Widow Got But $25,000 — Man's Casket Cost $1,500 and $6,000 Was Left to Care For His Grave.

New York, Jan. 20.—Henry M. Gecheit, a lawyer and patent medicine manufacturer, who died at his home in Flatbush last Monday at the age of sixty-five, left half of his $300,000 estate to the corporation of Trinity church for the establishment of a bread line. If the church is unwilling to accept the legacy for the purpose named the $150,000 is to be divided up among the Five Points House of Industry and several hospitals.

The late Rev. Dr. Wardrobe, who died in Montreal on Saturday, was born at Ladykirk, Berwickshire, Scotland, in May, 1819, the son of the late Rev. Thomas Wardrobe, a Presbyterian minister, and came to Canada in 1843. He received his education at Queen's college, Kingston, by which he was honored with the degree of doctor of divinity in 1878, and at Knox college, Toronto, and Edinburgh university. In February, 1844, he married Miss Sarah Masson, with whom he passed forty-four years of happy wedded life, she dying in 1888.

In his early manhood he was principal of the Grammar school in Bytown, now Ottawa. He was ordained to the ministry in 1845. In 1858 he was elected moderator of the Presbyterian church of Canada, and in 1891 was similarly honored by the General Assembly of the united church.

NEARLY DIED OF STONE IN THE BLADDER

GIN PILLS SAVED HIM
513 JAMES ST., HAMILTON, ONT.
"Five years ago, I was taken down with what the doctors called inflammation of the bladder—intense pains in back and loins, and difficulty in urinating, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony. I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor.

My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the very first, I felt that GIN PILLS were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once and the attacks were less frequent.

In six weeks, the Stone in the Bladder came away. When I recall how I suffered and how now I am healthy and able to work, I cannot express myself strongly enough when I speak of what GIN PILLS have done for me.

JOHN HERMAN, 178 GIN PILLS are sold at a box—6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price if your dealer does not handle them. Sample box free if you write mentioning this paper. Money back, if GIN PILLS do not give satisfaction. National Drug & Chem. Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto.

PARIS STREETS

Some of the Oldest to Disappear for Improvement.

More land marks of Paris are to be razed, more ancient buildings and streets to be obliterated to serve the utilitarianism of to-day. Among the projected improvements, which will cost $180,000,000, a new avenue is to be opened extending from the Hotel de Ville to the Rue du Pont Philippe, a crowded and important centre.

Among those streets destined to disappear in the Rue des Barres, said to be the oldest street in Paris. It dates back to 1230; the name, "Barres" was given it because the employees of the tolls set up barriers down to the Seine's banks.

During the reign of Louis XVI. this street was lighted by seven lanterns and lined by no less than twenty-nine houses, a great street in those days. The Hotel des Barres goes back as far as the days of Saint Louis, and in the fourteenth century a certain Louis de Bourbon, a favorite of Queen Isabella, of Barvaria, met with a tragic fate there.

In this street also was the abbey of Maubuisson, and in many cellars of the Rue des Barres remains of subterranean chapels are to be found.

Here Philippe de Champagne was buried and a part of the hospice was inhabited for a time by a revolutionary surgeon, the uncle of the famous Fugere Ste.

Mother Lands a Hard One.
Washington Star.
The conversation in the lobby of a Washington hotel drifted to the beautiful way in which mothers occasionally handle a good hard knock, when Congressman James M. Graham, of Illinois, recalled an incident that occurred in the home of a friend.

One day the little five-year-old daughter of the house was looking through a picture book when she suddenly glanced up to her mother. "Mamma," said she, with a very serious expression, "don't men ever go to heaven?" "Why, of course, my dear," answered the mother, in a surprised voice. "What makes you ask?" "Because," responded the little girl, turning to the book again, "I have never seen any pictures of angels with whiskers."

Not Through.
To punish her little girl her mother put her in a closet. For fifteen long minutes the door was locked without a sound coming from behind it. Not a whimper nor a sniffle. At last the stern, but anxious parent unlocked the closet door and peered into the darkness. She could see nothing.

"What are you doing there?" she cried. "Slowly and with emphasis a small voice made reply: "I'm thpittin' on your new hat, and I'm thpittin' on your new dress, and I'm thpittin' on your new thin thlipperth, and—"

Putting One Over Tom.
A gentleman with a paint-pot came into the Lancashire and Yorkshire smoker and identified a friend in overalls.

"No ole Bolly's gone to Canada," he remarked. "Bill—you mean Tom," granted overalls. "No, Bill booked a passage for Tom, because he was tired of 'is cadding, even if 'e was 'is brother."

"I said it was Tom," said overalls, triumphantly. "You listen to me," replied the gentleman of the paint-pot. "When 'e got Tom's ticket Tom Roulnd't go. So Bill wasn't going to waste it, 'e goes himself. He says to me: 'I ain't set on Canada, but anyhow our Tom won't be there.'"—Manchester Guardian.

MONEY OVERWHELMED HIM

Syndicate Will Clear Up Borax Smith's Mixed Finance

San Francisco, Jan. 20.—F. M. "Borax" Smith, one of the multimillionaires of the far west, had his troubles of the far west, had his troubles of financial affairs, capitalized at $200,000,000, taken over today by men who will try to disentangle them. A syndicate of British and American capitalists represented by George C. Moore, of Detroit, and B. Fitzgerald, of London, agreed to handle the United Properties company, which really was Smith and endeavor to straighten out his affairs.

Overwhelmed by more money than he could easily count, accruing to him from rich borax deposits, Smith started to promote big enterprises. He built a magnificent traction system among the cities across the bay from San Francisco and developed great tracts of land, financed high-power companies, and Nevada mines. His business methods are described as such that finally he had no idea whether he was worth any money or not.

Smith may yet be wealthy again, his creditors say. They will invest about $15,000,000 to straighten things about.

Broker's Case Was Dismissed
London, Jan. 20.—The action of the Glasgow stockbroker, James Filahill, against the Glasgow Stock Exchange, in which he sought a declaration that his expulsion from the exchange was null and void, has been dismissed by Lord Anderson and the petitioner is also found liable for the expenses.

Judge Anderson said the petitioner was obliged to accede to the whole constitution, binding himself in all particulars. The expulsion was on no account of speculation which Filahill carried on without his partner's knowledge.

LOSES TITLE OF KING

King and Queen Differ Slightly With Queen Mother.

London, Jan. 20.—Another little difference between Buckingham Palace, over which Queen Mary presides, and Marlborough House, of which Queen Mother Alexandra is mistress, has arisen, this time over the titles by which the deposed King Manuel of Portugal and his bride are to be known officially.

When the exiled king and his bride were entertained by the queen mother recently, the court circular, issued from Marlborough House, described them as "King Manuel and Queen Augusta Victoria." This was interpreted as a sign that King George had officially sanctioned this description of the royal couple, and the press followed, as it invariably does, the fashion set by royalty, published it as a fact. An official denial was quickly forthcoming, as it was announced that King George had decided that the ex-king and his wife were to be known and referred to only as Don Manuel and Dona Augusta Victoria. As the king's decision is binding on all the members of his family, including his mother, it is probable that any future references in the court circular, when those emanating from Marlborough House, will thus refer to the young couple.

In circles that side with the queen mother in her little differences with Queen Mary, it is said that the king's decision was dictated by Queen Mary, who thus emphasizes that she, and not Queen Alexandra, is now the arbiter in matters of this kind.

SOUTH AFRICA SEEKS CURE

Government Drafting Bill For Labor Disputes.

London, Jan. 20.—The government of the Union of South Africa, it is stated, has completed drafting a measure for an industrial disputes prevention bill, based partly on the Canadian labor law, though the scheme is rather more elaborate. The main principle of the bill will be the enforcement of attempts at conciliation before the declaration of a strike or lockout. It provides for the creation of voluntary standing conciliation boards, on which the employers and employees will be recognized, and their officers eligible for appointment.

"BILLY" SUNDAY REVIVAL

500,000 to Pray and Fast for Twenty-Four Hours.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 20.—On a date to be announced in a few days, upwards of 500,000 church people of Western Pennsylvania who are interested in the "Billy" Sunday revival here, will fast and pray continuously for twenty-four hours. The plan is ranged in this country. The day of fasting and prayer will be in the nature of supplication for better success of the revival. It was decided upon a few days ago.

The revival date has not been as successful as it was hoped to be. It began on December 28th, scheduled to continue for seven weeks, and the Sunday party expected to round up at least 50,000 converts. They are considerably behind in their programme in this respect, and the Lord is to be asked to help the baseball evangelist make good.

"After all, there's nothing like FRY'S"

FRY'S Cocoa—Every Drop is Nourishment

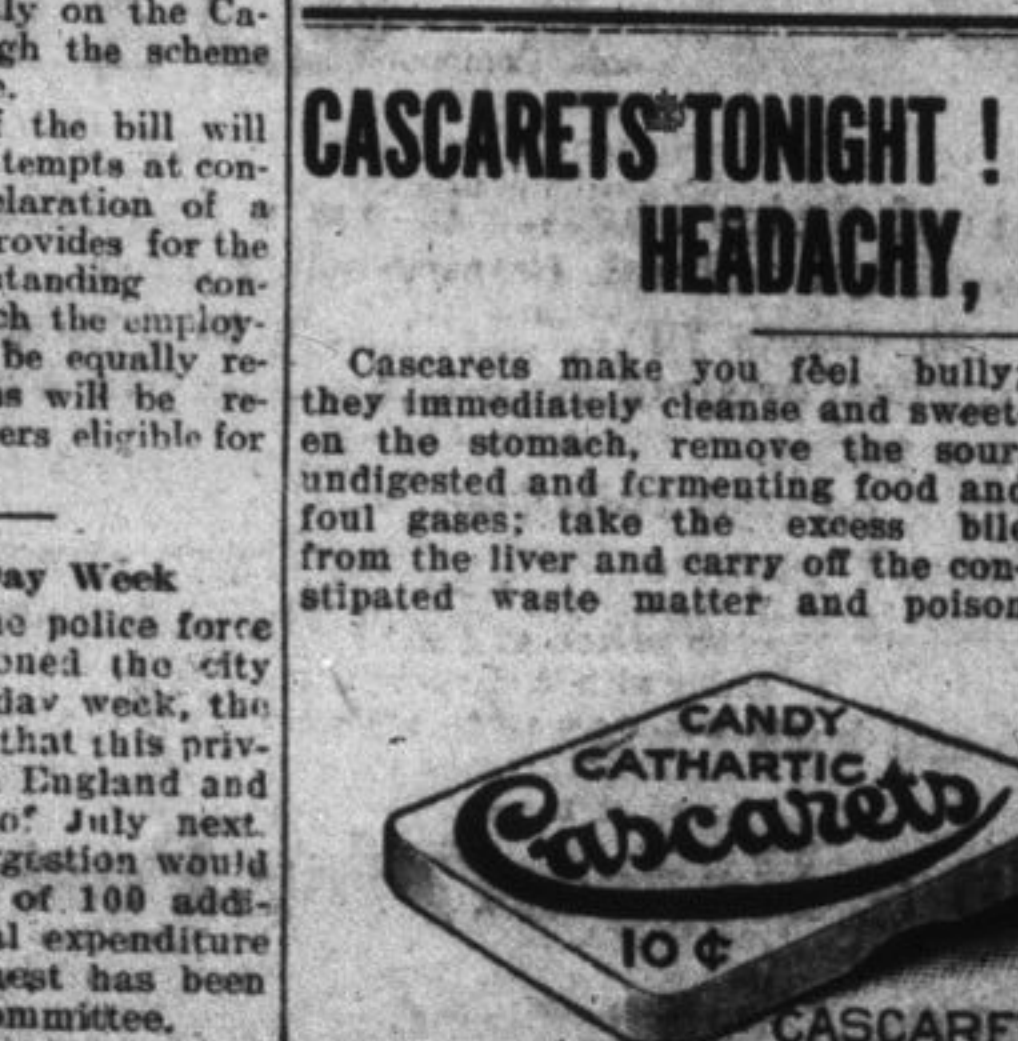

Dr. Andrew Wilson, the eminent British authority, once said of the cocoa bean—"It is a kind of vegetable egg which contains all that is needed to build up a living body." Tea and coffee are mere infusions—but cocoa is an actual food in itself. Elderly folk should remember that. Cocoa, made the FRY way, from a selection of the world's choicest cocoa beans, is pure, extremely soluble, and of delicious aroma and flavor. Nearly two hundred years' experience and knowledge of the cocoa business stand back of FRY'S.
