Weakness Overcome
 Every wineglassful of "Wincarnis" creates a definite amount of new strength, new vigour, new vitality, and new life. And this is the reason. "Wincarnis" (the wine of life) is a tonic, restorative, blood-maker and nerve food. Its first effect is to promote a feeling of invigoration. Then it enriches and revitalizes the blood, soothes and feeds the nerves, rebuilds the wasted tissue of the body, and surcharges the whole system with renewed vigour and vitality. That is why every wineglassful of "Wincarnis" makes you stronger and healthier than you were before. If you suffer from Anaemia, Sleeplessness, Brain-fag, Weakness, Debility, Exhaustion, Lowered Vitality, Nervous Disorders, or if you are merely "run-down" or "out of sorts," we urge you to commence taking "Wincarnis" today. Remember that "Wincarnis" has an unrivalled reputation of nearly thirty years' standing—that it is recommended by over 10,000 doctors—and that countless thousands of sufferers have proved, beyond question, that it gives new life to the invalid—renewed strength to the weak—increased vigour to brain workers—and a wealth of health to everyone.

RAISING OF A VESSEL THE CHURCH PULPITS

THE GOOD WORK OF LOCAL MEN ON THE WINNIE WING

Crew of the Donnelly Wrecking Company Are a Jolly Good Lot of Fellows, and Carry On Their Work in a Systematic Way—Praise Given Them For Work At Napanee.

Did you ever have an opportunity of watching a wrecking crew raising a vessel? The Donnelly Wrecking company, of Kingston a few days ago, as already reported, succeeded in raising the schooner Winnie Wing, which was sunk in the Napanee river, about half a mile from the harbor, through a collision with a mud barge in tow of one of the dredge tugs.

The work was carried on in a most successful manner, and quite a large number of Napanee people had an opportunity of viewing the work, which was of a very interesting nature. A diver was on the job for several days, and succeeded in closing the hole in the bow of the schooner, caused by the collision. The hole was about twenty by seven feet. After this was looked after all the hatches had to be closed down, also the cabin and the entrance to the fore-castle. Then the placing of the pumps on the schooner was commenced. A powerful twelve-inch pump was placed on the forward deck, and the suction pipe run down into the boat through the opening leading to the fore-castle.

Later on, the wrecking crew connected a nine-inch pump from a barge to the schooner, running the suction pipe down through a hole cut in the top of the cabin, and then both the pumps were set to work. It was certainly a wonderful sight for any person who was not accustomed to wrecking, to note the power of these two pumps and to watch the huge volume of water sucked up from the inside of the vessel and then thrown overboard.

The water from the aft pump was thrown into the river and the forward pump discharged its volume of water over the deck of the vessel, which was two or three feet under water. Shortly after the starting of the pumps the diminishing water in the hold of the vessel showed that the pumps would eventually accomplish their purpose, also that the diver in the making of the vessel water tight had done his work well and it would be only a question of a very short time when the vessel would be afloat. After working the pumps for about an hour and fifteen minutes there was a shout from the crowd of interested spectators: "There she comes." And sure enough she was coming as the north rail of the vessel could be seen to emerge from the water. And it came up quickly. But still the pumps worked on, and it was not long before the Winnie Wing was again afloat.

In referring to the raising of the vessel by Mr. Donnelly's crew a Napanee exchange had the following: "The wrecking crew are a jolly good lot of fellows and exhibited a good amount of good nature and forbearance. With a large number of people swarming the decks of the barge, the schooner and the tug they were very often and mostly all the time in the way, but the wrecking crew never lost an atom of their good nature and never found a word of fault. They were also very courteous, even to the extreme, in answering and explaining all and any questions put to them."

English Beauty Tells Complexion Secrets.
 ("Euse" in American Home.)
 Through a fortunate meeting with an English lady, noted for her dazzling complexion, I recently learned the full meaning of that old adage, "Beauty is but skin deep." She taught me how to remove my muddy old skin, revealing the young and beautiful skin underneath. The process is so simple, harmless, and inexpensive, I'm sure you'll be glad to know about it. Just get an ounce of ordinary mercialized wax at any drug store and apply nightly, like cold cream, for a week or so. Every morning in washing off the wax, tiny particles of worn-out cuticle come off too. The action is so gentle and gradual, there's no discomfort. It's a wonderful treatment, as it not only peels off the faded or discolored skin, but all of its defects, as chaps, roughness, freckles, pimples, blotches, black heads.

CARRIAGE BADLY SMASHED
 Two Tourists Had To Pay Over $100 To Livestockman.

Two tourists, on Thursday, engaged a horse and carriage at Finkle's livery, to go to Kingston Mills and fish. Desiring to be kind to the animal, they left it in a field, untied. The animal proceeded to have a splendid time, by galloping around the field and striking the carriage against the rocks showing above ground. When the fishermen returned, the vehicle was a wreck, but the animal was unhurt. A telephone message to the city brought assistance and the outfit was "towed" home. The tourists paid up without a word. The damage cost them over $100.
