

EDUCATION REVOLUTION FOR GREAT BRITAIN

May Compel Young People in Business

TO CONTINUE EDUCATION

COMPULSORY EVENING CLASSES ARE ADVOCATED.

Parents to Be Advised As to Best Occupations For Children—Will King George Appoint Duke of Teck as Governor-General of Canada?

London, March 13.—The government's new education proposals will probably make a departure of great importance to the nation.

Hitherto England has suffered in comparison with other countries through lack of continuity of the education of young people who set out to work at an early age.

In future it is hoped to make education compulsory by means of evening continuation classes. Overstrain will be provided against by regulation of the hours of labor, which probably will not exceed thirty-eight a week.

Parents will also probably be advised as to the occupations best suited for their children through the establishment of a junior department of labor exchanges.

These are some of the features of the proposals of the government, which will take the form of resolutions, not of a bill, and which should prove non-contentious.

Will King Appoint Teck?

London, March 13.—As a successor to the Duke of Connaught, as governor-general of Canada, a small but powerful group is still urging the Duke of Teck, brother of Queen Mary.

It is said in court circles that King George is not over-fond of his brother-in-law, and the Duke of Teck is not popular with the British public, but the king, to keep peace in the family, might not be averse to giving his relative an appointment that would take him away from London for several years.

The Duke of Connaught desires to leave Canada, because the climate there does not agree with the duchess.

MAY END SIEGE.

Sofia Expects to Hear of Fall of Adrianople.

London, March 13.—It is expected in Sofia that the Turkish fortress of Adrianople will be entered this week by the Bulgarian and Serbian besiegers.

A private message from the Bulgarian capital states that after a severe engagement the Bulgarian troops captured Hertzogara, one of the forts surrounding the city, and took prisoners four hundred Turkish soldiers and twenty of their officers.

The Turks resisted stubbornly, and several times repulsed Bulgarian assaults before the fort was finally captured.

Sydney, N.S.W., March 13.—Yesterday was a momentous day in the history of the Australian Commonwealth, the new federal capital site being formally christened by Lady Denman, who named the city "Canberra."

This message was received from the Canadian premier:

"On behalf of the government and people of Canada I beg to tender warmest congratulations on the foundation of the federal capital, and earnest wishes for the continued and increasing development and prosperity of our great sister Commonwealth."

"Though far removed, as miles are measured, we are very close to you in the ideals and aspirations of democracy and the common ties which bind two kindred nations in firm allegiance to our great empire."

BEATS DEATH IN RACE TO SEE FIANCE ALIVE

Girl Nearly Frozen During Wild Ninety-Mile Auto Ride in Night.

Hutchinson, Kan., March 13.—After driving ninety miles in the cold in time to allow her to take the three miles in a train, Miss Kevadine Ledford, a Kansas university graduate, now teaching in the Junction City school, arrived in Hutchinson to spend an hour and a half with her affianced husband before his death.

The young woman was nearly frozen when she landed in Herington tonight to catch a Rock Island train. Without stopping to think of the fearful cold, she told the driver to take her on until she could get another train, and Newton was reached by the Santa Fe Colorado Flyer, which brought her here at 4 a.m. A taxi took her to the side of Claude Cheshbro. He was barely conscious from fever, and a little more than an hour later passed away.

Cheshbro was only 24 years old, but had served four years in the army, a part of which time was acting as assistant paymaster in the Panama canal zone. He had come home sick three weeks ago from Texas. He and Miss Ledford were to have been married in June.

SEEKS HIS SCALP.

A French Paper Talks Indignantly About Forget.

London, March 13.—The Parisian journal, La Liberté, in a long article, expresses indignation over losses of French shareholders in the Quebec railway and other Forget enterprises. It demands that French justice be invoked, and if necessary that action be taken by the French government in order to save what is called some fragments from the wreck, as also to establish the responsibility in France as well as in Canada.

SINGLE TAX POPULAR.

England to See One Parcel of the George.

Madrid, March 13.—In Spain, where the multiplicity of taxes is notorious, a single tax movement has been gaining ground recently. Not long ago a banquet was given by the Single Tax League in honor of Henry George, this being the first function of the kind that has ever taken place in Spain. It was decided to call an international congress to meet at Ronda next May, for which an active propaganda is now being made.

FOMENTING TROUBLE.

Berlin, March 13.—The German government publishes a sharp rebuke to those newspapers which have been according to the declaration fomenting international trouble by provocative articles. It also disavows an attack made by the Cologne Gazette on France as the "European mischief maker," to which a section of the foreign press attributed an official character. The declaration says that the situation has improved so much that there is no doubt that the efforts of the powers toward peace will be successful.

KAISER DISAPPOINTED OVER POOR SUPPORT

Given His War Tax Scheme—France is No Longer Afraid of Germany.

London, March 13.—The new watchword of the German press, "Go For France" is interpreted as being designed to stimulate the enthusiasm for the immense expenditures proposed by the government, but shows little sign of success.

The Kaiser and the German government seem much embarrassed by the apparent failure of the Kaiser's appeal to the federal princes for personal sacrifices. The public show little responsive sympathy.

The Paris Temps makes the following comment: "It is the old story of the wolf and the lamb, with the difference that in 1913 the lamb has no fear that he will be devoured. An arrogant Germany is no longer confronted by an isolated France and an isolated Russia. They are now allied, and being perfectly resolved, are beyond the possibility of being moved by ill-natured talk."

MANY BUCKET SHOP MEN ARE FINEO

Price, of Baltimore, was fined $1,000; Edward Everett Taylor, of Washington, and James A. Two thousand followers of the rebel governor of Coahuila are surrounded at Lampazos. Ten thousand federal troops will be in the rebel state of Sonora by Saturday.

DEATH CALLED

Edwin S. "Chaucer" Elliott on Thursday Afternoon.

CELEBRATED ATHLETE

SUCCUMBED AFTER BRAVE FIGHT FOR LIFE.

The Deceased Was the Most Noted Athlete Kingston Ever Produced—His Death Has Caused Great Sorrow in Kingston and Throughout the Country.

After a brave fight for life against big odds, just as many a time he had fought for victory on the baseball diamond and the rugby gridiron against odds, Edwin S. Elliott, the most noted athlete Kingston ever produced, was claimed by death just before one o'clock Thursday afternoon, at the residence of his brother, Ald. R. F. Elliott, Division street.

For a whole year "Chaucer" Elliott, who was so widely known, had been all of an affection of the leg, which developed as a result of his strenuous athletic work some years ago. Treatment in a private hospital by a New York specialist gave hopes of recovery, but after Mr. Elliott returned to Kingston in May last, he hoped for improvement did not come, and since last summer he steadily grew weaker, and his sorrow in Kingston, and this sorrow will be as deep in places all through the dominion when the news of his passing away reaches his legions of friends who knew him and loved him.

It was just a year ago last Sunday an operation in New York, which was a last-chance he consented to undergo the operation, but this was not sufficient to save his life. Recently he grew gradually weaker, and for several weeks past had been compelled to keep to his bed.

"Chaucer" was born in Kingston and educated here. He attended the public schools and the collegiate, and after graduating from the collegiate he attended Queen's, spending two years in the law department and four years in the medical department. He was one of the most unselfish young men in athletics one could meet. He was the idol of every team with which he was connected from early youth when he started on the baseball diamond. He gave good baseball to Kingston, a semi-professional league for a number of years, and at considerable self-sacrifice, for he never profited by the sport himself.

As a rugby player he ranked with the best Canada produced in half-backs. While at Queen's he captained the college football team for two years, winning the intercollegiate championship one year. He was captain of the Granite football team which won the championship of Canada in 1899.

"Chaucer's" first love in the line of sports was that of baseball and he learned the game on many of the vacant lots around Kingston. He was captain of the famous Pony baseball club, one of the best semi-professional teams in Canada, and from which many big men in baseball circles graduated. In 1903 he joined the Toronto baseball team, in the Eastern League, under Edward Barrow. He played with the team until his arm gave out, but his arm "came back" again, as he had a great deal of experience on the diamond later on.

He played baseball with Conover and Manchester in the New England league; the A. J. & G. team in the New York state league; Brantford in the Western Ontario league, and Oswego in the Empire State league. He was captain of the championship of the league for Oswego.

In hockey he was also a shining light. For several years he played on Queen's University hockey team, and was captain for one year. As a hockey referee he also served for some years and was regarded as one of the best referees in Canada. He was out for good clean sport all his time.

In 1906 "Chaucer" had the honor of being coach of the Argonaut football club of Toronto, and for three months of that year he served as coach for the Hamilton Tigers, winning the Dominion championship from the Montreal club. The year following he went to Montreal as M. A. A. Rugby coach, and won the Dominion championship. At the close of the season, he was given the permanent position as athletic coach and adviser to hockey, lacrosse, football, baseball, indoor baseball, basketball for the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association. While holding this position, he had the honor of taking the Montreal lacrosse club across the continent to New Westminster, to play for the lacrosse championship of the world.

In 1911, he tendered his resignation to the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, to become manager of the St. Thomas team in the Canadian league, to return to his first love—baseball.

"Chaucer" Elliott was a son of the late Robert Elliott, and is survived by his wife, an infant son, five brothers and three sisters. The sisters are the Misses Annie, Jennie and Katie, of Kingston, and the Misses, Ald. R. F., John M. and Matthew B., of Kingston; Alexander, of Bothwell, Ont., and George, of Omaha, Neb.

OXFORD WON RACE.

King and Public Men Were Absent This Year.

London, March 13.—Oxford won the seventeenth annual "battle of the Blues," the classic boat race between Cambridge and Oxford Universities, this morning, by three quarters of a length. It was a strenuous battle all the way with Cambridge, who were the favorites, leading till the last quarter of a mile, when Oxford suddenly spurred and held the lead till the finish. A force of three hundred policemen and detectives were along the route to prevent suffragette interference. King George and prominent public men did not attend this year, fearing suffragette annoyances.

BORDEN'S SUPPORTERS BECOME DISORDERLY

Their Insults Have Reached the Climax.

JEERED AT RELIGION

OF WILLIAM LOGGIE, A NEW BRUNSWICK ELDER.

No Limit to the Devices That Borden's Following Can Invent to Violate the Rules of the House—The Chairman Seldom Interferes.

Ottawa, March 13.—In the early hours of dawn and in the later hours before breakfast, the government supporters are daily becoming more disgracefully disorderly.

This morning their insults to members who had the floor reached the climax when they attacked William Loggie, of Northumberland, N.B., an elderly man, who is one of the most respected of the country's representatives. Not content with jeering at his religion (he is a Presbyterian elder), they even shouted scornful remarks about the diet of his constituents. A couple of samples of the language will suffice.

"Tell that to your Bible class," shouted a government supporter during course of Mr. Loggie's speech. And when he was referring to naval recruits another interrupted with "Feed them on rotten fish." There which Mr. Borden's supporters can invent to violate the rules of the House and put various speakers of the House and its creatures of the barnyard are imitated. It is only occasionally, that the chairman inter-

Strain Telling on Premier.

Canadian autonomy, Canadian self-reliance, Canadian aspirations to full and free partnership in empire as an ally, not as a vassal—the antithesis of the ultra-jingo Little Canadianism—were again voiced by liberalists in Canada's parliament yesterday. The Borden-Churchill letters have increased the earnest determination of opposition to win the present struggle. The moral of this first fruit of opposition to the by leaving street was emphasized again and again, and brought out in increasing measure the fundamental principles underlying the whole vital issue. "We are treated," said B. Law, of Yarmouth, making his initial contribution to the debate, "to stay here night and day all summer before we will allow this iniquitous bill to go through. It sacrifices the honor of our dominion and the good name of the people of Canada."

The tenth day of the deadlock finds no change in the liberal position. On the government side there is a growing sentiment that the only way to save the situation from a party standpoint is to drop the bill entirely. The advisers going to the country is stronger than ever with that section of the cabinet and of the rank and file who believe in holding on to power at all costs. Last night there were renewed rumors of an early attempt to force through closure by some arbitrary principle going to the House. For this the liberals are prepared, and are confident that it cannot succeed. Closure by brute force, on an issue upon which the opponents of the bill actually represent a majority of the electors according to the official figures of the last election, must bring a sudden and dramatic end to this parliament.

The strain is beginning to tell severely on Premier Borden and the cabinet ministers, and the former is much more likely to ask for a dissolution in the near future than to connive at proposed new schools, calling for an expenditure of $110,000, and the remaining three are for bridges.
