Headaches and Heart Trouble
Nervous Prostration of Three Years Standing Cured a Year Ago by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Anyone who knows the discouragement and despair which accompany the helplessness of nervous prostration will appreciate the gratitude felt by the writer of this letter. Mrs. H. C. Jones, Scotch Lake, C.B., writes: "I suffered from nervous prostration for nearly three years. I had frequent headaches, had no appetite and was troubled with my heart. After consulting two doctors without obtaining satisfactory results, I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and was completely cured by this treatment. It is nearly a year since I was cured, and I want others to know of this splendid medicine. I now attend to my household work with pleasure and comfort, and am glad to have the opportunity of recommending Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."
At least some benefit is bound to be derived from each dose of this great food cure, as day by day it forms new blood, and builds up the system. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

WOMEN ARE FIGHTING AGAINST THE ALBANIANS, AND USING HATCHETS

King Constantine, of Greece, Hurrying Home—The Outlook in the Balkans is Dark.

Vienna, Oct. 1.—Heavy fighting between the Albanians and Servians is reported on the outskirts of Monastir. The Albanian tribesmen, who are largely Moslems, are believed to have received aid in money and armament from the Turks.

An attempt to capture Monastir is believed here to be the preliminary to a possible resumption of hostilities between the Porte and the Bulgars on one side, and the Servians and Greeks on the other.

Twelve hundred Servians were killed in the fighting between Servian and Albanian troops around Dibra, according to a dispatch received here from the scene of the battle.

Women are taking an active part in the fighting according to despatches received here from Avlon, at the Albania capital. Many Balkan Amazons armed with hatchets, fought heroically shoulder to shoulder with their husbands, sons and brothers, during the street fighting at Dibra on September 23, when 1,300 Servians were killed and 300 taken as prisoners of war, and the town fell into the hands of the Albanians. The prisoners were sent under escort to Tirana.

The women of the Greek race in southern Albania are also displaying a very warlike spirit. At Koritza, which is held by the Greek troops, sixty girls have formed themselves into a company that is drilled by Greek non-commissioned officers.

The women declare they would sooner die fighting than permit Koritza to be incorporated in the State of Albania.

King Rushing Home.

Reports from Salonica state that desultory fighting is going on between the Greek and the Albanian outposts and that the Turks are daily strengthening the Albanian army.
