Grand Trunk at Exposition The Grand Trunk system has receiv ed word from the chief of architecture the Panama-Pacific International exposition, that the design submitted for the Grand Trank building at this great event which takes place during the year 1915, has been approved. The information is of great importance, as being the first of the proposed Canadian railway buildings that will be erected at this exposition. It will in a way set the pace for the balance of the Railway Plaza in which this building is situated and where all the other Canadian railway buildings are to be placed. The group of buildings. therefore, will be of one design and all will follow the Grand Trunk style of architecture, which is taken from the Spanish Renaissance and which follows to a certain extent the general
