DR. L. CLEMENTS DEAD DR. ZWEMER'S ADDRESS

VETERAN KINGSTON DENTIST PASSED TO REST

On Wednesday Morning — Deceased Was in Active Practice in Kingston For Over Fifty Years.

The passing away of Dr. Leonard Clements on Wednesday morning was received with regret and surprise by his many friends and acquaintances about the city, for he had been out as usual Monday, but was stricken down at night. The aged dentist sank gradually until the end came shortly before noon. For the past few years Dr. Clements had been in failing health, and once lay at death's door.

The late doctor, who was eighty-two years of age, occupied a worthy place in the esteem of citizens of Kingston, which he had made his place of practice and home for decades. His widow and two daughters, Mrs. E. M. March and Mrs. F. H. Macneil, of this city, survive.

In September, 1907, the late Dr. Clements completed fifty years of practice as a dentist in this city. He began here on September 20th, 1857, and at the time of his golden jubilee he was one of the most active dentists in Canada. On the occasion of attaining the half century mark he was probably the longest in actual practice in the whole country. At that time to commemorate the jubilee event the Kingston dentists held a dinner at which Dr. Clements was the guest of honor, and to whom they presented a handsome easy chair. Dr. E. E. Sparks read the address and Dr. A. W. Winnett made the presentation.

Dr. Clements began practice in Kingston on the site of the present Bank of Commerce. He then moved to the building on Wellington street formerly occupied by the late Clark Wright. For eleven years, in the seventies and eighties, the deceased was an alderman, representing Ontario ward. He was a member of St. George's cathedral congregation.

The late doctor was born in Berthier, Que., and received his education in the French language, which he spoke fluently. For one so long in dental practice, he was a remarkable man. His good health, at that time, he often attributed to out-door exercise. His health failing shortly afterwards, he retired from practice.

His instruction in dentistry he obtained in Ogdensburg, N. Y. When he came to Kingston in 1857 there was but one dentist here, the late Dr. Day, whose death occurred in California. There were then just fifty dentists in Ontario.

The deceased was for the past forty-eight years a member of Ancient St. John's lodge, No. 3, A. F. and A. M. of this city.

Sudden Death of H. Wartman
Death came very suddenly to Henry Wartman, aged sixty-four years, who resided on the Front Road, on Wednesday morning, at 9.30 o'clock. The deceased had not been feeling very well for the past three days, but was around the home as usual on Wednesday morning. He is survived by his widow and three sons. The deceased was a member of Sydenham Street Methodist church.

ON OPPORTUNITIES IN THE MOSLEM WORLD

Three Continents to Invite a Struggle for Christ Against Mohammedanism—The Latter World Ceasing to be a Unit.

To an audience of Queen's students, which nearly filled Grant hall, Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer, F.R.G.S. of Cairo, Egypt, delivered a forceful address on the "Present Day Opportunity of the Moslem World," on Tuesday evening. Upon this subject, the facts of which he has first-hand knowledge, the doctor is an authority. He is the author of "The Moslem World," and was for over twenty years a missionary in Africa. He, a convincing speaker, handles his subject in an illuminating way, and on Tuesday evening, when dealing with the different aspects of it, he treated it in a world-wide sense. According to the speaker the opportunities presented at the present time for mission work among the followers of Islam are unprecedented, owing, for one thing, to the inroads of western civilization.

Next to the evangelization of the 400,000,000 Chinese comes the Moslem world, said Dr. Zwemer. A problem, difficult, neglected, baffling, is the one in relation to the Mohammedan peoples. There never was a time, said the doctor, when the whole world was confronted with this problem as to-day. The powers of Asia, Europe and the United States are facing it, and looking for the solution.

Dr. Zwemer at this point dwelt upon the attitude of the secular press against Islam, and on the other hand, the publications, in different countries by the Mohammedans themselves. This, the most neglected of all mission problems, has been lifted up before the world, the missionary held, qualifying his contention with a wonderful resume of conditions among the followers of Mohamet in various lands. "The warfare is in the open," he said. "It is either Islam or Christianity."

Dr. Zwemer's second point was that the true facts of the case were not known, not from the lips of missionaries alone, but by the testimony of the Mohammedans themselves. The rottenness, and its utter inadequacy to meet the requirements of the moral, social and religious nature of its millions are known.

We know also, continued the doctor, the dimensions of the problem, which is disputing with Christianity the possession of these continents invite a struggle for Christ against Mohammedanism.

Another helpful factor the speaker mentioned was the fact that the Mohammedan world is ceasing to be a unit. At one time it was bound firmly together, but now disintegration has set in. There is a passion for education, the doctor pointed out. The Bible is being widely distributed and read.

Another evidence of the opportunity Dr. Zwemer alluded to was gratifying actual results of missionary work. He called for more interest in missions among the Mohammedans, and volunteers for the work.

Principal Gordon, who was in the chair, gave Dr. Zwemer a cordial welcome and introduction, saying that he was recognized as one who had especially won his way to the hearts of students.

Dr. Zwemer spoke to the Y.W.C.A. in Convocation hall in the afternoon.
