WHOLE BODY A SOLID RASH

Thick, Fine and Red. Agony of Itching and Burning Frightful. One Cake of Cuticura Soap and Box of Cuticura Ointment Cured.
Lovers Oshlow, N. E.—"At first we thought my child's trouble was his teeth. The whole body was a solid rash and at the arm pits and elbows and thighs the skin came off as if he had been scalded. It was a very thick fine rash, red in color and intensely itchy and burning. The skin just wiped off leaving a raw sore with little specks of yellow matter in them. The skin on every finger split down on each side and looked like a ruff. His body broke out in little yellow pimples and the bottom of his feet did the same and he would say he could not walk, that there were pins sticking in his feet."
"The agony of itching and burning was something frightful. If he got a chance he would scratch the skin raw off and make a sore, but to prevent that I made mittens for him out of cotton. Every night from twelve o'clock until three in the morning he would have to be taken up out of bed and rocked, his sufferings were so bad."
"With no permanent cure in sight I got the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The first night the child slept the whole night through, the first night for four months. I am thankful to say the cure was complete and I just got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. Samuel Higgins, May 17, 1913.
Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold everywhere. For liberal free sample of each, with 25-p. book, send post-card to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. D, Boston, U. S. A.

AN OLD ACQUAINTANCE.
Very often we meet an old friend whose looks have changed so that we hardly know them. Some look better and some look old and uncared for. We always feel badly to see a friend going down hill in appearance, for looks count for so much these days; and we enjoy seeing the person who keeps young. Being cared for is the secret of keeping young and Sagine is the secret of caring for the hair. Sagine cures dandruff, brings life and beauty into coarse, dry and faded hair, and makes the hair luxuriant and attractive. Sagine keeps men and women young looking and why should anyone allow themselves to become old appearing when they can get Sagine and a guarantee to find satisfactory results. Sagine is sold at W. W. Gibson's and if it don't do these things we will refund the money. Be sure to go to W. W. Gibson's for Sagine as other stores cannot supply you. Don't neglect your hair another day. Sagine is only 50c, a large bottle.

PICTURE STAMP FAD

STARTED IN GERMANY, TO OUT-DO CARD CRAZE
All Kinds and Colors—Had Trade Origin and Made Big Hit With Children.
Something new under the sun! Here's really a new craze which has been exciting the enthusiasm of all Europe, young and old, for the past six months. It is the craze of the "picture stamp"—and before many weeks, it promises to sweep across the ocean and invade our ports as well.
It was Germany that discovered and made universally popular the picture postage stamp; and now that the custom of sending and collecting these is on the wane it has discovered and popularized a successor. It looks as if it is a very worthy one and likely to rival, if not actually exceed, the popularity of the postcard.
"Reclame Marken" is the German name of this new fad. They resemble postage stamps, though they are usually a little larger. Like them, they come in sheets, are perforated, and easily torn apart. They are bright in color, adhesive, of endless variety of subject and purpose.
Thousands and thousands of these picture stamps are everywhere in evidence. Stationers' windows fairly glow with their bright bits of reds and blues and greens; department stores devote entire counters to their display and sale, and scarcely a boy or girl in the great empire of the Kaiser is without an album, large or small, in which is a growing collection of "marken."
The craze for collecting these (for it has truly assumed the proportions of a craze) has passed up into the older generation, to the grown-ups, who find pleasure and occupation in collecting the high class "marken" which are now rapidly appearing on the scene—reproductions of famous masterpieces in color, in monochrome or etching, brilliant poster effects and veritable gems of art.
What are "Reclame Marken," what called them into being and what are they used for?
Less than eighteen months ago an important South German manufacturer of chocolates and sweets issued several highly attractive poster showcards advertising his wares. When the popularity of these posters at its height, the firm conceived the idea of having them reproduced in small label form, of the size and character of postage stamps, with gummed backs, to be pasted on each letter and postcard they sent out—and they sent out a great many. One of these little pictures was also placed within the wrapper of each piece of chocolate.
Before long the children were buying their chocolate sticks for the sake of the souvenir stamp. The idea had caught on and other manufacturers followed the example as quickly as the lithographers could get set to work. Soon an important coffee roaster was distributing "stamps." Bakers of bread and biscuits, cocoa manufacturers and milk dealers, and in their train hundreds more followed with stamps illustrating in attractive form some of the most popular fairy tales. In this way appeared Red Riding Hood, Cinderella and Robinson Crusoe, each story told in a series of some half dozen pictures, which the children were eager to gather and hoard.
In the same way sets of military stamps were issued—pictures of all sorts of soldiers, German and French, English and Russian, infantry, cavalry and artillery—and sailors and ships, men-of-war and marines of all nations. And then came series of animals, wild and domestic, birds, butterflies and insects, birds and blossoms. Every butcher and baker, grocer and candlestick maker was making effective bids to attract the children to his shop by offering these stamps free. And the children came, that's certain.
But all this proved merely a prelude to the craze of the picture stamp. Art publishers—and in Germany their name is legion—realized that the time was ripening for them to enter the lists with collections of a more artistic quality, of greater variety and of a superior character of stamp. As a consequence every known process of the printing trades was called into requisition and numerous firms have issued formidable collections of excellent material, embracing every imaginable subject, including miniature reproductions of almost every known masterpiece. All these are now sold to countless collectors, young and old, at the price of from 1 to 10 pennies each (one-fifth of 1 cent to 2 cents each).
But this is not all. Many other and important uses are being made of the picture trading stamps; for example, as "boosters" for local exhibitions, of which there seem to be no end in Germany, and for particular towns, where individuals as well as tradesmen will for months paste to every letter or postcard a picture stamp illustrating some view or feature of the town or exhibition, and thus impress the same on the minds of the public.
Steamship routes and boat lines issue stamps with appropriate designs, urging their use on the travelling public. Railroads, too, as, for instance, with pictures of Niagara, bearing the legend, "The Niagara Route." Millions of stamps are issued and spread abroad, boosting certain localities for homes, with glimpses of pretty cottages and with "For Health and Comfort Live in Charlottenburg" conspicuously printed on them.
At the Yuletide season stamps bearing in neat design a sprig of green holly or a fiery poinsettia blossom convey the old time greeting of "A Merry Christmas" and are attached to all letters, cards and parcels. Similar stamps are used at holiday time in asking aid by charitable institutions and others which are sold at church fairs and charity bazaars. As a matter of fact in Germany the use of stamps for the picture trading stamps are as varied as they are numerous.
Thousands of presses and many times that number of individuals have found profitable employment in their designing, plate-making and printing; thousands more in marketing these. Several of the most important art publishers and advertising concerns of the United States have already placed their orders. America is going to follow the sample, just as it did in the making and distributing of the picture postcard. And with American energy and ingenuity, it will develop and extend the usefulness of the picture stamp to the uttermost.

The Modern Maid.

It was getting late at night when the servant girl returned from the shops with various domestic purchases. As she was explaining the transaction to her mistress, she cried out suddenly: "There! If I haven't forgotten the 'am an' eggs for breakfast!" "That's a pity," observed the mistress, but added, with kindly philosophy, "Never mind. The shops will all be shut now. We shall have to manage in the morning with bread and butter and marmalade." "The girl started. 'And what shall I have?' she enquired."
"Well, Ellen, I suppose you'll have the same as we do," replied the mistress.
"Yes, Mrs. X." replied Ellen, with some severity, "but let me tell you, I can't do my work unless I'm properly fed."
Slow Work.
It was on an East Texas train. The little coffee pot on an engine, having wheezed laboriously over serpentine rails, jolted to a restful stop at no place in particular. Time passed tediously. Some of the passengers staked nervously up and down the aisles, while others drew their felt hats down over their eyes and tried to forget it. When a half hour had elapsed the conductor came through.
"Say, friend," said a grumbling-voiced old man, "as near as you can tell, what's holdin' us?"
"We're taking on water," was the explanation.
"Well, why don't you get another teaspoon?" That one seems to leak something dreadful!"—Pulitzer's Magazine.

King George's Collections.

King George of England has always had a zealous fondness for making collections. One of the most pleasing of these is that made by the king of photographs of babies. This hobby betrays his well-known affection for children. The collection contains a number of child portraits issued for advertising purposes by food proprietors, and it furnishes some comical studies. Another favorite hobby of his is the collection of printed matter about his children. As the king has five sons and a daughter and the papers print many paragraphs and pictures about them, it's not hard to understand that the king's albums are voluminous and numerous.

Makes Face Young—Tightens Love Ties

"Aurilla," in Woman's Sphere.
A frolic expression, a wrinkled face and a facial complexion do more to drive the male members from home than is commonly supposed. It was one of my greatest difficulties to appear smiling, fresh and elegant when my dear ones were with me. But I have overcome all that. I have changed my mental attitude and I now find it second nature to look cheerful. Due, partly to this, partly to a reasonable treatment recommended by a friend, my appearance has so far improved I look fifteen years younger than before.
A simple face-lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half-pint which hasel proved a wonderful wrinkle-chaser. I still use this occasionally. To renovate my complexion I purchased an ounce of ordinary macerated wax at my druggist's, and before using this up a marvelous transformation had taken place. It was like removing an ugly mask, revealing a new face, a youthful complexion of distinctive delicacy, clear, white and velvety. I merely applied the wax like cold cream before retiring, washing it off mornings. Ten days' treatment sufficed.
Chicago Tribune.
"No, sir, you haven't a single tooth that needs any attention."
"Put your money back in your pocket, Mr. Kajones. You've made a mistake in your dates; this note isn't due for six months yet."
"You have detained you after hours, young man, to notify you that next such thing as a happy bachelor girl, though there might be such a thing as a 'merry widow.'"
Little Surprises.
"Hiram, I'm not a mind reader, but anybody can see that you're asking to ask me to marry you; why don't you do it?"
"I'll gladly change berths with you, Mr. Quigley; I prefer the upper one."
Even Daddy.
The little girl was expounding the logical problems to her younger sister with the confidence of childhood.
"We all came from heaven, baby, and we're all going back there some day." Perhaps she detected incredulity on the infant countenance, for she proceeded: "It's really true. Why even daddy came from heaven once."
