NO BUDGET SURPRISES

FEW CHANGES ARE MADE IN CANADA'S TARIFF.

The Privilege Given Sugar Refiners Under the British Preferential Rate Is To Be Abrogated.

Ottawa, May 13.—A record surplus of $55,000,000 on consolidated revenue account, but no hint of any general tariff revision, and practically no relief to the consumers from tariff taxation, were the features on Hon. W. T. White's budget statement in parliament yesterday afternoon. The figures of revenue, and all the earmarks of prosperity which marked the budget pronouncement, including a new billion-dollar trade mark, and a net debt reduction of over $23,000,000 were the result of a continuation of the fiscal policy of the former government. On the other side of the account there was an increase in current expenditure of $15,000,000 for the past year, and a forecast of an increase in total expenditure by some $34,000,000 during the present fiscal year. Mr. White did not think that the revenue this year would enable him to meet all the expenditure and leave something over for debt reduction, as had been the case during the past year.

Only Slight Reductions. The tariff reductions which were announced were in the main simply those arising out of the ratification of the West Indies trade agreement, as already announced. There is a slight cut in cement duties, but, in view of the fact that the cement combine had a tariff protection, according to figures published last fall by Mr. White, of upwards of sixty per cent., the reduction now announced of two and a half cents per one hundred pounds will not seriously interfere with the monopoly now held. Other tariff changes place on the free list typesetting and typesetting machines, some articles of hospital equipment, miners' rescue appliances, and some other articles not now produced in Canada.

Nothing to Help Consumer. There was nothing which could hurt the manufacturers and nothing to reduce the cost of living to the consumer. Mr. White did not seize the opportunity of his surplus of $55,000,000 to make any cuts in the tariff. Instead of that there are to be largely increased expenditures. The one reduction which will benefit the farmers—namely, the placing of traction ditching machinery on the free list—has been repeatedly urged in the commons by liberal members, and was recently brought directly before the house by A. B. McGeig, who eventually secured an assurance of consideration.

Mr. White said that the country generally was not clamoring for any general revision of the Fielding tariff. In regard to the trade figures, he reversed Hon. G. E. Foster's previous budget criticisms, and maintained that the balance of trade was against Canada in regard to imports and exports, when analyzed, was a sign of prosperity.

He noted without comment that whereas Canada's trade with Britain had increased last year from $268,000,000 to $316,000,000, trade with the United States had increased from $143,000,000 to $556,000,000, and had more than doubled in six years.

Sugar Not on Free List. Instead of putting sugar on the free list, as had been advocated by the liberals when the West Indies trade agreement was under consideration, Mr. White simply abrogated the privilege which Canadian sugar refiners now have of importing under the British preferential rate from foreign countries raw sugar up to 20 per cent. of their output. Mr. White thought this would benefit the consumers to the extent of the $600,000 duty now collected on the sugar thus imported, but just how it would benefit the consumers was not made clear.

The budget was brought down somewhat unexpectedly on account of the illness of Mr. White's mother. He was anxious to go to her bedside, but wanted to deliver the budget speech before leaving the capital. As a result Hon. A. K. Maclean, upon the suggestion of the finance minister, postponed any discussion of the budget statement, and briefly moved the adjournment of the debate until the minister's return.

At a meeting of the Property committee of the First Baptist church it was decided to lay the corner stone of the new church in course of erection at the corner of Sydney and Johnson streets, on Monday, June 2nd, at four o'clock, if Sir John Boyd, of Toronto, can be present for the occasion. If for any reason he cannot come then the ceremony will be put off until another day.

Motor Boat Accident.

An accident occurred to a party who took a motor boat trip up the Rideau Monday afternoon. The party, composed of Messrs. Driscoll, Black and Page, had been at Kingston Mills, and when they were returning they tried to take a short cut for the boat house, which, to their sorrow, proved to be the longest in the end. They were passing between the marsh and Belle's Island and in so doing broke their propeller by striking a rock. After drifting around for some time they were finally towed home by another motor boat which came to their assistance.

A Modern Prodigal.

The above two-act Vitagraph drama vividly depicts the wrong doings of a wayward son. He leaves home, breaks his father's heart, and his mother is forced to go to the workhouse. He goes west, makes a fortune and returns to his mother, buys the old home, which was sold, and proves a great source of comfort to her in her old days. This feature and two other excellent subjects will be seen to-night at Wonderland.

THE NEW LIQUOR LAW

WENT INTO EFFECT IN KINGSTON ON TUESDAY.

Bars Will Not Open Until 8 a.m. Hereafter—Drinkers Cannot Get Pails or Bottles Filled in Bars.

License Inspector C. W. Wright on Tuesday morning received copies of the amendments to the act, and in the afternoon was engaged in distributing copies to the different hotelmen in the city. These amendments go into effect just as soon as the hotelmen have been notified.

To carry bottled liquor away from the bars will in future be an illegality. Likewise it will be an offense against the law to serve liquor across the bar before the hour of eight o'clock in the morning.

The new regulations will be hard on the man who has been in the habit of carrying his pail to the hotel. No person will be allowed to get a jug filled and carry it away.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Asked To Take Up Matter of Having Houses Re-numbered.

There are a number of streets in the city, where the houses are sadly in need of being re-numbered. The question has been discussed from time to time, but apparently has been allowed to drop, without any action being taken.

The fact that the numbers do not run in regular form has given the postmen a great deal of trouble, and in an endeavor to have the matter attended to the post office authorities have written the Board of Trade, asking that the matter be taken up at the board will take it up at its next meeting.

Fire Horse Improving.

The fire horse injured in responding to the call on Monday afternoon, is doing nicely, but the chief will keep it off duty for a day or so. The firemen are talking about the great pluck shown by the animal "Fred" in his name, and he is known as the Ross horse, having been purchased by Ald. A. E. Ross. He is now the pride of the department. The chief says that last night "Fred" was just aching to get to another fire, and stamped about as if he did not relish being kept in quarters.

Vincent in Danger.

Montreal Gazette. Vincent Astor, who is young, wealthy and unmarried, had to be protected by a body of police at a public function in New York because of the rush of women wishing to make his acquaintance. Mr. Astor should get married as quickly as convenient if he would escape such annoyance. One small wife can shoo away more women from her husband than a whole police force.

Know Chief Durkin.

Fire Chief Armstrong was well acquainted with Fire Chief Hugh Durkin, who met death in the fire at Stratford, early on Tuesday morning, and expressed sincere regret at the news of his death. He met Chief Durkin at Sault Ste. Marie last year, and also at the big conventions at Denver and Woodstock.
