

KNOWN BY NUMBERS

SAD TOUCH TO THE CONVICT EVIDENCE AT THE "PEN"

They Are Known By Number Only During Term in Prison—"I Have No Name While I Am Here," Remark One Convict Questioned.

One of the most touching scenes in connection with the Prison Reform investigation thus far was that of the convicts who responded to their number just as they were called. When a man enters the big prison gate and is handed over to the warden for safe-keeping by the sheriff or constable, who has him in charge, his name is forgotten for the time being. He is immediately given a number and by this number he is known until he has served his time, and walks out of the big gate a free man. The life convict carries his number till the time of his death.

Convict T. was called one afternoon to tell his story and the official stenographer asked him his name for the official record.

"I have no name here," remarked the convict; "I am known by number only," and he pointed to the number stamped on his prison uniform. His real name was then given to the stenographer by one of the prison officials.

And all through the investigation the same rule applied. One convict referring to another convict referred to him as No. 30-in-30. And it is most remarkable how the numbers are remembered by the prisoners. They serve the same purpose as names, and are soon known.

Of all the evidence given by convicts that gives by one convict was outstanding. He was questioned as to conditions at the "pen" and made this statement: "The convicts themselves make the conditions. If they behave themselves, and do what is right, the officials will do all in their power to help them. I try to do what is right, and I have no complaints to make."

The evidence of another summed up as follows: "Certainly we are under prison rules and regulations, and as regards to food it is prison food, all right, but I have no complaint to make. When I was brought here I did not expect to have things the same as I had been accustomed to at home."

Of the many complaints which were made by convicts, that of the prison gash, and the cropping of the hair, appeared to be among the chief objections. Of course, there were many who did not appear to care about this, but the majority regarded these two things as the harder blow dealt to them.

Another point which has been brought out in the convict evidence is that of the hardship endured by some in not being able to secure chewing and smoking tobacco. "It is a hard blow to a man who has been using tobacco all his life," was the way one convict put it to the commission. Even convicts who had not cultivated the habit had something to say about it, and put up a strong plea on behalf of the convicts who do love to have a smoke.

At Plymouth, Mass., the jury in the case against Mrs. Eaton at five o'clock on Thursday morning, returned a verdict of "not guilty."

She was accused of murdering her husband.

Mrs. L. Shaw, Belleville, Ont., was exonerated by the grand jury of a charge of attempting to murder her husband.

WIFE SAVES BARQUE

WOMAN TOOK WHEEL WHICH SAILOR DESERTED

Woman Saw Frightened Sailor Leave His Post in Storm and Rushed To Take His Place, Thereby Saving Ship and Crew.

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—A woman's daring and courage in a terrific hurricane off Cape Hatteras saved the big American barque, John Ena, from destruction and the lives of the crew of thirty-seven men. The heroine is the wife of Capt. Charles V. Olsen, master of the craft.

On October 21st the barque, which had been within 100 miles of this port three weeks ago and had been blown back nearly to Bermuda, ran into a hurricane off the coast of North Carolina.

Started by a particularly heavy sea, Mrs. Olsen looked out of the captain's office in time to see the scared sailor at the wheel desert his post. She rushed on deck and crept along until she clutched the wheel. With almost superhuman strength she swung the heavy wheel over and brought the ship about.

Capt. Olsen worked his way back over the wreckage and found his wife clinging to the wheel. Her bravery and quick action had saved the barque and its crew.

BOY'S FOOT BADLY SCALDED.

Mother Says Zam-Buk Acted Like Magic!

Mrs. E. Capell, 31 Sydney street, Hamilton, tells how beneficial Zam-Buk proved in her family. She writes: "My little boy, aged one and a half years, put his foot into a pot of boiling water. The foot was so badly scalded that the skin came off with his stocking, and he had a shocking scald from instep to toes."

"I at once sent for a supply of Zam-Buk, and as soon as this was applied, it seemed to act like magic and gave him ease. It was good to tell that Zam-Buk stopped the pain, because up to applying it I had to nurse the child all the time, but soon after I applied Zam-Buk he was anxious to get on the floor and go on with his play."

"I only used four boxes of Zam-Buk, and the scald was then entirely healed, so I consider this the best investment I ever made. I believe Zam-Buk would have cured the scald even more quickly had the boy been lying down all the time, but after beginning with Zam-Buk it made the cure so easy that he was soon on his feet and playing about again."

"I might also tell you that my next boy to him, aged five years, had some bad broken chilblains. We used Zam-Buk on these also, and it cured them. For sores of any kind I shall in future use only Zam-Buk."

Housekeepers everywhere speak similarly of Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for eczema, rashes, ringworm, chapped hands, scurvy, heat rashes, cuts, lumps, ulcers, discharging sores, abscesses, piles, inflammation, festering and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores. For Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. For skin diseases use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

AGED MEN PROTECTED

TWO OVER SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS IN POLICE STATION

One Claimed He Walked From Gananoque To Kingston On Wednesday—Other Wanted To Be Placed in a Home, But Will Likely Be Sent Back To His Home in the Old Country.

Five men, two of whom were registered as being over seventy-five years of age, asked for shelter at the police station on Wednesday night, and were accommodated. Now that the cold weather has set in, the demand for shelter will be quite heavy. The police station is always open for the poor unfortunate who has no place to stay over night.

George McLeod, who gave his age as over seventy-five, was among the five given shelter in the station. Without money or friends, the old man was found wandering around the streets early Wednesday night, and taken to the police station by a kind-hearted citizen. Thursday morning he told his story, and asked to be sent to the House of Industry, but as he does not belong to this district, he did not look very bright.

He has only been out from the old country a short time, and steps will likely be taken to have McLeod sent back to his old home. He says he does not care to go back to the old country, however, as he has no relatives or friends living there. He appears to be entirely alone in the world. He came from near Manchester. He made the trip out to Canada on the steamer Algerian, over two years ago, and at that time had quite a sum of money, but now his funds have disappeared and he is anxious to get into some home where he will be cared for.

The other aged man in for protection claimed that he had walked from Gananoque to Kingston on Wednesday, but did not appear to mind this in the least. Very little is known about him. He left the police station early in the morning.

DUKE'S OFFER TO SELL MAY BE TAKEN UP

Lloyd George Asks For a Direct Offer For Scottish Estate And It Will Be Considered.

London, Oct. 30.—There has been an interesting sequel to the speech in which the chancellor of the exchequer opened the land campaign at Bedford. Mr. Prothero, the agent to the Duke of Bedford, in a bitter attack on Lloyd George's land proposals, said: "Let him offer the Duke of Sutherland two pounds per acre for the 200,000 acres of his Highland property and he will jump at it."

This remark was made shortly after the chancellor's speech in which he attacked the aristocracy for keeping up such large game preserves and hindering agriculture. Following upon Mr. Prothero's remark, the Duke of Sutherland, who is the youngest duke and the biggest landowner in Great Britain, wrote:

"I will gladly sell 200,000 acres of land or more to the government for two pounds an acre. This is hardly above the price of prairie land in Canada."

Mr. Lloyd George has addressed a letter to the duke in regard to this indirect offer. The chancellor indicates that if the duke will write to him officially, stating the exact nature of the offer, he will take care it is placed before the proper departments with a view to a report being made on the proposal for the consideration of the government.

A certified cheque for $10,000 was made out for payment of the import tariff.

Had Itching Piles

for 27 Years

Often Laid Up For Days at a Time—A Wonderful Tribute To Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Few people were ever more enthusiastic in praising Dr. Chase's Ointment than the writer of this letter. When you read the description of his case you will not wonder why.

Mr. John Johnson, Coleman, Alta writes: "Three years ago I was cured of blind, itching piles of 27 years' standing by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. I used to think that death would be the only relief I would ever get from the terrible misery of piles. Often I was laid up for three days at a time, and at other times worked when I should have been in bed."

"Dr. Chase's Ointment is worth sixty dollars a box instead of sixty cents. I am a different man since using it. I am farming all the time and never miss a day. Words fail to express my gratitude for the cure this ointment made for me. I cannot tell half as much about it as it deserves. Anyone doubting this can write direct to me."

THE ELDEST SON

Gets Big Share of Brewer Busch's Millions.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 30.—Adolphus Busch's will, filed for probate, gives the entire estate, with the exception of several minor bequests, to his widowed and childless wife. The estate has been estimated to be worth at least $35,000,000.

August A. Busch, eldest son, is the principal beneficiary, it being stipulated that he shall receive two-sevenths of the entire estate.

Mrs. Lilly Busch, the widow, is the second largest beneficiary, the multi-millionaire brewer having provided that she should have one-eighth of the estate absolutely, together with the Villa Lilly in Germany, the Busch homes at Cooperstown, N.Y., Pasadena, Cal., and St. Louis, and the household property, horses, carriages, jewellery and paintings.

After giving $120,000 in charities in will, the man who made the document directs that $10,000 each be given to two friends of the family. The will, in treating Mrs. Busch's share, refers to her as "dear wife" and directs that the trustees provide for her to the extent of $50,000 a year.

If the residents of Kingston were to patronize home industries, buying the products turned out, the concerns could do a thriving business. If undergarments and hose, the Kingston Hosiery Mill manufacturers were alone bought by citizens, the concern could broaden and develop wonderfully.
