OFFICIAL STANDING THE POLICE QUARTERS

OF THE CANDIDATES IN GANANOQUE ELECTIONS. TO BE RECONSTRUCTED AND THOROUGHLY RENOVATED

Three Good Men Were Dropped - Twin Daughters Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Brien.

Gananoque, Jan. 7.-The official report of the ballots cast in the municipal contest on Monday was made yesterday by returning officer Samuel McCannion, as follows:

For mayor-Gibson, 637; O'Connor, 246; majority for Gibson, 441. For reeve-Darling, 515; Britton, 369; majority for Darling, 155. For deputy-reeve-Wilson, 295; Weis, 277; majority for Wilson, 318.

For councillor-Kate, 578; Wright, 542; Jones, 513; Keyes, 497; Henne, 474; Taylor, 428.

In ex-reeve Britton and ex-deputy-reeve Webster the council loses two men who have done good and faithful work for the town's interests. In Dr. O'Connor the council loses a most efficient and energetic councillor. Of the new blood in this year's council, Reeve David Darling has done good work at the county council in years gone by. Deputy-reeve Wilson is an ex-mayor of the town, and Councillors Henne, Jones and Taylor have done very creditable work in years past at the council board. C. K. Wright is the only new man.

The Misses Marian McNeil, Gertrude Cliffe, Edith Wilson and Edith McCannion in training at Ottawa Normal school left on Monday to resume their duties there.

Miss Janet Wilson, Brook street, left at noon on Monday for Winnipeg. On her arrival there she will be quietly married to Dr. L. W. Walkey, a prosperous young practitioner located at Glenora, Man., at which they will locate.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Brien, Victoria Avenue, are rejoicing over the arrival of twin daughters on Monday last.

Miss Janet Crouch, who has been holidaying here with her parents, left on Monday for Midland to resume her duties as teacher of the Bible and public school. Amos Grant of Vancouver, B.C., son of the late John Grant, is spending a short time with friends in town. Miss Josephine Bedard, nurse in the hospital, Brockville, spent a short time with relatives here on Monday. Miss Bertha Aikens, who has been spending the past week at Cusheendall, guest of Miss Jessie Gordon, returned home on Monday. Gordon E. Hurd, spending the past week in Brockville, guest of his sister, Mrs. Frederick J. Miller, returned home yesterday. Robert Kirke, of the staff of the Merchants bank at St. Catharines, spent the holiday season here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kirke.

BYRNE-OLDREIVE WEDDING At the Bride's Home on Wednesday Morning.

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday morning, at the home of the bride's mother, on Wellington street, when Dora Marguerite, youngest daughter of Mrs. George Seth Oldreive, was married to John Herbert Byrne, of Edmonton, younger son of John T. Byrne, of Ottawa, by Rev. Alfred Brown, pastor of Sydenham street Methodist church.

The ceremony was performed in the drawing-room, the bridal party standing in an arched alcove, which was prettily backed with palms and ferns, and brightened with yellow and white tulips and narcissi. Brass jardiniere gracefully filled with the same flowers were also used for decoration, and yellow candles in brass sockets shed their soft light to make a very artistic effect.

To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Miss Pearl Oldreive, the bride entered with her brother, George Oldreive, of New York, who gave her away. She looked very sweet and dainty in her wedding gown which was made with a court train, and was of exquisite simplicity. The skirt was effectively draped and the bodice was of lovely Libeck lace. Her tulle veil was softly arranged with her pretty hair, and held in place by orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Eva Martin was her only bridesmaid, her gown being of gold charmeuse, with bodice and minaret of shadow lace. She wore a black lace hat and carried an armful of yellow sunset roses. The best man was the groom's brother, Thomas Byrne, of Ottawa.

After the ceremony a delicious dejeuner was served. The wedding cake surrounded by hilly white tulle and lilies of the valley in crystal vases centred the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrne left on the noon train for the west en route to their new home in Edmonton. The latter travelled in a taupe tailor-made suit, which opened over a taupe and rose ninon blouse, and her velvet hat to match had a feather bandeau of shaded bell rose.

Mrs. Oldreive, mother of the bride, was handsomely gowned in black crepe de chine over black satin, the bodice having beautiful jet trimming. She wore a corsage bouquet of violets and lilies of the valley.

The bride's sister, Miss Pearl Oldreive, wore a charming gown of striped pink charmeuse with ivory shadow lace.

John T. Byrne, of Ottawa, father of the groom, was present at the marriage.

The Police Commissioners Award Contracts—Cells to be Provided For Juveniles and Women.

The Board of Police Commissioners has assumed the power given it of keeping the police court room, police offices, station and cells in condition, and has awarded these contracts for a thorough renovation of the penal quarters in the city buildings:

Metal work, Elliott Bros.; carpentering, W. J. Chapman; masonry, Douglas & McIlquham; painting, Savage & Wightman; iron work, Kingston Foundry Co.

The police cells are to be remodelled, so as to allow for the construction of a cell for juveniles and one for women. The former will face Market street and the latter Brock street. Sanitary appliances are to be placed in every cell, ten in all.

The police court chamber, the offices of the magistrate and chief, and the station will receive metal ceilings and be repainted. The work will cost about $1,000.

VERY LUCKY SERVANTS GENEROUS EMPLOYERS FREQUENTLY REMEMBER HELP

Faithful Work Recognized—English Testator Banked Those Who Ministered to Life's Comforts Ahead of Grasping Relatives.

London Tit-Bits. For helping to smooth life's difficulties," to quote the words of the testator, five hundred pounds were recently left to Annie Norman, a servant of F. C. Wardale, of Bognor, who considered that those who minister to one's comfort "are more entitled to such recognition than blood relations one seldom sees."

This is but one of the many instances of gratitude being displayed in a practical manner by generous employers. When the will of W. C. T. Parloe, of Hove, was proven it was found that he had left three thousand pounds and all his wearing apparel to his butler, and two thousand pounds to his valet, head gardener, fireman, coachman and engineer.

A remarkable will was that left by Rowland Ward, the well-known taxidermist, of Piccadilly, who left estate to the gross value of one hundred and forty-seven thousand pounds when he died, and bequeathed his business to the members of his staff, contingent on the legatees continuing in the employ of the firm. There were several legatees altogether, including a porter.

Scores of servants, nearly all mentioned by name, were legatees in the will of the late Richard Harvill, of Norfolk, whose bequests ranged from four hundred pounds to his farm steward to ten pounds to each of his lads and to each man or lad in his service not mentioned in the will.

In recognition of her faithful service Mary Ann Morris was left two thousand pounds, as well as plate, furniture, pony, vehicles and harness, and the use of his house for life, by Mark Walker, of Warwickshire, some time ago, other servants being equally generously treated.

More generous bequests were made to servants by Dame Louise Williams-Wynn, of Denbigh, who left five thousand pounds to her stud groom, one year's wages, all her horses and hogs, and one-half of her furniture she bequeathed to her maid, together with three thousand pounds and one year's wages, equally generous sums being left to the rest of her servants.

"Kodak films developed," Gibson's. British Columbia miners ask a 48-hour national strike on Jan. 30th, as protest against keeping miners in prison at Nanaimo, B.C.
