NOT ENOUGH RECORDS KEPT ABOUT CONVICTS

DR. PLATT COMPLAINED

ABOUT UNSANITARY CONDITION OF INSANE WARD.

The Prison Commission will adjourn until January 6th—More Starting Evidence is Expected to be Produced.

The probe of the Prison Reform commission will not be finished this year. Adjournment is looked for on Friday, and then the commission will stand adjourned until January 6th.

This was the announcement the chairman made at the close of the session on Thursday afternoon. The chairman was at first of the opinion that all the evidence could be secured by the end of this week, but it has been found necessary to make another adjournment, and as the Christmas holidays start next week, it was thought best to adjourn until January 6th. On this date the evidence of Inspectors Hughes and Stewart will be taken.

Relating to the recent case of a guard, who had been found guilty of giving his wrong age, in order to get the position, Mr. Stewart stated that he had the names of other guards alleged to have committed a similar offence, and he wanted to know if the chairman desired to go on with this kind of evidence.

"Certainly we want it," replied the chairman, so some lively times can be expected with regard to this matter.

The commission has been notified that Mrs. Freese, of Milwaukee, whose son died a year ago in the penitentiary, and who has expressed a willingness to give evidence, is ill and cannot come to Kingston at the present time, but would be able to come here later. The chairman stated that the suggestion had been made that she make a sworn statement, before the United States consul, and submit it to the commission.

The chairman announced that at Friday's session he would take up a charge of drunkenness which had been preferred against a guard.

Mr. Whiting stated that he will recall Overseer Wilson, of the hospital, and the day orderly, to prove that a certain convict had been given baths by the orderly, although he swore he did not receive them.

Dr. Phelan was on the stand all Thursday afternoon, and was questioned as to his opinion on the report of Dr. Young, on the care of the insane. Asked if there was anything he objected to in it, he said he had no objection to take to the substance of the report. The chairman asked him to submit a written report giving his views on Dr. Young's report. Dr. Young reported very strongly against the treatment of insane convicts.

That he believed in the reformation of a convict, and that a criminal was made, not born, was a statement made by Dr. Phelan when examined on these points by the chairman. The chairman said he was glad to hear the doctor say this. Dr. Phelan was questioned as to the records kept of convicts, and he said that he did not go into heredity and family history. His explanation was that there were no books for these records.

Mr. Stewart submitted a copy of a letter written by Dr. J. M. Platt, former warden, to R. J. Burns, chief trade instructor, in January 1912, in which he complained that the in-doctor should submit the written report.

To Submit Written Report.

When the commission met again this afternoon, the examination of Dr. Phelan was continued. He was asked this question by Dr. Etherington:

"What have you to say in general on the findings of Dr. Young in his report?"

"There are some very good things in the report, but there are quite a number of things which the doctor has drawn from reasons other than his own."

"Is there anything you object to in the report?"

"There is nothing I would like to make reference to."

The chairman—"You have read the report, Dr. Phelan; we want you to draw a statement from the witness as to his views upon it."

Dr. Phelan then stated that he had no objection to take to the main substance of the report.

The chairman stated that the report of Dr. Young came as the result of weeks of care and study, and he desired a statement from the witness as to his views upon it.

The chairman then handed Dr. Phelan a copy of the British Whig, which contained a full report of Dr. Young's findings, and asked him to point out his objections to the report.

Mr. Whiting suggested that Dr. Phelan submit a written report.

"Perhaps that would be the most satisfactory way," remarked the chairman, and it was decided that the

A LOVELY FACE... BUT UGLY HAIR

How often you see an otherwise lovely face spoiled by homely hair—a face that would be most charmingly beautiful if she only had prettier hair. What a pity!—and how foolish! Because that ugly hair, stringy, dull, lifeless-looking though it may be, can be made as glossy, soft, silky and beautiful as the heart could desire if only taken proper care of.

Harmony Hair Beautifier is just what it is named—a hair beautifier. It is not a hair dye or hair oil—it is just a dainty, rose-perfumed liquid dressing to give the hair its natural gloss and brightness, its natural wavy softness, its natural rich beauty. Very easy to apply—simply spritz a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet-smelling cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories, Toronto, where the celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made. Mahood's Drug Store, Kingston, Ont.

Keeping of Records.

Applied methods in the keeping of records of the hospital were given some attention by the commission.

The chairman explained that at a prison visited in Chicago, the members found a most up-to-date system for the keeping of all the records, so that in a moment's time the record of a convict could be secured. The chairman wanted to know why the Kingston penitentiary did not have a similar system.

Questioned by the chairman, Dr. Phelan stated that he believed in the reformation of a criminal.

"Would you say that a criminal is born or made?" asked the chairman.

"I think that he is made."

"I am glad to hear you say that," was the chairman's reply.

The chairman said that the regulations called for an examination by the surgeon, of the convict, as to his mental or bodily defects. He wanted to know why the witness had not made such an examination, and reported.

"I have," replied the witness. "I carried it out by the conversational method. I talk to the convicts and get their ideas, and watch their conduct, for it is only through a man's conduct that we are able to find out what is in his mind."

The chairman—"Don't you go into the family history of a convict?"

"No," replied the witness.

"Don't you go into heredity and family history?"

"I often ask questions along these lines."

"Have you any record of it?"

"No, I have no record of it."

"Well, is this not called for by the regulations?"

"But we have no books in which to keep these records."

"Have you no better reason to offer than this?"

"I have no other reason."

Mr. Stewart submitted a copy of a letter written by Dr. J. M. Platt to R. J. Burns, the chief trade instructor, under date of January 5th, 1912. In the letter complaint was made that the insane ward was not sanitary, and needed cleaning.

"Did you get a copy of that letter?" asked Mr. Stewart of Dr. Phelan.

"No," did not, and I did not see the letter."

"Did the warden speak to you about the letter?"

"No, he did not."

Dr. Platt's Complaint.

Mr. Stewart then submitted and read to the commission a copy of a letter sent to the inspectors on Nov. 9th, 1911.

In this letter Dr. Platt commented on conditions in the hospital, and recommended changes. One recommendation was that the surgeon should spend at least four hours at the penitentiary each day. The overseer, in his judgment, was not able to say whether a convict, if taken ill or injured, was able to return to his work, or go to the hospital.

Dr. Platt also stated in this letter that he was not satisfied with the existing methods and management in the hospital.

"Was there any reply from the inspectors about this matter?" asked Mr. Whiting.

"I do not know of any," replied Mr. Stewart.

Dr. Phelan stated that he never saw the letter and that Dr. Platt and the inspectors had never discussed the matter with him. Witness could not recall ever having gone through the "pen" with the inspector. Witness held that it was the duty of the inspector to come to him. He had been through some of the workshops with Inspector Stewart; but he had not been over the entire institution. Witness stated that Dr. Platt came into the hospital about once or twice a year.

The chairman—"I thought the warden was all over the place?"

Dr. Phelan—"Warden Irvine is, but Dr. Platt did not go to the hospital very often."

deputy warden on Wednesday, it was stated that out of the five hundred convicts in the "pen" that about twenty-five per cent. were free from reports. It should have been stated that about twenty-five per cent. were reported against.

THE TELEPHONE IS USED

By Lads and Lassies to Secure Dance Numbers.

"Hello! Would you kindly call Miss So-and-so to the 'phone'?"

"Oh, her ladyship is speaking! What's the matter? Have you a cold? You're voice is changed. This is Bill."

Pause. "Of course you are going to the dance Friday night." Pause again. "That's splendid. Have you a number saved for me?"

A Whig man has a number of times during the past week "buted in" on similar telephone conversations. Finally in this case the tenth dance at Queen's conversation was decided on.

The custom of filling up their programmes before the dance was never practised more than at the present time. The vast majority of those attending the college function tonight will be billed up almost entirely before they go into the hall, and possibly the same is the story for the Collegiate Institute "at home" on Monday night. The popular college girl is besieged over the 'phone and everywhere by her gentlemen friends who are to "take in" the hop. Hundreds are the telephone connections "Central" makes for this purpose, and the young men do much "mansuatory work" to fill up the programmes of their partners and themselves. This is sometimes "rough" on those who leave the filling of their programmes until before going into the hall. Queen's conversations promise to be very largely attended.

Government Spent Nearly $800,000 in Removing Wreck.

Washington, Dec. 19.—Raising the old battleship Maine from the mud of Havana harbor cost the United States $792,989, according to a report sent to the house of representatives by the war department. This includes the transportation to and burial of the bodies of more than 200 of her crew in Arlington.

The total appropriation was $900,000. Part of this fund has reverted to the treasury department, the report says, but the war department now has on hand $104,364 for the erection of monuments and tablets.

You'll Sleep More Soundly

If You Keep Healthy With Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

The man or woman with a good appetite, sound digestion, and bowels and kidneys working right, is never troubled much with sleeplessness. It is when the bowels become constipated and the liver and kidneys sluggish that the trouble begins.

Lazy liver and constipated bowels quickly bring on biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, making a sound, refreshing night's sleep impossible. Or the inactive kidneys allow the blood to become loaded with uric acid, which causes rheumatism, with all its sleep-destroying tortures.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, taken regularly, induce sweet and dreamless sleep by keeping all these organs active and regular. The headache disappears, the digestion becomes good again, the blood is purified and perfect health returns.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been a favorite household remedy in Canada for over half a century, and they are in daily use throughout the world. Being purely vegetable they are safe for young and old. Made by W. H. Comstock Co., Ltd., Brockville, Ont., and sold by all dealers at 25c. a box.
