QUEEN'S AND CADETS ENCOURAGING REPORTS

HAD LIGHT PRACTICES IN THE RAIN THURSDAY

Walter Ellis, Last Year's Scrimmage, is Out Again With Queen's—The Junior Intercollegiate Schedule Not Yet Arranged.

Queen's and R.M.C. both had light rugby work-outs in the drizzling rain on their respective campuses on Thursday afternoon. Both teams were never more hopeful than at present. The cadets have somewhat of a lead on the university boys in the length of time they have been at work on the gridiron, and certainly show it. But the tri-color has plenty of good material, and the only regret is that there is but one week left before the opening games of the season. Fry, the R.M.C. wing man, whose shoulder bone was dislocated the first of the week, is doing well, and will in all probability be in the game again in the cadets' run for honors in senior company.

Walter Ellis, in Queen's scrimmage last year, was out on Thursday again, and a Pickering college contribution was tried on at quarter. Queen's seniors need men for this position and outside wing. The drawing up of the junior schedule, in which K.C.I., Queen's III, and R.M.C. II, are to compete in this group, has been left with the two latter teams. A meeting will soon be called. The games in this group must be completed by Nov. 19th.

Intercollegiate Tennis.

The intercollegiate tennis tournament will take place on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the matches to be played at the Mount Royal courts, Montreal. Four colleges will be represented—McGill, Toronto, Queen's, R. M. C.

McGill will have an exceptionally formidable team, including the Quebec champion, George Laing, who is captain of the McGill rugby team.

Soccer on Saturday.

The third double-header bill of soccer will be pulled off on Saturday afternoon. If an early start can be arranged both games will be played on the cricket field. The C.L.C. team meets the R.C.H.A., and the Shipyard and Departmental Corps eleven will figure in the second fixture. The soccer games have attracted a good deal of attention this fall, and the league promises to give the followers of that sport good exhibitions.

Baseball Record.

National league—Philadelphia 8-3-4; New York 6-8-3.
American league—New York 0, Philadelphia 6 (called end fourth inning, rain).

CASES TO BE HEARD

By Justice Teetzel in High Court Next Week.

The following jury cases will be tried at the sittings of the Supreme Court of Ontario, High court division, which opens on Tuesday afternoon before Justice Teetzel.

Duncan McCrimmon, plaintiff, and The Dominion Construction company, limited, The Asterberg company, The Asterberg and John Peterson, defendants. The plaintiff's claim is for damages for injuries received from a rock falling upon him by the negligence of defendants, where by his leg was broken and he was otherwise injured and bruised. The defence is that the accident was caused by plaintiff's own carelessness and disobedience of orders given by defendants.

John Laskowsky, plaintiff and McMartin and Marlow, defendants. The plaintiff's claim is $2,000 for injuries to his person caused by the negligence of defendants. The defendants deny they are guilty of negligence and say the plaintiff's injuries were caused by his own negligence or that the accident was an inevitable one for which they are in no way responsible.

The following non-jury case is in the docket: Frances McIlroy and Matilda McIlroy, both being infants under the age of twenty-one years, who sue by their next friend, Hannah Scales, mother of the said Frances McIlroy and grandchild of the said Matilda McIlroy, plaintiffs, and William McIlroy, personally and as administrator of the estate of Archie C. McIlroy, deceased, and Jacob Walroth and Isaac L. Smith, defendants. The plaintiff's claim is to have the administrator of the estate removed, and for an accounting of the trust funds that came into his hands. Defendant McIlroy denies that he has any funds belonging to the estate of Archie C. McIlroy. Defendant Walroth and Smith who are sued as bondsmen of the administrator submit their rights to the court.

On the criminal docket are the following:
The King vs. Frederick Gabriel and Alexander C. Mains, indictment for arson.

The King vs. Edward Woodcock, indictment for rape.

MAY HAVE BEEN HERE

Four Arrested at Niagara Falls For Passing Bogus Cheques.

Four people, two men and two women, have been placed under arrest at Niagara Falls, on a charge of passing bogus cheques. While it is not known for certain, it may be that some members of this party operated in Kingston. Both a man and woman operated here, the woman passing the cheques, some few months ago, while just three weeks ago, a man put through several bogus cheques.

The work has been carried on extensively throughout Ontario, but in the arrest of the quartette at Niagara Falls, the police believe they have the parties who are responsible for a great deal of the trouble.

ON THE WORK OF VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES.

The Order Has a Nurse Available Night and Day—Work of Collecting For Order Not Yet Finished—Report of Nurses For Past Three Months.

The committee of the Victorian Order of Nurses held its regular monthly meeting, Thursday afternoon. The work of collecting for the order is not yet finished, but very encouraging reports were received.

An important question before the committee was how to advertise the fact that a nurse is available day and night. Of course, the doctors are really the ones who could give most help towards this end, by advising their patients, especially in maternity cases, to engage the Victorian nurses. The committee wish to emphasize again, that the charter states that the nurse is available not only for those cases where little or nothing can be paid, but also for cases where the services of a nurse, required only for occasional or daily visits, can be paid at the rate of a trained nurse. In this way the salary of the second nurse would be met, and it would not be necessary to appeal for increased generosity from the public, who already have so many demands to meet. There is no reason why Kingston should be one of the four places in Canada which have more, many times more, non-paying than paying patients. Almost every one could pay a little, and there are many who would gladly avail themselves of the services of the Victorian nurse if they felt it was not charity, but a business proposition.

The following is the nurse's report for the months of July, August and September: Visits made, 322; denominations, Baptists, Presbyterians, 6; Methodists, 11; Roman Catholics, 15; Anglicans, 32; and one each from Salvation Army and Congregationalists.

Canned fruit was received from Miss Wales and money from a friend for use at the nurse's discretion, whose address is 302 Queen street; telephone 609.

"Peg O' My Heart" Produced on Thursday Night.

A charming comedy is "Peg O' My Heart," which was produced at the Grand last night. The large audience was delighted with the play of J. Hartley Manners, which is human throughout. Every character is good and even "Peg's" little dog, "Michael," scored a big hit with the audience. Miss Elsa Ryan, in the title role, was simply great. One of the best old lady actresses seen on the Kingston stage is Mrs. Fanny Addison Pitt in the role of "Mrs. Chichester." Gilbert Douglas, as the simple-minded young Englishman, is a splendid actor. Every role is in the hands of an artist, and the whole production is enjoyable. The scene is laid in England, but "Peg" brings Ireland to the fore, and in the course of her extemporized training draws a map of Europe, with the Emerald Isle occupying the greater part of it.

Miss Ryan's little dog, "Michael," accompanies his mistress everywhere. When Miss Ryan returned to the Randolph Hotel after the play "Michael" led the way upstairs, and when his young mistress lingered at the foot to converse with some friends "Michael" returned and covered her to leave. When he was ignored he became disgusted and trotted up to bed himself. "Everybody knows Michael," said Miss Ryan, as she missed her little companion, and was informed that he had "turned in."

"The Pink Lady" Matinee and Night

"The Pink Lady" is unlike any American musical comedy in one detail. The story that holds it together is adapted from a modern French farce, "Le Satyre," in three acts, which ran for a season in its original form at the Palais Royal in Paris. To present this play with music lends a greater scope to its pleasing possibilities. It will be seen at the Grand on Saturday, Oct. 4th, matinee and night.

"Oh, I Say."

For the first time upon a Canadian stage, "Oh I Say," a musical farce from the French of Keroul and Barre will be offered by Sam S. and Lee Shubert at the Grand on Monday, Oct. 6th. The farce in its original form of three acts is now running in London and Paris where it has made its audiences of the capitals, sit up and take notice for two seasons. The title selected for the English adaptation for London is a happy one expressing as it does the English exclamation of surprise and the attitude of the Londoner upon witnessing a breezy French farce. The piece has been staged by J. C. Huffman and A. L. Helbrook for this country, and dances arranged by Julian Alfred. Those who have seen the dress rehearsals hint that the piece will justify its title in its broad sense. A numerous chorus has been selected for the offering, and handsome sets and colorings for the atmosphere. Some of those in the cast are Walter Jones, Alice York, Bert Clark, Mel Hamilton, Joseph Phillips, Clara Palmer, Tyler Brooks, Flavia Ascaro and Elizabeth Arjans.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS IF BLADDER BOTHERS YOU.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.
