ASQUITH'S HARD TIME

IN PREVENTING HIS LIVELY DAUGHTER, VIOLET,

From Taking the Leadership of the Militant Suffragettes—The Foolish Women To Try and Kidnap Ministers.

London, March 6.—To avoid, it is supposed, unpleasantness with suffragette demonstrations, Premier Asquith has announced the cancellation of the proposed reception to members of the House of Commons next Saturday night. One report says that Premier Asquith is having a hard time preventing his daughter, Violet, recently returned from Canada, from taking the leadership of the militant suffragettes during the illness of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst. Mrs. "General" Drummond to-day announced her willingness to step aside if Miss Asquith would take the leadership. The latter's suffragette sympathies are well known.

Latest Ventures.

London, March 6.—The suffragettes are now promising to "stagger humanity" unless women get the vote. They are planning new schemes which, as one of them said, would eclipse all previous efforts. "The pillar box raid, the New fire, the Walden health bombs," she said, "will pale before the operations that have been arranged. It was Kruger who declared that he would 'stagger humanity.' So will the suffragettes till the franchise is granted to women."

Soon after the opening of parliament raids are to be made on the house and members of the cabinet must be closely guarded, or they will be kidnapped. It is stated that it is intended to drop a "flashlight" into the body of the House of Commons from the strangers' gallery. Women will be brought from every part of the United Kingdom to take part in the militant ventures. In the last number of the official paper issued by the Militant League there appeared a picture of Nottingham castle destroyed by men seeking the vote. "This," said one of the militants, "is a symbolical of what may yet occur. We respect human life, but buildings, whatever their historic fame or tradition, are in imminent peril."

CITY CLERK TO RESIGN.

A. D. Shibley To Join City Investment House.

Montreal Witness. Genuine respect will be felt by all citizens of Westmount at the impending departure of A. D. Shibley from the office of city clerk, an office he has held since its inception in 1908. His resignation was handed to the council, and will take effect on the 21st inst., when Mr. Shibley will join a well-known Montreal investment house. Mr. Shibley has served Westmount for seventeen years, from 1896 to 1908, holding the position of assistant secretary-treasurer in the Westmount corporation, and on the city charter being granted, being selected as city clerk and assistant treasurer. During the era of his administration Mr. Shibley has conducted the affairs of the city in a manner that will constitute his resignation a great loss to Westmount.

Born at Kingston, Ont., Mr. Shibley passed into newspaper work, after an education at Kingston Collegiate Institute, being connected with the Kingston Whig, and later he took up work in a well-known wholesale house. He was a keen athlete and was a member of military units in Kingston and Montreal.

RISKS REASON FOR EYESIGHT.

Submits to a Dangerous Operation on Brain.

Atlanta City, March 6.—An unusual operation was performed at Boston upon the eyes of Dr. Rodman Sheen, of this city, by Prof. Harvey Cushing, dean of the Harvard Medical College. A growth in front of his brain, which was pressing against the optic nerve and imperiling the eyesight, was removed.

Many of Dr. Sheen's friends advised him not to undergo the operation, as it had generally been unsuccessful, and in some cases, had destroyed the patient's reason. Dr. Sheen, however, had only recently graduated from a medical college in Philadelphia and has felt his failing eyesight a constant menace to him in his career. So he decided to risk the dangerous operation.

Liberals Cheered Bickerdike.

Ottawa, March 6.—Striking evidence of the sincere interest which liberals are taking in the struggle was given when Robert Bickerdike, of Montreal, entered the chamber, yesterday afternoon, and took his seat, amid cheering. Mr. Bickerdike fell on the icy walk some weeks ago and broke his leg. He is still weak, but this is his first visit to the house since the accident. He could not, however, remain away with the fight on.

A STRICT CENSOR.

New Toronto Official Wants Stringent Rules.

Toronto, March 6.—William Banks, Jr., the veteran journalist, recently appointed theatrical censor, has handed a report to the police commissioners. Among a number of suggestions which he makes is that any citizen attending a performance at any Toronto theatre may apply for the arrest of any actor or actress if in his opinion their performance is obscene.

The burlesque companies, says Mr. Banks, play here twenty-seven weeks, having come from seventeen weeks on circuits where there is no censor, and where they play twice on Sunday as on other days. Accustomed to saying all kinds of things, they imagine they can introduce what they like into their performances when they come here. What is often the cause of trouble is the extra encore. "This encore may not be given at the performance at which the censor is present, and when it is given it may be filthy but the censor does not hear of it till afterwards. In future no encores are to be given that are not heard at a previous performance and passed by the censor. These encores are not in the original play and must be cut out."

"What should be quite clear is this, that although the censor may have passed the performance, this does not prevent any citizen, hearing or seeing anything indecent, from immediately getting an officer to have the actor arrested."

PEEPING TOM ABOUT SCHOOL.

Caught After Chase, Bound, Fined $25, Exiled.

Poughkeepsie, March 6.—Detected while playing the part of a Peeping Tom about the Bennett School for Girls, at Millbrook, Arthur Pinterpohl, a butler in the home of M. O'Malley Knott, who is associated with the school, was fined $25 by Justice of the Peace Tyldestey. The butler was apprehended by Albert Pingry and Douglas Beverly after a chase over the golf links connected with the school. He was sliding down a post of the front porch of the school when the two men came upon him. He ran over the golf links and seemed likely to escape when he stumbled and fell. His captors bound him with a rope and marched him to the home of the justice of the peace, who held him a prisoner until trial, when he found him guilty. After paying his fine Pinterpohl started for home, but a crowd of young men followed him and threatened to lash him in the public square. He promised to leave town within an hour if not molested, and kept his promise.

SEEKS GOLD LONG BURIED.

Expects to Locate Treasure in Nova Scotia.

Chester, Nova Scotia, March 6.—A Wisconsin college professor has formed a company to dig for two million pounds sterling, believed to have been buried more than two hundred years ago on Oak Island, a short distance from this port. Captain John Welling, for fifteen years first officer on a government steam dredge, has charge of the work.

An unsuccessful attempt was made by three men to recover this treasure in 1795. They abandoned the work after reaching a depth of thirty feet. Early in the nineteenth century another attempt was made to reach the treasure, but after digging ninety-five feet and unearthing a large stone on which was carved "Ten feet below are £2,000,000 buried," the pit filled with water and the work was abandoned.

OFFERED THRONE.

Duc of Montpensier May Be Ruler of Albania.

Paris, March 6.—The Duc of Montpensier, younger brother of the Duc of Orleans, the last of the Bourbon pretenders to the throne of France, has been asked to accept the throne of autonomous Albania, according to a semi-official statement. It was said that the duc, accompanied by Prince Ghika, pretender to the Albanian throne, were at Brindisi, endeavoring, in a yacht, to reach the Albanian coast. Prince Ghika several weeks ago said he was no longer an aspirant for the rulership of Albania.

Shortly after the outbreak of the Balkan war, the Albanians declared an autonomous government and elected a provisional president. The people decided, when their autonomy is recognized, to choose a member of some royal family.

11 Years For 5-cent Theft.

Atlanta, Ga., March 6.—A sentence of eleven years for the theft of a five-cent bottle of soda fountain drink was affirmed by the Georgia supreme court against Ollie Taylor, thirteen years old. The decision ends a three years' struggle by O. F. Taylor, father of the boy, to have the decision set aside.

The boy pleaded guilty of stealing the bottle and was sentenced to the Fulton Industrial Farm until he was twenty-one years old.

Transfusion Saved Life.

New York, March 6.—His life saved by the transfusion of half a pint of Dr. A. J. Rongy's blood into his wasted veins, Baby Sidney Nelkin, eight days old, was reported to be rapidly improving in the Jewish maternity hospital. The infant was taken with hemorrhage, yesterday, and Dr. Rongy, the attending physician at the hospital, volunteered to make up for the loss of blood with his own. The operation was quickly performed.

Democratic Love Feast.

Washington, March 6.—Speaker Clark was renominated, Representative Underwood, of Alabama, again was chosen chairman of the Ways and Means committee, with the entire democratic personnel of that tariff-making body, and all the house officers were renominated at a harmonious six-hour caucus of the democrats of the house of the sixty-third congress yesterday.

DR. EDWARDS RUFFLED

IN CROSS-FIRING WITH HON. JACQUES BUREAU.

The Frontenac Member Got More Than He Bargained For When He Started In To Ask Questions.

Ottawa, March 6.—Dr. J. W. Edwards, of Frontenac, and Hon. Jacques Bureau had some cross-firing in the commons yesterday. Mr. Bureau argued that there was no title to the government's naval policy; the prime minister refused to say whether it was to be a gift of the empire or a policy of contribution. "What is the opposition policy?" demanded Dr. Edwards. "For the good of the country," said Mr. Bureau. He declared that to get into power the liberals would never contract alliances as the conservatives had, or seek to deceive the people.

"When did you change your policy, then?" asked Hon. Robert Rogers. "Gentlemen," said Mr. Bureau, "things through their own spectacles," Mr. Bureau retorted.

"Are you in favor of the independence of Canada?" Dr. Edwards suddenly asked.

"I thought that question would come," said Mr. Bureau. "Those who are on the soil of Canada only by accident, as it were, cannot understand such things as the love of the land conquered by the blood of their forefathers."

This nettled the member for Frontenac, who declared that all his ancestors on his mother's side were United Empire Loyalists, while his father's people came from England. He thus had a double interest.

Mr. Bureau was glad to hear it, he said. He went on to argue that the better Canadian you were the better Britisher you were, and that patriotism was indivisible.

"Not a bit of it," interjected Hon. Frank Cochrane, whereupon Hon. Frank Oliver rose to his feet and wanted to know whether it was not possible for an hon. member to get an uninterrupted hearing.

Dr. Edwards explained that he was sorry Mr. Oliver was getting excited, but Mr. Bureau had not yet answered the question.

The latter gentleman declared that such a question could not be asked without implying a reflection on his loyalty. He did not know what the member for Frontenac had in the back of his head.

"If the member for Three Rivers says whether he is in favor of the independence of Canada I will say what is in the back of my head," volunteered Dr. Edwards.

"I am not in favor of the independence of Canada," declared Mr. Bureau.

Dr. Edwards then explained that what he had in the back of his head was that independence had been the goal of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's ambition. This provoked a chorus of protests from the liberals.

"Are those jeers for your leader?" asked Dr. Edwards.

"For you," said Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux.

"It would be well if hon. gentlemen opposite could show a record of devotion to Canada and the empire like our leader's," said E. W. MacDonald, of Pictou, rising to his feet. Dr. Edwards again repeated his assertion.

"Oh, tell that in Frontenac," said Hon. Mr. Lemieux.

"I'll tell it in Bouville," retorted Dr. Edwards. "More than that, I do not think much of the people of Bouville if the hon. gentlemen really represents them."
