

FIRST SYNOD CHARGE OF BISHOP BIDWELL

Delivered By His Lordship On Tuesday Afternoon

A SERIOUS PROBLEM IS THE VERY DEFENCE OF CHRISTIANITY

Against the Forces of Unbelief—The Unsatisfactory Attitudes of the Clergy Have a Deterrent Effect Upon Young Men.

At the Tuesday afternoon session of the Ontario Synod, Bishop Bidwell delivered the following charge: "In delivering this my first charge to the clergy and laity of the diocese, I feel that my foremost duty is to express both for you and myself the regret, present I am sure in the minds of all, that another should be called upon to address you instead of our beloved and respected diocesan. Yet we may thank God that he is still with us, and ready to offer whatever counsel his ripe experience may suggest towards the welfare of the diocese he has served so faithfully. We trust that he may long be spared to enjoy a well-earned rest from toil, and pray that his restoration to health may be maintained and preserved.

The chief feeling, in my own mind, is a sense of the great, and at times, almost overwhelming responsibility of the office entrusted to me by you. The care of all the churches is indeed a serious task, full of unceasing anxieties. But the burden can be, and is, greatly lightened for a bishop who has to support him the earnest prayers and affectionate loyalty of his people. I am counting on those prayers, and am depending upon that loyalty, which while quite compatible with occasional divergence of view, for no one is infallible, always stands by and behind the Bishop, recognizing that he is endeavoring to serve the diocese to the best of his ability, and that every loyalty cheering and encouraging him, as in no other way he can be cheered and encouraged, in his difficult work. Without you, your support, affection and encouragement, I can accomplish little; but with you, your prayers and loyalty, there is no task which I cannot undertake.

Provincial Synod of Ontario Before I turn to purely diocesan affairs, you will rightly expect me to offer some comment upon matters of interest to the church at large which have secured since the last meeting of our synod. I will give first place to an event in which this diocese is intimately concerned, the first meeting of the synod of the new ecclesiastical province of Ontario, inaugurated in Montreal in 1912 by separation of the dioceses of Toronto, Huron, Ontario, Niagara, Ottawa and Algoma from the old ecclesiastical province of Canada. The provincial synod, composed of delegates from each of these dioceses, met in Toronto last September. Apart from the historic interest attaching to such an occasion, the meeting was of considerable importance, not so much for anything it actually accomplished, as for the indications given by its proceedings that we have now an organization by which the Anglican church in this province can speak with one voice upon matters of general interest.

Buying With A Double Guarantee

When you buy a standard nationally advertised article from one of your local merchants, you are protected with a double guarantee. Added to the warrant of the manufacturer you have the protection of your own merchant. In a sense your storekeeper is your attorney in the transaction. He will make good to you and in turn look to the manufacturer to protect him. It is always best to do business with the merchants of your own town when they have the goods you want. They are in duty bound to see that you are satisfied. In choosing your home merchant it is the part of wisdom to patronize those who advertise. They are "daylight men" who have put themselves on record in print. They know they can make their advertising pay them only by making it pay you. As a rule their prices are lower than the others because the advertising brings them a much greater volume of business, enabling them to buy in larger quantities and thus at lower prices. There is no better guide for the thrifty pocket-book than the advertising columns of this newspaper.

COULDN'T GIVE MONEY

So Professor Bequeathed an Eye, Heart and Brain
Berlin, Feb. 17.—Professor Doerfler, of Vienna, has bequeathed one of his eyes, a "sick heart" and brain to the Phyletic Museum at Jena as a contribution to the foundation which will be established to-morrow on the occasion of the eightieth birthday of Professor Ernst Haeckel. Prof. Doerfler, who edits the magazine devoted to Haeckel's theories, writes he is so poor he cannot contribute anything except his corpse to the museum founded to Haeckel, "and not even all of that." The professor adds, "as my native town has secured by promise to let me preserve my ashes in a memorial urn; but there is nothing to prevent the transfer of one eye, my heart, and brain to the museum, which urgently requires anatomical exhibits for the purpose of establishing the truth of four great principles."

HE BURIED GOLD; WAS CALLED CRAZY

When in Asylum Gold Was Found Where He Said It Was
Dublin, Feb. 17.—An extraordinary find of hidden treasures was made at Ballycraig North, county Dublin, on Friday. A man was taken from the town to Richmond lunatic asylum some weeks ago, and since his confinement in the asylum has repeatedly asserted that he had hidden £200 in gold on the shores of Ballycraig.

The statement was regarded as evidence of the man's disturbed state of mind, but as he persisted in his assertion the authorities decided to test its accuracy. On Friday the men were taken in a taxicab to Ballycraig, where he pointed to a recess in the rocks, and there, lying on the ground, were two old bags which, on being opened, were found to contain £183 in gold. The man is now at liberty once more.

TANGO BARRED AT ELYSEE

Forbidden at Ball Given by President Poincaré
Paris, Feb. 17.—A final ban has been placed on the tango in the Elysee. From now until the end of the winter there is likely to be a great struggle for supremacy between the tango and the furlan. Paris ballrooms being the scenes of the battle.

TO MAKE AMENDMENTS TO THE STALLION ACT

Law Will Be Strengthened To Improve Breed Of Horses In Ontario
Toronto, Feb. 17.—Farmers and horse breeders will be interested in several proposed amendments to the stallion enrollment which will be brought out in the legislature this session. After two years of operation under the present act it has been found that the objects for which this legislation was designed could not be secured without compulsory registration. The enrollment board have found out that without compulsory registration and inspection many inferior breeds of horses will be perpetuated.

A large number of breeders have already taken advantage of the standing that registration gives their stallions, but others, whose animals are not sound and healthy, or of inferior breeding, have ignored the existing law because it places them at a disadvantage in competing with higher-class animals. It is understood that the department is anxious to eliminate all public stallions except those that pass a proper veterinary test and comply with certain regulations that will bring about a better class of breeding throughout the province, and acting on suggestions that have been made by the enrollment board, important amendments to the law will be made, the powers of the board widened and penalties for failing to comply with the regulations imposed.

DESIRE TO POSTPONE DAY OF RECKONING

And Get Another Lease Of Power Before Whitney Retires From Politics
Toronto, Feb. 17.—The reasons now being advanced for the likelihood of an election, to the effect that the conservative party will appeal to the electors, once more under the leadership, even inactive, of Sir James Whitney, raises most interesting questions. If this forecast is correct it shows that the split in the conservative party over the succession to Sir James Whitney, in the present at least, incapable of a peaceful solution and that a hurried election under the present prime minister is a necessity to keep the party together.

BILL DEFERRED; CORRIDORS AGOG

For an hour or so the atmosphere of parliament was somewhat electric, and it began to look as though something of an awakening was about to take place. STORM IN THE COMMONS OVER RAILWAY PULLING

The Calgary Member Starts A Row
MADE A DECLARATION
THAT CREATURES OF CORPORATE INFLUENCE

WERE AMONG THE MEMBERSHIP OF BOTH PARTIES—THE RAILWAY MEASURE THAT CAUSED THE TROUBLE STANDS OVER

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—Something approaching a return to the spectacle aroused parliament yesterday afternoon. Members lost their tempers momentarily and made charges and affirmations in the open of the house which are usually reserved for the secrecy of the cloisters and corridors.

HE RAISED AN ANGRY STORM IN THE CHAMBER, WHICH HAD SCARCELY SUBSIDED BEFORE DR. MICHAEL CLARK, (RED DEER, ALTA.) WAS ON HIS FEET CHARGING THAT SPECIAL CONSIDERATION WAS GRANTED IN BRUTEING RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION WHEN FAVORED LANDS IN THE WEST WERE TO BE TAPPED, BUT PROMISES OF RAILWAY FACILITIES TO HOMESTEADERS AND SETTLERS WERE EXTENDED BY THE WHOLESALE YEAR AFTER YEAR.

Then came Dr. D. B. Neely with the charge against the government that it had shown itself to be a mere servant of the railways in the matter of granting extensions to charters, notably the Canadian Northern projects, the Thunder Hill extension of which he instanced, as it passed through the constituency he represented. The hon. member made a direct charge in connection with this branch line. The house, he stated, had been assured in 1911, on the promise of Sir William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern, at the time he was seeking charter consideration, that this line should be proceeded with immediately, yet not a single move had yet been made.
