughs—it adds something to his fragment of life."

Last of all may be cited the verdict of Oliver Wendell Holmes, given with his own inimitable humor, "The riotous tumult of a laugh, I take it, is the mob law of the features, and propriety the magistrate who reads the riot act."—St. Louis Republic.

When Jenny Lind Saw Niagara.

A piece of verse by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward records an incident which happened when Jenny Lind was visiting America. After the Swedish nightingale had won the hearts of a vast public and not only praise of the singer, but friendship for the noble woman, had grown strong among the Americans it was asked: How honor her? By what fair sight for her Niagara on a rainbow day. So she is shown among a curious multitude approaching this marvel of marvels—the voice of the waters, the voice of the woman, meeting as it were in happy praise of God. She gazed awestruck and sank on her knees in prayer. The people prayed with her, and those who were not moved by the majestic splendor of nature to worship the infinite, yet, as Mrs. Ward says, for many a day thereafter thought of God and of Jenny Lind kneeling humbly there.—Christian Science Monitor.

Merely Climate.

The American visitor wandered down into sunny Cornwall. Seeing some particularly large chrysanthemums in a garden, he knocked at the cottage door and exclaimed to the grower: "Fine flowers these. Guess I'd like to know how you grow 'em." "Oh, climate," replied the yokel. "And them great cabbages—what makes them grow?" "Just climate," declared the Cornwall man seriously. "Hm! Away in New York about all we grow is skyscrapers. Only last year a fifty story building sprang up like a mushroom. It grew up so quick that it had no stairs or lift." And the yokel stared aghast. "How—how do you get to the top, then?" "Oh, climate—just climate!"—London Answers.

Strange Meals in Dumas' Novels.

Some of the meals in Dumas' novels are of a decidedly barbaric nature. Not many of us nowadays would care to sit through the dinner described in "Venetia," which opened with "an ample tureen of potato royal, with a boned duck swimming in its center. Then came a huge roast pike, flanked on one side by a leg of mutton and on the other by bombarded veal. To these succeeded a grand battalia fire in which the bodies of chickens, pigeons and rabbits were embalmed in spices, cock's combs and savory balls and well bedewed with one of those rich sauces of claret, anchovy and sweet herbs, technically termed a tear. . . . The repeat closed with a dish of oyster leaves and a pompetone of larks."—London Standard.

A Diary Difficulty.

"Diaries sometimes are a dangerous thing," said a lawyer. "They make terrible revelations. I know a man who said to his wife: "Don't you think, Maria, that with the New Year's advent it would be a good thing for us to keep a diary?" "Yes, perhaps," Maria answered, "but if we registered all our family quarrels in the volume I'm afraid most people would mistake it for a scrap book."—Washington Star.

Neither Acceptable.

Pretty Daughter—So you don't like Jim? Her father—No. He appears to be capable of nothing. Pretty Daughter—But what objection have you to George? Her father—Oh, he's worse than Jim. He strikes me as being capable of anything.—London Stray Stories.

The Small Boy Again.

"Bobby, do you see that bright star overhead, at the top of the big cross?" "Yes." "Well, that's Dench. It is nearly three quadrillions of miles away." "Huh! Then how do you know its name is Dench?"—Chicago Tribune.
