CRAWLED INTO CAVE THE SALES KEPT UP

AND BROUGHT OUT UNFORTUNATE HUMAN INMATE

Richard Henderson, a Cave Man, to be Placed in Asylum—He Calls Himself the Divine

On Wednesday The Whig had an article concerning a man by the name of Richard Henderson, who had met with an accident several years ago while lumbering, by a tree falling and injuring his skull, this affecting his mind. For a long time he has roamed about the woods in the vicinity of Perth road, on the north shore of Loughboro lake. This unfortunate harbors the thought that he is the Divine and calls himself Jesus Christ. People in that section of the country say that in the morning this cave man would come from his abode in the hill and raising his arms aloft, will crow like a rooster. At other periods of the day was heard barking like a dog. After living in this condition so long, and looking to nature to provide him a living, he has now begun to show signs of animal nature and the residents have at last come to the point where they deem it wise to have the authorities take the cave man in charge and place him in an asylum.

On Thursday Dr. Freeman, one of the two doctors who were called upon to test the man's mentality, went into the cave and found him without any fire. At the mouth of the cave there was a snowdrift which extended several feet into it and covered the floor to about a depth of four inches. Dr. Freeman crawled into the cave and found the man in one corner, huddled up and apparently sleeping. The doctor brought the man to the exterior, where he was found to be a peculiar looking object, with his hair hanging down his back and his whiskers looking as though they had never been cut. The man was later placed in a special room, where he will be detained until medical examination is completed. He will then be placed in an asylum.

Flooded With Sand

Prince Edward county is gradually getting swamped by the sand that is drifting in every year. In front of the volume of sand that is drifting in the county council has just memorialized the provincial legislature to have the area reforested in order to prevent the further encroachment upon the agricultural land of the affected district of east of Wellington. Prince Edward has been rather proud of these great sand dunes and the strange natural phenomenon they presented, but when it comes to giving up farm buildings, orchards, and choice land to the ever advancing drifts of white sand the expense is too great. If the government undertakes the reforestation of this barren area the experiment will be watched with great interest. At this distance it would look like a pretty tough proposition for the forestry experts.

Concert Held By W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. held a social at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Nash on Thursday evening and a goodly number attended. The speakers were Mrs. (Dr.) T. B. Scott, who is at present home on furlough from Ceylon; Mrs. Walker, the international organizer of the Independent Order of Good Templars, and Mrs. William Craig. Musical selections were rendered by Miss Agnes Brebner and Mrs. A. Brown. Votes of thanks was tendered Dr. and Mrs. Nash for their kindness in allowing the society to have the use of their home.

Trains Are Running

Passenger train service has been put into operation on the Grand Trunk Pacific railway between McBride, 1,135 miles west of Winnipeg, and Prince George, 1,279 miles west of Winnipeg, leaving McBride at 8 a.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, returning leaving Prince George 8 a.m. Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays. There is now only 116 miles of a gap west of Prince George to be completed of this great new transcontinental railway to link up the whole system from coast to coast.

Heavy Mail Delivery

A rather unusual sight was witnessed on King street, between Brock and Princess streets, on Friday morning. In this one block and at the one time, could be seen the representative of the rural mail, city mail and parcel post.

C. H. Baker, Concession, fell near the Belleville post office, broke his arm, and died of heart failure in the hospital.

Get Rid of Bronchitis

The worst feature of bronchitis is the tendency to return year after year until the system is worn out and gives way to consumption, or other ravaging disease.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine owes much of its great popularity to the fact that it positively cures bronchitis, and this is about as severe a test as can be made of a medicine of this kind.

Mr. W. H. Walker, Calmar, Alta., writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has done much good to myself, wife and children. My eldest girl, seven years, had bronchitis, and the doctor who attended her did not seem to do much good. We got Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for her and she soon got well. We always keep this medicine in the house now ready for use, and find that it soon cures coughs and colds."

In fighting diseases of the throat and lungs half the battle is in having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine at hand to be used promptly. This is why many people prefer to buy the large family size bottle.

THERE HAS BEEN CHANGE IN THE STYLES

More Original and Beautiful Designs are Now Purchased—Sales Have Been Very Much Higher This Year.

Kingston, Feb. 12.—(To the Editor): Referring to the news item in your paper of today, "Sales Not Large, St. Valentine's Day Losing Its Fond Followers," we beg to differ and to advise that following the custom of the United States, St. Valentine's day is now being looked on as the principal gift-giving day of the year and second only to that of Christmas. In former years the offensive comica and large lace affairs held full sway, while to-day none of these are seen in any of the first-class stationers; their place has been taken by enclosure cards, booklets, pictures, etc., as beautiful in their design as the original in their sentiment as the Christmas lines.

As regards a dropping off in sales we are pleased to advise that our sales for this season have been more than double those of last year and we have been obliged to write two large repeat orders. We have supplied Valentine table decorations for over twenty different parties for Monday next, included in which is one of over four hundred guests.—Yours, THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

The Edison Talking Pictures Create Much Interest

Edison's marvellous talking pictures created great interest at the Grand Opera House last evening. The programme presented was entirely new and embraced the beautiful scenes. An interesting feature on Edison's works was delivered with some illustrations, including music on the bells, violin playing and a song, "Coming Through the Rye," by a lady vocalist, distinct and sweet. Dolls Serving a Wait; Musical Blacksmiths; Fifth Avenue; Quarrel Scene from Julius Caesar; "Singing Society," with several German songs; "The Bride's Secret"; Anniversary of Jersey and Mandy's Silver Wedding, which was participated in by a jolly company and the village night, "Her Redemption," a religious scene, was very good. A fine comedy was introduced, "Mrs. Murphy's Horseshoe," and concluded with "Edison's Minstrels." The same bill will be presented to-night. An entire change of programme will be presented, both at matinee and evening entertainments on Saturday.

"Fine Feathers."

Eugene Walter, author of "Fine Feathers," which will be presented at the Grand Opera House for one performance, Thursday night, Feb. 19th, with its original all star cast, sails for London in April to consult with Sir Charles Wyndham regarding the production of this play at his theatre next fall. Those of Mr. Walter's plays, "The Eastest Way," "Paid in Full" and "The Wolf" have already been presented in London and not with considerable success. But it is expected that "Fine Feathers," is universal, and its action might occur in any home in any civilized land.

DEATH IN JEWELLER'S HOUSE

But the "Deceased" Was Only a Tom Cat.
"Whisper! Who mailed the dead cat?" comes from the Toronto department of the new parcel post system, for it has a mystery to solve. Someone, using a fictitious name and address on the corner of the package, mailed a dead tom-cat to a prominent legal gentleman of that city. The "remains" are now in the dead letter office there, where they are guarded from the gaze of the morbidly curious.
It is believed that there is a Kingston connection to this story. A young man who "had one slipped over him" on Friday morning, believes that he will bring to justice the person who mailed the package in Toronto.

This morning the reporter walked into one of the local jewellery stores and secured of one of the proprietors if it was true that there had been a death in his family.
A hearty laugh followed, and the scribe thought that the interviewed jeweller was "rather too jolly considering that he had been bereaved."
He was soon learned that the death had been that of a pet cat, which had been ill for some time. The jeweller had "phoned a local liveryman, asking him if he would be the undertaker."
The reporter took the joke in good part, but promises developments. It is understood that the body of the dead cat has disappeared.

14th Regimental Shooting

The following were the scores, out of a possible 28, of 14th Regimental company shooting at the armories on Thursday night:
"G" company—Lieut. I. Guttman, 27; Pte. J. Aveling, 26; Pte. W. Smith, 24; Pte. C. Saunders, 24; Pte. W. Hughes, 22; Pte. W. Boman, 19.
"H" company—Pte. G. Carr-Harris, 25; Pte. G. Francis, 18.
The composite company shoot will be held this (Friday) evening. "A" and "B" companies will shoot next Thursday evening.

Weather Notes

The cold wave is now centred in the Ottawa Valley, while a marked disturbance, situated in the lower Mississippi Valley is moving north-easterly. A few light snow falls have occurred in the western provinces. Light local snow is also falling over Toronto.

Miss M. A. Dickens, Belleville, died on Tuesday evening. She was a Methodist, the daughter of the late Benjamin Dickens, Thurlow, and was eighty years of age.
