First Stage Across Ice
The first stage since navigation closed was to be run on Monday to Cape Vincent. Owing to the American channel being open it was impossible to run any sooner. The cold days of Saturday and Sunday, however, have made ice fast.

May Accept Invitation
Rev. Alfred Bright, Ingersoll, son-in-law of James Dennison, Portsmouth, has been invited to become assistant minister and director of the Young People's Work in Parkdale Presbyterian church, Toronto. He is seriously considering the invitation.

Small Blaze Saturday
Overheated stove pipes, at the residence of A. C. Knapp, near Cataract bridge, caused a fire at 1.35 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. Paper on a wooden partition and ceiling caught fire. The damage is estimated at $20.

Weather Notes
Abnormally high pressure now covers the continent attended over Canada by decidedly cold weather. The extreme conditions continue in the west while from Ontario to the maritime provinces the prevailing high westerly winds accentuate the existing low temperature.

A Summer Carnival
It is proposed to have a summer carnival in Kingston this year, under the auspices of the Chateaux Association. It would be an occasion of music and speeches and recitations of an uplifting character. These carnivals are conducted in hundreds of places in the United States, and Canada is to be invaded this year.

Died in Victoria, B. C.
A telegram received in the city on Sunday morning conveyed the sad news of the death of Patrick Brown, in Victoria, B.C., on Friday. The deceased was the youngest son of the late Patrick Brown, of this city. His sister, who resides on Barrie street, received a letter and paper on Monday morning which had been posted a couple of days before his death.

Saturday Afternoon Recital
A recital by the Kingston Ladies Musical club was held in Convocation hall, Queen's, on Saturday afternoon. A miscellaneous programme had been arranged by the Misses Knight and Agnes Browne. Solos were most acceptably sung by Miss Waldron and Miss Helen Wood, while piano selections were rendered by Miss Knight, Miss Bessie Dolan, Miss Shaw and Miss Eileen Wright. Miss Christine Cochrane played on the violin in her usual pleasing manner.

Ried-McBroom Wedding
A wedding which came as a surprise to their many friends was solemnized on Monday, February 2nd, when Miss Florence McEale McBroom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McBroom, Rideau street, was united in marriage to Gilbert John Reid, of this city. Rev. J. W. McIntosh officiated. Both parties are well known in this city. Gilbert Reid played on Queen's senior rugby squad for two years.

Urgent Call for Workers
Rev. G. I. Campbell, on Sunday, in Queen Street Methodist church, presented the claims of the Christian ministry to the young people. There was an urgent call for workers. He pointed out the difficulties and disabilities in the work. It was a hard and strenuous life, but after all it was a glorious life, that of being a servant of Jesus Christ. Kingston, so highly privileged and the centre of so much intellectual life should send out a great many more young men into the ministry than she does.

Building All Winter
"This has been a great winter for the building trade," remarked a contractor to the Whig, on Saturday. He stated that not in many years had the weather been so favorable in the winter time, for work on the construction of houses.

"I have been putting up houses all winter," he added. "Of course there were many days too rough to work outside but on these days I could find plenty of work to do on inside work." Asked as to the prospects for building in the spring, contractors state that they are looking for a good season's work. One stated that he already had been given a contract to build two new houses.

B. S. Guess Still Living
B. S. Guess, of Harrowsmith, who was struck last Wednesday by a bale of hay thrown from the hay presser and paralyzed from his neck down, was still living on Monday, and is putting up a game fight. Dr. W. E. Wilkins, of Harrowsmith, the family physician, has been in constant attendance since the accident occurred.

Dr. Lockhart, who happens to be in Harrowsmith, and Dr. Ashcroft, the osteopath, are assisting Dr. Wilkins. Miss Guild, of Kingston, and Miss Abbott are the nurses in charge and, while the doctors consider the chances of recovery very slight indeed, everything possible is being done to improve Mr. Guess' condition.

The Necessary Knowledge
For the examination of your eyes and grinding the lenses you require is extensive. The optometrist—eyeglass specialist—must be a graduate of a recognized college, where he acquires a thorough understanding of mathematics, physics, and anatomy, physiology and ability to diagnose pathological conditions of the eye. This must be followed by practical experience in optical laboratories. H. C. Brown, Oph.D., optometrist, at the Rodger Optical Parlors says: "Several American universities have, in the past eight years, founded departments of optometry with a two-year course, for the scientific study of eye refraction without the use of drugs (drops)." Our optometrist, H. C. Brown, Oph.D., is a graduate and thoroughly experienced in optical science. His examinations are most thorough and the lenses ground are of the finest quality. Consult him, R. Rodger, "Where the Clock is on the Walk," 347 King street.
