THE VICTORIAN NURSE

WILL VISIT PEOPLE OF MODERATE MEANS

As Well As The Poorer People—All The Doctors Are Being Asked To Become Allied With The Order.

At the meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses on Thursday afternoon, attention was called to a department of the work which had hitherto been very little made use of.

The committee wishes it understood that the nurse will be glad to visit those of moderate means who yet have no accommodation for a regular nurse in their homes, and who can pay a small fee for a daily or an occasional visit. This phase of the order's work is particularly emphasized in the royal charter.

There was not a large attendance at the meeting and only routine business was attended to. The monthly report of the nurse made the following statement: number of new cases, 9; total number of visits, 129. Those visited were of the following denominations: Methodists, 1; Congregationalists, 1; Presbyterians, 2; Roman Catholics, 5; Anglicans, 6.

The committee is anxious to interest some of the local doctors in the work, and a record every month will be kept of the doctors who have been added to the list. Every doctor in the city, it is felt, ought to be allied with the order.

FIRST VESSEL IN PORT.

Likely to be the Schooner Bertie Calkins From Oswego.

The schooner Bertie Calkins may be the first vessel to arrive in this port with a cargo. The vessel has been in Oswego, loading coal for the Frontenac Lumber company, and if the weather is favorable, it is just possible that the vessel will arrive on Saturday. Writing to a friend, on Thursday, Capt. Archibald stated that he might be able to get away at the end of the week.

Change of Captain.

Michael O'Shea, of Garden Island, has been appointed captain of the steamer Wake Islander. The position was made vacant by the resignation of the captain who was in command last season. Capt. James Crawford, who was in command of the steamer for some seasons, has been offered the position, but, on account of illness, he was unable to accept.

Car Jumped Track.

Passengers on the Grand Trunk, between here and Brockville, had a five hours' hold-up on Wednesday afternoon between Lynn and Brockville. The stop was caused by one of the cars in front of the passenger coach jumping the track and partly turning over. Fortunately no one was hurt and no serious damage is reported.

TWO FOR CENTRAL PRISON.

Are Now Being Held at Jail, Awaiting Transfer.

There are now two prisoners at the county jail, awaiting removal to the Central Prison, Earl Redmond the railway express clerk, who admitted stealing about $1,600 and Henry Whiteside, who pleaded guilty to the theft of a watch, and chain, tie pin and other articles in the police court, on Thursday morning. Redmond has now been in the jail for two weeks, but his time goes on during his stay at the jail. In some cases, men awaiting removal to the Central, have put in the greater part of their time here, Redmond was sentenced to two years, less one day, and Whiteside has a year to serve. Very little is known of the latter prisoner. He is a stranger to the city.

HAVE THEIR OWN TROUBLES.

Telegraph Companies Suffer From Bad Weather.

The telegraph companies have certainly been having their own troubles the past week or so, and all because of the weather man.

The latest storm of a week ago, has given the companies more trouble than they have had in many a day. On Thursday night the wires were in bad shape as a result of snow and sleet, and during the early part of the night connection was cut off with Toronto. Later on, however, the wires were in better shape and messages and press despatches were going the rounds. On Friday morning the wires were only working fairly well.

Conditions have been about the same all over Ontario for a week or more.

TO MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS.

Regarding Repairs To Sharbot Lake and Dog Lake Bridges.

At a meeting of the Good Roads and Bridges committee of the County Council, held in the court house on Friday morning, it was decided to recommend to the council that a new pier be added to the Sharbot Lake bridge. The committee went to Sharbot Lake on Thursday and made a thorough inspection of the bridge, which it felt is none too safe. It recommends that a pier be added at the north end. When the ice is melting in the lake in the early spring it weakens the structure considerably. The committee also decided to appoint Reeves Thompson and Sneath to make the necessary repairs on the Dog Lake bridge.

MUST BE STOPPED.

Police Will Get After All Furious Drivers.

The police are out with a big stick after all furious drivers in the city and there are a few. Complaints have been made about people driving around the streets, at an immoderate rate of speed and the first case of the kind will come before the magistrate on Saturday morning, a summons having been issued to a driver who is alleged to have violated the speed limit. Auto drivers will also be watched, and they had better take the gentle hint and not do any speeding.

TAKEN TO LOCK-UP IN DRAY.

Drunk Was Given a Ride to Station in the Rain.

Kingston has no patrol wagon, but in a case of necessity a vehicle of some kind is always brought into service. Friday afternoon a dray did service. Constable Arnel found a man very much under the influence of liquor, lying in a laneway, on Clarence street. It was raining quite hard and the constable wished to get the unfortunate to the station as soon as possible, so he hailed a passing dray and the drunk was soon in the cells.

Sometimes drunks in Kingston have the honor of driving to the station in a cab, but if they have the sense they always pay for the luxury in the morning, as the "cabbie" must be paid.

POLICE SPOILED GAME

STRANGER HAD FOR MAKING MONEY IN THE CITY.

John Campbell, Was Supposed To Be Deaf and Dumb, But the Police Managed to Make Him Talk, at the Police Station—Seeking Aid Among Merchants.

John Campbell, a stranger in our midst, had a little game all planned out to make easy money in Kingston, but his little scheme was nipped in the bud by the police. He was arrested at noon, on Friday, and on Saturday morning, will have a chance to explain his conduct in the police court.

Campbell was supposed to be deaf and dumb. He carried a letter addressed to him, which explained this, and which also stated that he was seeking funds to pay his way to Belleville, having come all the way from Quebec. His little game was to go around to the different stores and seek funds in this way.

Campbell was one of the five knights of the road who were given shelter at the police station on Thursday night, and when Constable Arnel found him going around to the different stores he made Campbell's business his own business too, and in this way put an end to the little "hold-up" game.

Campbell's letter read something like this: "I am deaf and dumb, help me on my way from Quebec to Belleville." Naturally citizens felt sorry for the poor man, and in a day's travel he managed to pick up quite a silver collection. Constable Arnel knew that Campbell could talk, having heard him at the police station, where he was given shelter, and when the constable found that he was playing the role of a deaf and dumb mute he was certainly surprised.

But Campbell was game to the last. Constable Arnel came on the scene in time to save a citizen from handing over some money, and at the same time, Campbell got busy with the deaf and dumb alphabet. His fingers made all sorts of signs, but it was no go with the constable. Signs or no signs, he was found that Campbell would go to the police station, and he was soon in the lock-up. Upon arrival at the station Campbell again put up the bluff, about being deaf and dumb, but when he found that everyone was on to his little game, he finally gave in and broke his long spell of silence.

When searched, his letter of introduction was found in his possession. It is just possible that he has been playing the same game in other cities.

ONLY ASHES REMAIN.

Of the Pile of Branches in Cricket Field.

The pile of broken limbs placed in the cricket field are no more. All day Thursday, and most of the night, the fire raged, and on Friday morning there was nothing left of the heap but ashes. The cricket field presents a sad appearance, as the grass was burned for a considerable space. Fireman John Burns remained at the field all day and night.

It is feared that if the water keeps rising as it has been for the past few weeks, considerable damage will be done along the water front. The steamer Wolfe Islander has considerable difficulty landing at the Wolfe Island wharf, on account of the high water.
