BOATS WERE IN DANGER

WHEN SEVERE SQUALL STRUCK RIVER AND HARBOR

On Friday Evening—Some Motor Boats Were Caught, and Had a Very Lively Experience.

On Friday evening around seven o'clock one of the worst squalls in several years came up, and those who happened to be out in motor boats and other craft had an experience which they will not want to have again.

When the storm swept down the river it struck the steamer America above Brockville on her trip home from Ogdensburg. People who were on the steamer state that they thought for sure the wind would tear the awning off the steamer.
