Quebec Rugby Union

At a meeting af representatives of the Quebec Rugby Football union it was decided to adopt the changes suggested by them for the Canadian union for next autumn. Reg. Gaisford, who represented the O.R.F.U. at the meeting of the Canadian body at Toronto, reported that the changes suggested by the Quebec body were practically ignored. AND THE EMPIRE MOURNS

(Continued from page one) In March 1896 during the last days of the Bowell administration he served as a delegate to the Manigovernment, along Messrs, Dickey and Desjardins reference to the school question. In April of the same year he retired altogether from political ife in Canada, being then appointd to represent the dominion in Lonion as high commissioner. He was at the same time sworn, at the queen's privy council of Canada. He was a commissioner to the Pacific cable confederation London, November 1896, and also attended the sittings of the commercial congress held there in 1892 and 1896.

At the outset of his public career he was a supporter of Sir John Mac-Macdonald's return to power 1878. mere partyism.
