VOTED DOWN A MOTION

TO RAISE SESSIONAL PAY TO $5 A DAY.

Other County Councils Pay That Figure But the Majority of the Frontenac Councillors Think They Are Worth Only $3 a Day.

The Frontenac County Council on Thursday morning voted down a motion to increase the sessional indemnity of the members. It was moved by Councillor Salmon and seconded by Councillor Godkin that owing to the high cost of living and the increased expenses the sessional indemnity of the council members be increased from $3 to $5 a day.

Councillor Salmon remarked that when he went home after a council session he found himself in debt. He didn't think that the people wanted that to occur. In Lennox and Addington, Leeds, Hastings and Kenilworth the councillors received $5 a day, and in some of these the warden was given a grant. The time of the Frontenac councillors was just as valuable as that of the other counties.

Councillor Foley opposed the increase, as it would cost the county too much if it applied to committee work. He thought that sufficient was now being paid.

Councillor Thomson favored the increase, for the members were well worth five dollars a day.

Councillor Truscott was in favor of the increased sessional grant, but would reduce the number of members on committees.

Councillor Freeman advocated increasing the sessional grant, but would shorten the session and allow only $4 a day for committee work. Councillor Donaldson agreed with the view of Councillor Freeman.

Councillor Franklin suggested that the indemnity of $4 a day for sessional work and $3 a day for committee work. Councillor Sleeth took a like view.

Councillor Gordon opposed the increase because he did not think the finances of the county would warrant it.

Councillor Hamilton moved in a amendment that the matter be held over until Councillors Kennedy and Fisher were present.

Councillor Salmon added to this motion that $3 a day be paid for committee work.

"Let's shorten the session," said Councillor Freeman. "The trouble is that we take the first two days to visit, the next day we organize, and we do the work on the last two days. Let's get to work at the start, and we can finish a day earlier anyway."

Councillor Sleeth said it was next to impossible to shorten the session.

Councilor Hawkey read a lesson to the members who were objecting to the increase. They were chairmen of committees, who had only to come in to the city, look around, and draw their day's pay for the trip. Councilor Hawkey declared that while he was attending the council meetings this week he was paying a man $2 a day to do some work for him. He was paying $1.50 a day for board, and in return was receiving $3 a day sessional indemnity. So that he was fifty cents a day "in the hole" as a result.

The motion was lost on a vote of 8 to 6, two members not voting.

Councillor Hawkey asked for $100 grant to repair the Glenvale Swamp Road. The matter was referred to the Roads and Bridges committee.

The council gave a first reading to a number of by-laws. One by-law provided for the levying of two mills for good roads purposes; another fixed the county assessment and tax rate; others to pay the Storrington Road debt; to borrow $20,000 to meet current expenses; to confirm agreements with the city of Kingston and the House of Providence regarding the care of county poor.

REMEMBERS COLD SUMMERS.

A. B. Shewell Recalls the Years 1868 and 1879.

There has been considerable talk about the cold weather in June and many expressed their opinions that they could not remember it ever having been so cold. On Thursday morning a Whig representative was speaking to A. B. Shewell, an old resident of Cataraugus, who said that he could remember that July, 1879, was so cold that potatoes were frozen in the ground, and on August 12th of the same year tomato plants were frozen black. He also stated that in June, 1868, it was very cold and dry and the barley crop was almost a total failure. The hay was very scarce and in the following spring sold for $40 a ton. One farmer who was offered $39 for his hay, refused to take it and took his load back to Odessa.

Mr. Shewell is one of Frontenac's prosperous farmers, and is the son of Captain Edward Shewell, who served in a regiment at the battle of Waterloo. Edward Shewell was in the British army for twenty-six years. He came to Canada shortly after Napoleon's downfall, and made good at farming, and after many years, died at Napanee at the age of eighty years.

UNION JAIL QUESTION

To Be Considered By County Councils Committees.

On Friday afternoon, at the request of the County Council of Lennox and Addington, a committee of that body will confer with a committee of the Frontenac council with reference to a union jail for the surrounding counties. The Ontario government has suggested that it would be better to have fewer jails throughout the province, as they could be greater efficiency and the institutions could be maintained at less cost. Information will be presented at Friday's conference to show the conditions in this district.

Some of the Frontenac councillors think that there is no need of any change so far as Frontenac and Kingston are concerned. The two municipalities have a joint arrangement with reference to the jail in the city, which is owned by the county. The city of Kingston pays $3,165 a year as rental, which is considered an equitable arrangement. It is scarcely likely that there will be any change made here.

CHARGE WAS DISMISSED.

Seduction Case Against James Rombough Was Disposed Of.

The long standing case of James Rombough, charged with seduction, was disposed of in the police court, on Thursday morning, when the charge was dismissed by Magistrate Farrell. The charge was made by the father of a girl under sixteen years of age. Both parties connected in the case live in the township of Barrie, the accused at Northbrook, and the complainant at Harlowe. J. L. Whiting, K.C., conducted the prosecution, and D. A. Givens defended Rombough.

Several witnesses gave evidence, and at the close Magistrate Farrell stated that there was not sufficient evidence to place the accused on trial, and he, therefore, dismissed the charge. The girl gave birth to a child at the Hotel Dieu on April 17th.

A MEMORIAL SERVICE.

To Be Held For the Late Cadets Logie and Smith.

Before the Royal Military College cadets leave for their homes at the close of this term a memorial service, will be held in St. George's cathedral for the two young men, J. W. Logie and E. L. Smith, who were drowned while crossing from Garden Island to Point Frederick one Friday afternoon, some weeks ago. The parents and friends have requested this. Next Sunday will be the last Sunday which the cadets will be here. The memorial service will be held on Saturday morning at 9. Canon Starr, Anglican chaplain of the garrison, is making arrangements regarding it with Colonel J. H. V. Crowe, the commandant.

WAS BLOWN IN THE AIR.

Alexander Robinson Had Narrow Escape Near Belleville.

Alexander Robinson, employed with the Dominion Construction company, in railway work for the C.P.R., near Belleville, who had a narrow escape from being killed in the explosion of dynamite near Belleville a week ago, was in the city, Thursday, on his way to Perth Road, where he will engage in construction work. Although he was blown up in the air about fifteen feet, Robinson only suffered a few scratches on his left arm. He is an experienced man in railway construction and is well known in Kingston.

Mr. Robinson says that the explosion of dynamite was due to the fact that the charge was put into a warm hole.

The District Officers.

The Montreal Methodist conference, at its meeting in Sherbrooks, Que., which has just closed, re-elected Rev. Melvin Taylor, Gananoque, chairman of the Kingston district. Rev. John Webster, of this city, was appointed financial secretary, and Rev. J. A. Waddell, Harrowsmith, Sunday school secretary.
