MRS. GREATON'S AWFUL EXPERIENCE

During Change of Life—How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—Mrs. MARION SWEET GREATON, No. 1 Jefferson St., Natick, Mass.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (consultants) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

CANADIAN BASEBALL LEAGUE OUTLOOK IS GOOD.

Ottawa Does Not Credit Report. That a New Six-club Lacrosse League is to be Organized.

Two senior, five intermediate and three junior teams remain in the O.H.A. Quebec, it is said, will not take part in the professional hockey tourney in New York in March.

The championship of the western section of the interprovincial hockey league goes to Smith's Falls, which club won from Brockville in the deciding game by 3 to 4.

Seymour, outfielder of the New York and Cincinnati National League teams for many years, has been signed by the Boston National League club. Announcement of this effect was made.

The announcement from Montreal of the consummation of a plan to organize a six-club professional lacrosse league, consisting of Cornwall, Shamrock, Nationals, Montreal, Toronto and Tecumseh, is not credited by officers of the capital.

Mrs. Daisy Rothwell, wife of William H. Rothwell, known in pugilistic circles as Young Corbett, appeared before Supreme Court Justice Hendrick, New York, to ask for a divorce. She named an unknown woman. Mrs. Rothwell said she married her husband in 1906 as the result of a wager.

A big high powered racing car and an elaborate limousine, both the property of "Jack" Johnson will be shipped from Toronto to Chicago by "Tom" Flanagan. They belong to the fighter who was stopped by the immigration department from entering Canada and were sent ahead.

The outlook for the Canadian baseball league was never brighter. The clubs will be stronger than in other years, and the championship race will be much closer.

The league is figuring on eight clubs again this season, although the Peterboro team is talking of jumping out. If they decide to stand the loss for another season the circuit will be the same, Ottawa, London, St. Thomas, Brantford, Berlin, Guelph, Hamilton and Peterboro.

Matrimonial Market.

The Hitabadi and Basumati, native Indian papers, publish between them some curious instances bearing on the state of affairs that prevails in the matrimonial market of the present day. Here is one of them: An elderly gentleman of Cooh Behar, a widower of slender means, having a marriageable daughter to dispose of, was on the lookout for a suitable bridegroom. But the prohibitive rates ruling in the market were against him, and he at last hoped that with the dowry he would obtain from the marriage of his only son, he would marry away his daughter. But, as ill-luck would have it, the boy died, and the gentleman, finding no other way open, was forced to enter into wedlock himself for a second time in order that he might carry the girl to his new brother-in-law.—London Globe.

It Won Him Over.

An actor said at the Lambs' Club in New York:

"Charles Frohman's geniality is as proverbial as his big black cigar. Frohman, in my younger days, once offered me a very little part at a very little salary. Out of work as I was, I hesitated to accept the proposition; but Frohman, clapping me joyously on the back, won me over with the remark:

"Come, come, now, don't be a fool. You know well enough that a small role is better than a whole loaf."

"McFadden's Flats."

Pronouncedly clever with all the requirements so essential to laughter, the real things, spry and more gay than ever, "McFadden's Flats," will be at the Grand on Saturday, March 1st, matinee and night. The Waldorf-Astoria is great, and it is intimated that we are to have one that will be greater, so it is likewise with the "Flats." The farce is great, but this year it is greater than ever. This spectacular fantasia or vaudeville gale excels in magnificent magnitude and splendor in its last year's production—veritable in the vaudeville sense of the term, and if possible, more amusing than ever, while the scenes pervade in artistic effects and coloring. Everything is beautiful, new and bright in the costume line and the concourse of singing and dancing girls completely captivating in gleeful song and graceful motion.

Early a Relative Term.

Secretary Wilson of the U. S. Department of Agriculture said the other day:

"It has become the fashion for everybody to declare that the profit from the high cost of living all goes to the farmer. We hear on all sides about the farmer's automobile and talking machine, his Persian rug and player piano, his wife's hat, his daughter's college education, and so forth and so on.

"We must take these statements with a grain of salt. I wish the farmer all the success in the world, but there's far more accuracy in a story I heard the other day than in all this talk of rural luxury and opulence.

"A city chap, the story ran, went on a farm to help with the harvesting in return for his board.

"The first morning when the farmer called him, it was so dark and frosty that the city chap couldn't resist another brief moan before getting up. But he was, at that, out in the field by four o'clock.

"'Fine morning!' he said to his employer genially.

"Through the dim dawn light the farmer scowled at him.

"'It was,' he said."

Taking Precautionary Measures.

London Tit-Bits.

"You admit, then," inquired the magistrate, severely, "that you stole the pig?"

"I suppose I must," said the prisoner.

"Very well," returned the magistrate with decision; "there has been a lot of pig stealing going on around here lately, and I am going to make an example of you, or some of us will be safe."

Correct.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Here's a judge who holds that a man's wife is not a part of his family," said the Old Fogey.

"He's right," replied the Grouch. "She is the whole thing."

TIDINGS FROM DENBIGH.

Charles Dool Killed at Sudbury— Kingston Teacher Secured.

Denbigh, Feb. 25.—Miss Wanda Marquardt, of Raglan, who spent a week visiting relatives in the village and vicinity, has returned home and intends to leave for Michigan in a few days. Mrs. Clark, formerly of Kingston, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Both, for a couple of months, has left for Ottawa, where her husband proceeded here, and where they are going to reside in the future. Mrs. C. Both went to Kingston to see her son, William, who was a patient in the general hospital, but has considerably improved. Both are expected home in a few days.

Thomas Dool received the sad news that his son, Charles, died on the 16th inst., in the Sudbury hospital, from the effects of a severe fall. He was employed on the railway construction work, and fell from a bridge on the 13th inst., a distance of ten feet, breaking or dislocating his neck. Mr. Dool just returned from Sudbury, where he went to attend to the interment of the remains.

A number of farmers from here who left last fall for New Ontario, where they have been working in one of the lumber camps, have arrived home, their camp having broken up already. Owing to the scarcity of qualified teachers the village school

A Royal Sign Painter.

Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll, has of late led a strenuous life in the opening of sales of work, bazaars, etc. She is by far the handsomest of the late Queen Victoria's daughters and was well known at court as the favorite sister of King Edward. Also she is clever, has a lively wit, and is fond of music, painting and sculpture. She has done some fine busts and statues, but everyone may not have heard of another work of her hand, namely, the signboard of a small inn on the Clyde in Scotland. This was painted during a wait, when horses were changed, while she and the Duke of Argyll were at their rustic residence, Rosenath House in Dumbarshire. It is probably the only signboard ever painted by a royal personage. Her cairn terraces are only one of the Duchess' pet possessions. This highly-prized breed has been used for ages for hunting foxes and badgers in the Western Highlands and has been preserved through centuries by the Duke of Argyll and the Malcolm of Poltair loch.

For Everyone at Bedtime—FRY'S

Little bodies and big bodies alike get great good from this rich, pure beverage. Taken a bedtime FRY'S Cocoa satisfies that need for "a little something" that the appetite craves. It's a drink, yet it's a food too—the ideal way to take nourishment just before sleep.

Fry's THE Cocoa

So finely prepared, so soluble is FRY'S, that it is ready for immediate absorption into the system.—Isn't it better to drink FRY'S, the food beverage beyond compare, than just tea or coffee—which are simple infusions, without nourishment? But, of course—

Remember—"Nothing Will Do but FRY'S"
