Mrs. N. Wilnot, Clergy street, gave her annual birthday party on Thursday evening, February 5th; it was an occasion of very great interest in view of the presence of all her family, save one, Mrs. James Kirk, and her friend, Mrs. (Dr.) Rankin, of New York, and Mrs. Clark Taylor, of Gananogue, and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wilnot, Ottawa, were present, along with Kingston friends of the family, the whole making up a company of seventeen. The tables and rooms were prettily designed in a yellow color scheme, yellow daffodils being the flowers on the table and the individual favors. Added interest was given to the birthday occasion, as it was not only that of Mrs. Wilnot, but also her daughter, Mrs. Charles Livingston, and her nephew, Mr. J. G. Elliott. The hours were merrily passed in speeches, songs and cards. It was a source of great pleasure to find the hostess so young and happy, and it was the frequent wish of all that many more bright birthdays might be in store for her. In addition to the individual bouquets, splendid souvenirs of the occasion, brought from New York, were distributed. Mrs. Wilnot was the recipient of greetings from scores of friends by telegram, by letter, and by post cards, and was also remembered, in a splendid way, by gifts, including a cut glass water set from Kingston guests.

Miss Anna Fairlie and her rink were hostesses at the Curling Tea on Wednesday afternoon. The table was prettily arranged with daffodils, and Mrs. R. S. Waldron presided at the tea tray. Her assistants were Mrs. Elmer Davis, Miss Kathleen Daly and Miss Fairlie. Some of those present were: Mrs. James Hamilton, Mrs. A. Strachan, Mrs. J. Campbell, Mrs. H. Tandy, Mrs. Robert Fraser, Mrs. Hugh Nickle, Mrs. Herbert Robin, Mrs. Bernard Browne, Mrs. D. Fraser, Mrs. W. R. Mrs. Alexander Macphail, Clergy street, was hostess at a delightful bridge, on Friday afternoon, in honor of her sister, Miss Mildred Macmorris, of Toronto. O. Wilhoft, Mrs. H. Dykeman, Mrs. C. A charming tea was given on Friday afternoon when Mrs. F. G. Lockett, hostess, at Miss Zina Lockett were "at home" to about seventy of their friends. In the drawing room which was softly lighted by unshaded candles many lovely spring flowers, and ferns were artistically arranged, and here the hostesses welcomed their guests. The tea table in the dining room had for its graceful centerpiece, a crystal bowl of daffodils and feathery green, and was in charge of Mrs. Lawrence Lockett, Mrs. Richard Irving and Miss Edith Massie, their prettily gowned assistants being Miss Millie Henderson, Miss Grace McLelland, Miss Hazel Massie, Miss Naomi Irving and Miss Agnes Bell-house.

Major Hammond was host at a very jolly tobogganing party at the Fort Hill, on Friday afternoon, afterwards taking his guests to the college mess room to tea. Among those present were Major and Mrs. C. N. Perrean, Captain and Mrs. Maurice Plummer, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Wagner, Miss Marie, Miss Dorothy and Miss Kathleen Carstairs, Miss Grace Hemming, Miss Madge Dawson, Miss Marjorie Brownfield, Miss Phyllis Shortt, Miss Charlie Shortt, Captains Hammond, Meldrum, Heyman, Boak and Mr. O. LABOR COUNCIL URGES ADOPTION OF THE WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT

A Resolution Passed on Friday Night — The Trades Council Addressed by Joseph T. Marks and Leon Worthall, of Toronto.

Resolved, that the Kingston Trades and Labor Council hereby commiserate with Hon. J. J. Foy, the acting premier of Ontario, with the Hon. I. B. Lewis, who has charge of the proposed workmen's compensation for injured and the local representatives in the legislature, requesting that the draft act submitted by the commission, Sir William Meredith, be adopted at the coming session of the house. This central labor body, while believing that the rate of compensation, as submitted by the commission, should be raised, yet a higher figure, fully approved of the ground taken by the Ontario executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, in their presentation of the case before the commission and the representative of the government. We believe that any measure that does not come up to the standard of the draft act submitted, will not give to workers of the province that measure of justice they are fully entitled to expect, and that unless the percentage at least equal to that proposed by the commissioner, we are opposed to surrendering our rights under the common law.

We regret that the manufacturing interests are opposed to the workers of Ontario receiving that measure of justice that has been promised to them, and for which they have patiently waited so long. We would strongly urge upon the government the advisability of following the recommendations as submitted by Sir William Meredith, after three years of investigation and research.

"The workers of the province have a right to respect that the proposed act will be adopted in its entirety, without mutilation or amendments, that can but destroy its usefulness."

"We submit this resolution as representative of the sentiment of the organized and unorganized workers of the city, whose vital interests and welfare are at stake."

The above resolution was passed by the Kingston Trades and Labor Council by a unanimous vote, at a special meeting held on Friday night, following a stirring address by Joseph T. Marks, editor of the Industrial Banner, and secretary of the Labor Educational Association of Ontario. The resolution was moved by William J. Driscoll and seconded by James Lee.

Leon Worthall, of Toronto, organizer for the Canadian barbers was present, and spoke briefly, strongly advocating the passing of the draft act. The president of the Trades and Labor Council, William Baxter, presided.

After the resolution was passed, it was decided to have a committee appointed to bring the matter before all the local labor organizations. The president appointed Messrs. Driscoll, Wright and Savage to act in this committee.

On motion of Mr. Driscoll, a vote of thanks was tendered to the speakers of the evening.

In his address Mr. Marks outlined many of the points to be raised by Sir William Meredith in his draft act, which has been submitted to the legislature. Labor men on Friday had been given the promise of Sir James Whitney that it would be taken up at the coming session of the legislature. No matter of such vital importance to the workmen had been taken up within recent years.

The Labor Education Association had taken up the matter and had been holding a series of meetings in order to stir up interest, and to show the legislature that the workmen meant business.

Reference was made to the fact that under the employers' liability bill a workman, in order to receive compensation for an injury, had to prove that the accident was due to the carelessness of the employer's company. This entailed law suits, and the bill was practically useless, owing to the amount of money which had to be paid out in legal fees. The new draft act of Sir William Meredith cut out all these law suits, and provided for the workman to receive compensation even though the accident was due to negligence on the part of the workman.

The new act called for the workman when disabled to receive fifty-five per cent of his wage. Even at this the laboring man did not consider it sufficient, but organized labor was, however, fighting to get the present act passed, despite the strong protests of manufacturers to the government.

The speaker declared that it was a matter which had to do with manhood, womanhood and childhood. It was more than a question of dollars and cents. He appealed for the hearty support of every workman. He spoke at some length, taking up various phases of the case, and was listened to with great interest.

A JAPANESE SCANDAL
Copies of Seal of Secret Documents Were Photographed

Berlin, Feb. 7.—Photographic copies of the seal of the secret documents relating to the alleged illicit dealings of Japanese naval officers with a German electrical firm contracting for the Japanese navy are said to be in the possession of the attorney who prosecuted Carl Richter (the firm's stenographer, sentenced here recently for blackmail). The original letters are said to have been returned to the firm.

V. Herrmann, the representative in Tokio of the German firm, is under detention by the authorities there on the penal charge of destroying documents valuable to a criminal suit.

The documents are supposed to have implicated Admiral Koiubi Fujii, formerly Japanese naval attaché in Berlin, and other officers, and in this connection an official enquiry is in progress in Japan.
