

THE LATE W. H. ALLEN

SON OF LATE CAPT. JAMES ALLEN, KINGSTON

Died in Hotel at Cripple Creek, Colorado — Tribute Paid Him by Assistant National Secretary of the Gideons.

The death occurred on Monday, Jan. 26th, at Cripple Creek, Colorado, of William Henry Allen, son of the late Captain James Allen, of Kingston. Mr. Allen had left Des Plaines, Ill., on a business trip through the state of Colorado. He was taken ill at a hotel in Cripple Creek on Saturday, Jan. 24th. The remains arrived in Des Plaines on Friday, Jan. 30th, and on Sunday, Feb. 1st, the funeral, which was in charge of the Masonic lodge, took place in the Congregational church. Interment was made in the town of Maine cemetery.

The late Mr. Allen was born at Cape Vincent, New York, August 1, 1868. When about four years of age his parents moved to Kingston, where he attended the public schools until about fifteen years of age. He was then sent to the St. Therese college, near Quebec, and later entered the Upper Canada college, Toronto. He sailed on the St. Lawrence river and Great Lakes until 1897. On September 5th, 1892, he was married to Maude R. Smith, who is left to mourn.

At the burial service, J. W. Weakley, national secretary of the Gideons, paid this tribute to the deceased:—

"The Gideons are commercial travelers going up and down the land calling upon the trade with the view of disposing of the goods handed by the houses they represent. At any time, the summons is likely to come to them by letter or telegram to return to the home office where they are transferred to some other field of activity or promoted to a higher position, and they are always ready to answer such calls.

"W. H. Allen, our brother, came into national headquarters on February 5 two years ago, with a face aglow which comes from the knowledge of sins forgiven, and rejoicing in the 'new birth.' He stated that while in San Francisco, he attended the revival services being conducted by Evangelist Gypsy Smith and there found Christ, and was 'born again' into the new life. He met a friend who knew of the Gideons, and he was advised when he returned to Chicago to unite with them, and said he 'Here I am.' His application was taken and Feb. 9 his card and button were handed him. He wasted no time in entering the active service of the Master. He was very intense, earnest in whatever he did or said. People frequently imagined he was angry because of his intense earnestness. I have been associated with him pretty intimately for the past two years and have never seen him angry.

"He was outspoken in his opinions and people were never uncertain as to where he stood. He was always ready to speak a word for the Master, and was instant in season and out of season. His voice was always raised in testimony in Gideon meetings whenever opportunity offered. His outspoken, uncompromising nature is illustrated by two incidents. In the early summer of 1912, the Illinois Gideons held their state convention in Freeport, and at its close, Brother Allen visited a neighboring town and went to see a merchant to whom he had formerly sold goods. He found several men in the office, and in conversation with the proprietor, the latter said: 'Allen, you are a changed man. What has happened?' Will told of his experience in San Francisco, and how the Lord for Christ's sake had pardoned his sins, and that he was now a new creature in Christ Jesus, and there for a little time in that office, with those men, he preached Christ, and Him crucified.

"On another occasion, while on the road, he was in a hotel lobby when a commercial traveller was indulging in profane language. Will promptly rebuked him for taking the name of his Saviour in vain. He was saluted with a volley of abuse from the offender, which he received with a smile, saying: 'I am no better than my Master, who was vilified, abused and spit upon, and I rejoice that I am counted worthy to endure such things for His sake,' and there in the presence of a number of travelling men and others, he did not hesitate to 'preach Christ and Him crucified.' After the incident was over several persons came to him and commended his action. 'I am wondering if he here today would have had sufficient courage to adopt such a course of action, but Will had the courage of his conviction, and never hesitated to let people know that he was a saved man.

"In the last letter I received from SUFFER NO LONGER! KEPHALDOL Has Now Come to Canada Sufferers from Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis, Headaches, Neuritis and kindred agonising ailments may now find speedy, welcome relief and certain cure. At last the victims of these torturing complaints—men and women whose lives are long-drawn-out agony—may look with hope—confidence—certainty—to pain's most glad departure. him, he said, 'Beloved, your prayers are very dear to me. I need them. I love John Weakley because he understands me and I understand him.' 'I shall miss my brother—our brother. A moment ago I remarked that the travelling man frequently receives a summons to return to the office. Brother Allen received his summons from his employer, and was ready when the call came.' Mr. Weakley was followed by the pastor of the church, Rev. Leggett, then the Mason took charge. The members a large number of whom turned out, marched to the late home of the deceased from whence the remains were escorted to the Congregational church where the services were held.
