NEW CITADEL OPENED

THE SALVATION ARMY HELD DEDICATION SERVICES

Several Outside Officers Were Present for the Ceremonies — The Citizens' Gathering Was Held on Sunday — Mayor Shaw Was One of the Speakers.

"May the army's drum never be silent. May we ever be on the march. God bless the drum. Some people don't like it, but it is a grand part of our machinery, and I like it. May we ever be able to reach out for the people who will not come to us."
Thus spoke Col. Maidment, of Toronto, chief secretary for the Salvation Army, conducting the dedication service, at the opening of the new citadel on Princess street, on Saturday afternoon. A dozen or so members cried "amen," following Col. Maidment's remarks, and the meeting was a most enthusiastic one. The handsome new barracks, were officially opened at this service, which was held at three o'clock and which was attended by an audience which filled the commodious building to the doors. Mrs. Maidment offered the dedication prayer, and in addition to the address of Col. Maidment, addresses were also given by Mayor Abraham Shaw, and Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald.

Included in the out-of-town army officers present were, Major Miller, Toronto the army's chief architect, who drew up the plans for the new quarters; Major Moore, Toronto, Brigadier Walker, editor of the War Cry and Staff Capt. Walton, of Montreal. Capt. Smith, in charge of the local corps, also assisted in the services.

Among those who occupied a seat on the platform were Rev. John Webster, Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald, Rev. G. I. Campbell, Rev. F. G. Robinson, Rev. A. E. Smart, and B. W. Robertson.

Col. Maidment told the story of Solomon and his temple, and in dedicating this new building for the saving of souls, expressed the hope that it would be a place where the strings of reconciliation would take place between the sinner and God. Col. Maidment explained the attitude of the army towards the churches, in the words of scripture given by the late General Booth, when asked the same question, "Love thy neighbor as thyself." "And this is the attitude of the army towards the churches," declared the speaker.

Mayor-Elect Shaw complimented the army on having erected such a fine building. He said the army had accomplished much in the old building, but still greater work would be expected of the corps in the new barracks. His wish was that they would accomplish much for the upbuilding of the city.

Rev. Mr. Fitzgerald also complimented the army on their new quarters, and expressed the hope that the work would continue with great success. The band of the local corps was present, and ably assisted in the service of song.

Sunday Services

At all services on Sunday the seating capacity of the new citadel was taxed. The service in the afternoon drew forth the largest crowd. Ald. T. F. Harrison took the chair. He had nothing but the highest praise to offer for the good work which is being accomplished by the Salvation Army.

Mayor-Elect Shaw gave a short history of the Salvation Army and the wonderful growth it has made. As the speaker said the wide reaching arms of this organization are gathering in many of those poor unfortunates who might be termed "down and out" and making them ambassadors of Jesus Christ.

W. F. Nickle, M.P., said that if he kept being such an active worker in the Salvation Army the time will come when the editor of the "War Cry" will have his picture placed in that paper, with possibly some title of rank before it, which will make him appear as an officer in the army. Mr. Nickle had much praise to offer the Salvation Army and its work. The army is persevering, he said, and one cannot but help such a body, which works for right, and lives up to it.

Magistrate J. M. Farrell paid a warm tribute to the commander, who, he claimed, is always on the firing line, and by his good work aids much in keeping many cases from court, thereby securing another chance for the fallen. It is very rarely that the person he aids ever gets back to the police court.

Rev. G. I. Campbell declared that go where you will, nothing but good work will be found done by the Salvation Army. It is especially noted for going into houses which are neglected by other denominations. As Mr. Campbell said, the limit has not

Get Rid of Bronchitis

The worst feature of bronchitis is the tendency to return year after year until the system is worn out and gives way to consumption, or other ravaging disease.

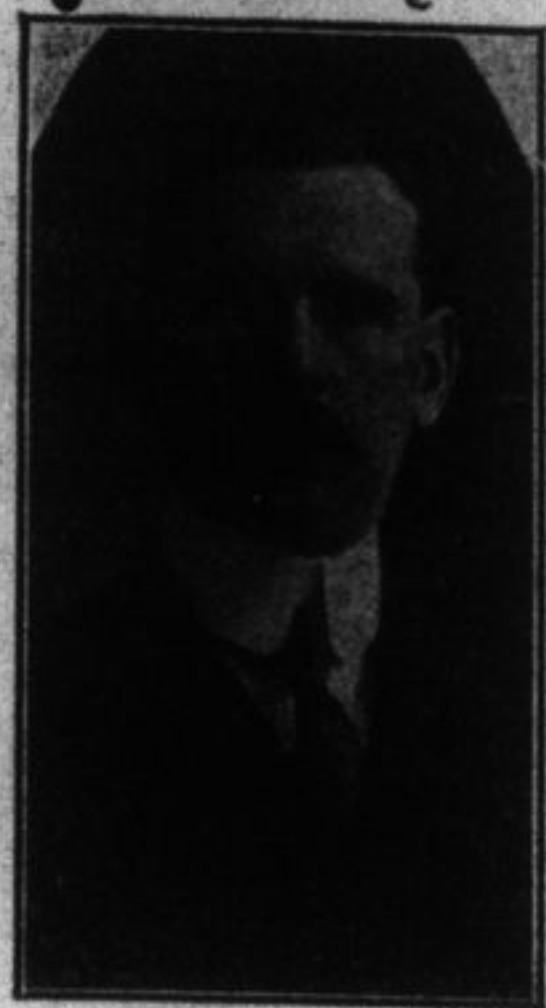

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine owes much of its great popularity to the fact that it positively cures bronchitis and this is about as severe a test as can be made of a medicine of this kind.

Mr. W. H. Walker, Calmar, Alta., writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has done much good to myself, wife and children. My eldest girl, seven years, had bronchitis, and the doctor who attended her did not seem to do much good. We got Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for her and she soon got well. We always keep this medicine in the house now ready for use, and find that it soon cures coughs and colds."

In fighting diseases of the throat and lungs half the battle is in having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine at hand to be used promptly. This is why many people prefer to buy the large family size bottle.

been found yet, where the Salvation Army has failed to reform almost the worst type of manhood.

Major G. Miller and Major W. Moore gave the statistical side of the question. The former, who is the architect of the army, quoted the cost of the building. There is yet $3,650 in promises which have not been paid. Major Moore asked the audience to help along the funds. The last speaker of the afternoon service was Colonel S. Maidment, who paid a warm tribute to Commissioner Rees, who, through illness, was not able to be present at the opening.

CHURCH MIGHT AS WELL

Close Up If It Has Only Entertainment to Offer.

"The church which offers nothing more than entertainment might just as well close its doors," was the statement of Rev. J. W. McIntosh, in Cooke's church on Sunday evening. The pastor, in dealing with the subject of "Church Going," took his text from Psalm cxxi, 1: "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord."

"People are not coming to church for entertainment, as they can get more at the lecture hall and five-cent show," said the preacher, when speaking on the indifference of many people to the church. Mr. McIntosh stated that nothing gave a pastor more pain than to be compelled to remove the names of certain members from the rolls of the church for the reason of their non-attendance.

"The question is asked as to what is the cause of the indifference. Is it for love of ease, selfishness, avarice, or worldliness?"

"Are we, as members of the church of God, responsible for the lack of interest?" was the question asked by the pastor, who queried: "What kind of a church would attract such a class of people?"

ADELE BLOOD IS SUING Her Preacher, Actor, Husband For Divorce.

New York, Jan. 12.—For the second time in his career Edwards Russell Davis, preacher, playwright, and actor, is a divorcee. His wife, now in vaudeville and formerly leading woman in "Everywoman," took her cue from Frederick E. Bryant, actor and stage director, who several months ago named Davis as the co-respondent in his divorce suit. In her petition Miss Blood named Mrs. Louise Power Bryant, known in vaudeville as Julie Power. The basis of both divorce suits is taken from "The Kingdom of Destiny," a vaudeville sketch in which Davis and Julie Power starred. Bryant showed the courage of his convictions by caning the actor-preacher and knocking him down.

Davis began his career as a preacher in Oakland, Cal. Joaquin Miller called him the "Talmage of the West." His first wife divorced him and went on the stage. Davis followed her. Then he married Miss Blood.

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABLE MEN

Monday January 12th
This is the seventy-second birthday of Sir Alexandre Lacoste, former chief justice of Quebec, now living retired in Montreal. Sir Alexandre received his knighthood in 1892, following his elevation to the bench as chief justice of the province, therein enjoying the honor usually accorded to occupants of this position. He had been previously a member of the Dominion Senate and for a short time was its speaker. A man of fine character and high attainments he was an ornament to the bench for many years. His eldest son, the late L. J. Lacoste, was known to fame as the inventor of the Lacoste ship-brake, intended to control the motions of ocean liners, a device which received a great deal of attention from marine engineers.
