

ICE VERY UNCERTAIN

CROSSED THE AMERICAN CHANNEL IN ROWBOAT

Cattle Of Wolfe Island Carried Out on Ice Which Broke Up — Narrow Escape of Hugh Horne.

Wolfe Island, Feb. 3.—The continued mild weather is causing anxiety among the islanders. The crossing to the city so far this winter has been taken with much risk on the part of those travelling upon it. On Saturday last P. McDermost, while returning from the city with a load of passengers, had his sleigh break through the ice. Fortunately they escaped with the exception of a slight wetting to some of the parties. The ice at the present time is not as safe as it was last week.

On Saturday last Customs Officer William Horne, James Alexander, rowed in a small boat to Cape Vincent, with open water from shore to shore. Ice had formed over the American channel but the recent high winds caused it to break up.

Rather a novel incident happened at the farm of Mr. McLeady last week. Some of his cattle were going out on the ice to take their accustomed drink from a water hole, when the ice moved out, carrying the cattle with it. The owner witnessed the accident but was unable to render any assistance. The ice moved out to the distance of a quarter of a mile. When it commenced to break up, precipitating the frightened animals into the water, when they swam back to shore. Mr. Subtle, who lost his cutter and contents while crossing from the city recently, was lucky enough to locate the cutter and secure it with a grapple.

The township council held its regular session yesterday. The appointments for the positions of captain and engineer were deferred until a later meeting.

This afternoon Hugh Horne purchased some cattle from Mr. Paterson. In attempting to take a couple of them on a sleigh to the island he broke through and narrowly averted losing both horse and cattle.

Chinese Bandits Release Priests.

Shanghai, Feb. 4.—The Jesuits, Fathers Allain and Taille, who were captured by bandits, when they fled and burned the town of Lianchow recently, have been released and have reached a place of safety. At the time the two priests were seized, Father Allain, a French Jesuit missionary, was killed.

SCHOOL TEACHERS STRIKE

Because English Board Refuses to Pay More Salary.

London, Feb. 3.—A strike of elementary school teachers, the first of its kind in the British Isles, was in full swing in the county of Hereford yesterday. Eighty out of the 120 schools under the jurisdiction of the county council were closed, and the teachers declare that they will remain closed until they gain their demands which are for a minimum salary of $500 per annum instead of the $450 they receive now.

On the other hand, Sir James Rankin, chairman of the county education department, has declared a policy of "no surrender."

The National Union of Teachers has guaranteed its members who have gone on strike their full salary for a period of five days and the determination has been greatly strengthened by this action.

Many thousands of children stayed away from school with the prospect before them of a protracted vacation.

In the meantime the teachers have adopted the most modern strike methods at the few schools where the strikers, aided by members of their families, attempted to continue the school work. Pickets were posted and the substitute teachers appointed by the education authorities were either persuaded or coerced into refraining from taking the place of the strikers.

OFFERS BARON A BARGAIN.

Can Have Estate He Puts at Millions for £1,500,000.

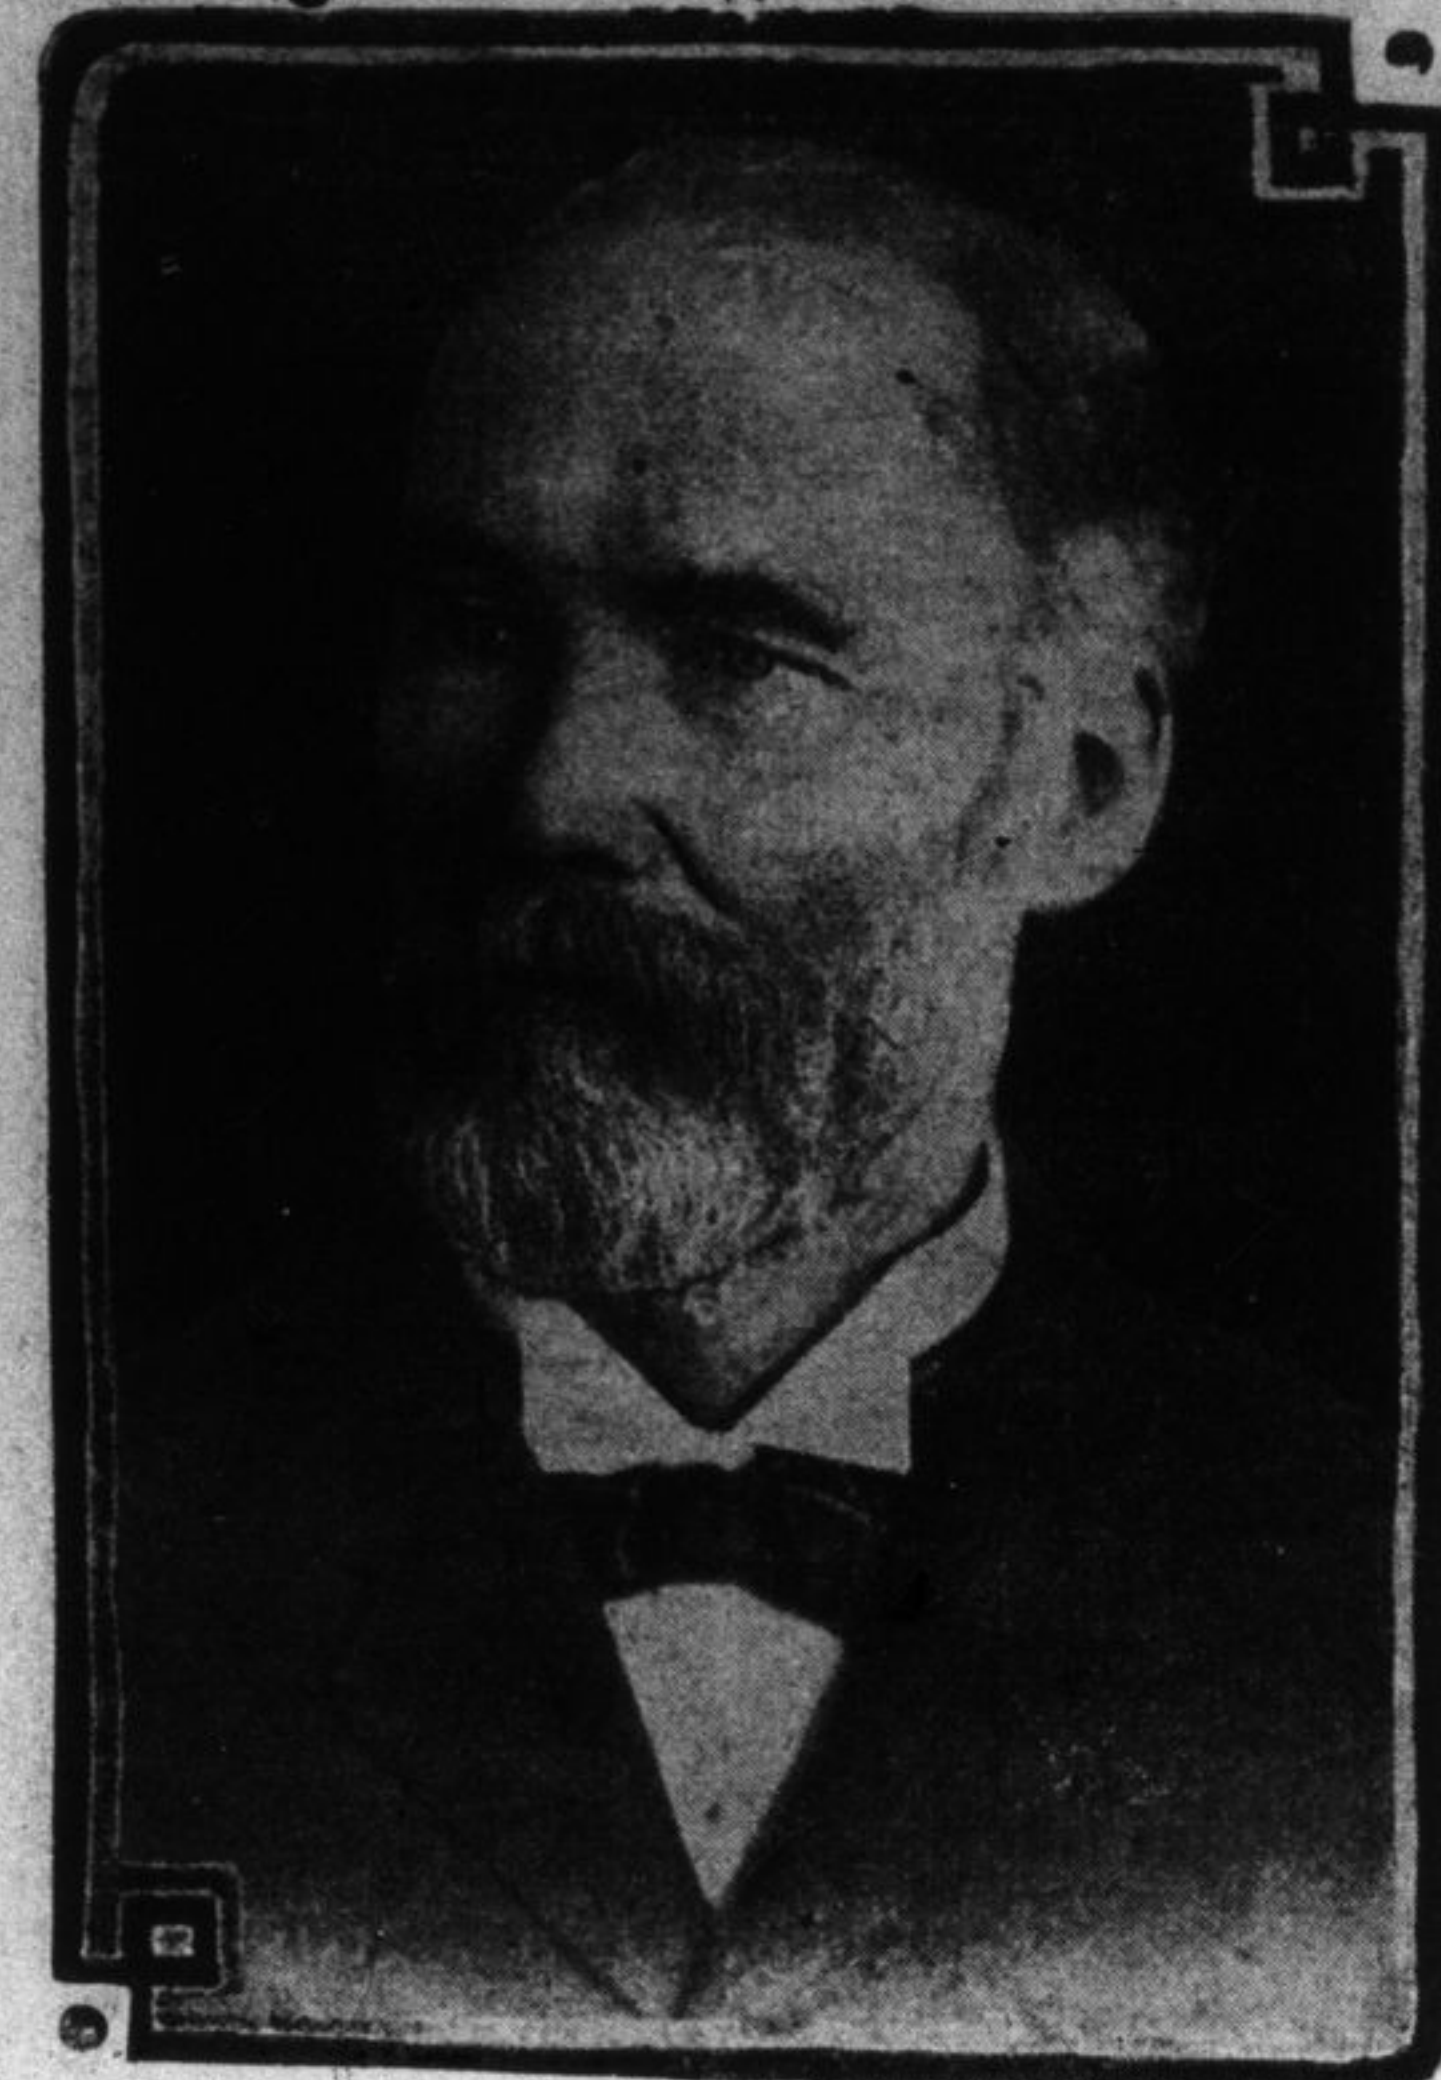

London, Feb. 4.—Lord Derby, in a speech at Liverpool last night, commented upon a statement by Baron de Forest that his (Lord Derby's) Bootle estate produces an income of £100,000 a year and has a capital value of from three to four million pounds.

In reply, Lord Derby says that if Baron de Forest will put down £1,500,000 in cash he can have the estate in question. "That's a firm offer," said Lord Derby.

Embarrassed by Senate

Washington, Feb. 4.—Henry M. Tindell, of Peoria, Ill., yesterday declined the appointment as ambassador to Russia to which he was confirmed by the senate last week. He expressed in a letter the belief that the controversy that preceded his nomination had embarrassed him so that he might not be able to act properly as American ambassador.

The president immediately accepted the nomination and in a letter to Tindell praised him for his action.

TO MAKE COAL GAS.

For the City Owing to High Cost of Oil.

Another short, though pointed, discussion to the effect that Kingston would eventually and perhaps sooner than expected, have to come to coal gas in place of that manufactured from oil took place at the meeting of the Commission of Public Utilities on Monday afternoon.

The general manager remarked about the high cost of oil when referring to the year's supply.

The question was asked whether the Commission proposed contracting for a year's supply ahead. But to this J. H. Birkett informed them that it was impossible.

R. H. Toye said that the sooner the city decided to make coal gas the better so as to give the people 85 cent gas.

A few minutes were spent in discussion of questions having a bearing on the matter, including the plant that would be necessary. T. J. Dineen, chairman, concluded with the remark that there was no doubt that it was a matter he Commission will have to deal with.

BANKING ON SHACKLETON.

Contracts at 10 P.C.; Charged 50 P. C. Last Time.

London, Feb. 4.—Lloyds is insuring all Sir Ernest Shackleton's contracts for his expedition at 10 per cent premium. For his previous expedition the rate was fifty cents.

The new rate is a remarkable tribute to Shackleton. It means in the hard cold view of a money quotation that the crossing of the antarctic continent is regarded as practicable, and that Shackleton's low quotation is based on the perfect arrangements being made by Shackleton. He is having the best expert help obtainable in every department and insists upon supervising everything personally.

This is delaying his intended visit to America. He said that he could not fix the date of his departure for New York, but that his many friends in America could rest assured that he would run over whenever he could get away.

Chicago Offers.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Cattle—Receipts, 22,000; market steady. Beeves, $8.90 to $9.50; Texas steers, $8.90 to $9.50; Texas steers, $6.90 to $8; stockers and feeders, $5.40 to $8; cows and heifers, $3.60 to $8.50; calves, $7.50 to 10.50.

Hogs—Receipts 37,000; market higher. Light $8.35 to $8.66 1-2; mixed, $8.35 to $8.67 1-2; heavy, $8.30 to $8.67 1-2; rough, $8.30 to $8.33; pigs, $6.75 to $8.35; bulk of sales, $8.50 to $8.60.

Sheep—Receipts, 58,000; market weak; native, $4.70 to $5.85; yearlings, $5.70 to $6.90; lambs, native, $6.75 to $7.85.

Buffalo Prices.

BADLY ULCERATED LEG

Zam-Buk Cured Her When So Bad She Had to Use Crutches.

For various sores, bad leg, or chronic ulcers, Zam-Buk is without equal as a healer. A proof of this is just to hand from Montreal. Mrs. T. Edwards, of 167 Amherst street, writes: "Some time ago I had a sore broke out on my leg near the ankle. For a week or two it did not heal it, but it got so bad that I could hardly walk. I sent for my doctor, and he told me that I would have to lay up with the wound. I did so, for three weeks. At the end of that time the ulcer healed a little, but I could only move about by using crutches.

"The sore then broke out badly, and the doctor told me that the only thing that would cure it would be an operation, and that I should have to lay up for a year. This, I knew, was impossible as I had a family to attend to.

"My son had cured a bad cut on his finger by using Zam-Buk, and he advised me to give this balm a trial. I did so and in less than a week's time it gave me wonderful relief. It stopped the pain, which had soon so bad that many nights I did not get a wink of sleep. In a very short time the wound was so much better that I had no more sleepless nights, and was able to move about and do my work. I persevered with Zam-Buk, with the result that the wound is now perfectly cured, and the limb is as sound and strong as ever. To any person suffering from ulcerated sores I would say 'try Zam-Buk.'

Zam-Buk is just as good for piles, abscesses, boils, scalp sores, blood poison, festering wounds, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, eczema, eruptions, and all other injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores, 50c. box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful substitutes and imitations.

INDIANS RAID RANCHES

Yaquis Again Become Hostile Around Sonora.

Douglas, Arizona, Feb. 4.—After several weeks of quiet, Yaqui Indians were again raiding ranches in the vicinity of Ures, Sonora, according to reports which reached here several days ago. It was stated, and the inhabitants of that region are practically defenceless.

The Yaquis have extended the field of their operations, say travellers from Ures, until they reached to the southwestern edge of the Sonora district, which had hitherto been free from their raids. The hostile bands of Indians, were augmented by numbers of "tame Yaquis," who had deserted from the constitutional army, it was said.

CENSURED THE CAPTAIN.

But Recognized His Splendid Work After Stranding.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—Week's Commissioner Lindsay to-day, in giving judgment, after the investigation into the wreck of the steamer Cobequid, which ran into the end of the Nova Scotia, while trying to make the Bay of Fundy, severely censured Captain John Howson, who was in command, for attempting to make the bay before the weather cleared. Owing to Howson's handling of the situation after stranding, however, his certificate was not dealt with.

REFUSED TO GO.

The Child Beat Its Mother in the Face.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—There was an unusual scene at the staid old Osgoode Hall, to-day, when the court ordered that a six-year-old girl be returned to her mother, Mrs. Mabel Spinlow, an actress. The child, who for two years had been in custody of her paternal grandmother, was in court and refused to go with her mother, beating her in the face and screaming when the mother tried to carry her off. It was finally decided that the child should remain with the sisters of St. Joseph for the present.

W. L. Uglow, M.A., now a graduate student in the department of geology at the University of Wisconsin Geological and Natural History Survey is determining the quantity of known but as yet unmined lead and zinc ore held by the various companies in the state, for the purpose of tax assessment.

A. M. Bateman, B.Sc. who was formerly with the Canadian geological survey and was given his Ph.D. in geology by Yale University last June, has become a member of the geologists of a recently equipped geological commission for the investigation of certain problems connected with the formation of copper deposits.

Ministers Under Fire.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—The government was confronted with a series of 191 questions standing on the order paper when the house opened yesterday afternoon. "Nearly all of them were from opposition members, desiring information as to the government's legislative plans, as to various administrative plans, and as to the government's views generally on a number of subjects of either local or general interest. Most of the questions were answered, but in some cases where information was desired as to legislative intentions the replies were non-committal.

DARKNESS AND LIGHT.

(THE STORY)

Two-thirds of Jesus' public ministry were passed. His unearthly wisdom, his beneficent and powerful miracles, his ideally perfect character were on the point of capturing the unsophisticated heart of Galilee; but its very tentative and tame character of its enquiry, "Can this possibly be the Christ?" This rising popular faith must be "nipped in the bud." Love of power overrode love of truth. The hierarchy must be preserved at all hazards. And so a first-century Jesuitical commission comes down from Jerusalem to stem the tide of popular favor, and it possible, convert it into an angry torrent that shall destroy the latter teacher.

In this instance, as always, the wrath of man is made to from the extreme expedient it used. It admits the miracle. But it denies the heavenly source. On the contrary, it affirms a nexus with the under-to the utmost bound of affirming Jesus to the devil incarnate. The rupture between Jesus and Judaism is now complete. Obnoxious to the wisdom, purity, and love manifested in his career, Judaism gashes upon him malignantly. It disdainfully calls him "this fellow," and affirms that he is possessed by the "God of Filth."

Jesus, on his part, in this Pharisaical hypothesis. With merciful courtesy He calls His traducers to Him, and with lucid parables shows them and the people as well, how utterly untenable their position is. Union is the source of strength and perpetuity, either in the narrow limits of domestic, or in the wider boundaries of national life. Division is destruction. In the kingdom of darkness this principle is all too well understood. Hell moves on in serried ranks. Kingdom of house or Satan, divided, can not stand, but hath an end.

Jesus points with confidence to His whole career—His miracles of word and deed—the sum of His influence and character, to show its deadly antagonism to Satan. How, then, can He be Satan's self? The blasphemous theory dies up on the very lips that utter it. This poor, blind, and dumb possessed one whose healing had produced such a sensation, and had led them to frame their profane argument, was just like a castle in which a robber knight had ensconced himself. That must be a superhuman and an anti-Satanic force which storms the castle, blinds the devilish intruder, and casts him out beyond hope of return. And that is what Jesus had undertaken to prove.

TEACHER'S LANTERN

Turn the tide—it was inevitable! Immense multitudes; an ever-augmenting influence and unconcealed admiration—it was flood-tide at the close of the second year of the public ministry; but then the ebb set in with that speed or retrogression which made the crucifixion possible in a twelvemonth.

Leaves and fishes, curiosity, and instability—the latter were the characteristics, the former were the ends sought by the multitudes that followed and pressed upon the Master. When the leaves were exhausted, and curiosity satisfied, the weathercock of popular feeling was ready to whirl to any new breath that blew. And even Jesus grew unpopular. That is one particular in which the Kingdom of Heaven on earth might well imitate the kingdom of darkness. It is because we are divided that we make such slow progress and are so often conquered.

On the Godward side all sins of all degrees of turpitude are pardonable. This is explicitly affirmed in very connection with the description of the unpardonable sin. The latter is, then, only a subjective condition of the sinner, which lets and hinders God from forgiving him.

ANALYSIS AND KEY

Jesus' increasing popularity. His power waxing. Danger to ecclesiastical establishment. Ecclesiastics to the rescue. Their sorry plight. Miracle must needs be acknowledged. Accounted for by affirming Jesus' affiliation with the devil. Invincible logic of Jesus' answer. Union is strength; division is weakness. One cannot be both anti- and pro-Satanic. Jesus proves Himself anti-Satanic. Ecclesiasticism defeated.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S DEVOTIONAL SERVICE

February 8, 1914. Psalm 27: 26-32. TWELVE GREAT VERSES. (II) THE SAFETY VERSE

Fear is distressful. It incurs defeat. Possibly irretrievable disgrace and ruin. It is contagious. It sweeps others in its course. To be emancipated from fear is an indescribable blessing. Conscious personal, harmonious relation to God is the cure to fear. To one for whom God is light, strength, and salvation, what cause is there for fear?

Operations Failed to Cure Kidney Trouble

Mr. John E. Purnfrey, Farmer, Viceroy, Sask., writes: "I think it is my duty to let you know the benefits I have obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For years I suffered from weak kidneys. The urine was scanty, thick and was accompanied by burning sensations. The trouble grew worse until there was a total stoppage of urine and I suffered most excruciating pain. Besides private treatment by medical men I was twice operated on at a hospital in Oxford, England.

"Soon after coming to this country the trouble returned with great severity, and the druggist to whom I went recommended Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, for which I am very thankful. I am now enjoying excellent health and I am positive this is due to the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The water is clear and no difficulty in passing it. I am making this statement voluntarily so that others may know of this medicine which has given such wonderful results."

This case gives you some idea of the splendid work being accomplished by this great medicine of the famous Receipt Book author, A. W. Chase, M.D. You can use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with positive assurance that they will awaken the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels and thereby cure such ailments as biliousness, constipation, indigestion, backache and kidney edema. 25 cents a box, 5 for $1.00, all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. A sample box will be mailed free if you mention this paper.

The Greatest Modern Educator Of Children

Mme. Montessori

in her recent tour of America included Battle Creek, the great Pure Food Center, in her itinerary. Speaking of diet for children she makes the following statement (in the public press of Dec. 31, 1913):

"Coffee and tea should never be placed within reach of a childish hand."

Besides being an educator, Madame Montessori is a physician, and bases this advice on her scientific knowledge that an ordinary cup of tea or coffee contains from 11-2 to 3 grains of caffeine—a poisonous drug.

In these days of liberal education the average parent is becoming informed concerning the baneful effects of tea and coffee drinking, not only on the youth, but on those further along in life.
