QUEEN'S AND MCGILL MEET FRIDAY EVENING

A Win For Queen's Will Give it the Championship — Glenburnie Wins the S. S. Corbett Trophy.

Queen's senior hockey team, which meets McGill at the covered rink, on Friday evening will have the same line-up as met Varsity two weeks ago. Quigley, who has been out of the game for the past ten days, as a result of an injured shoulder, which he received in Toronto, will be back in the game. A win for Queen's tomorrow night will give it the Inter-collegiate championship. Both Varsity and McGill have lost two games, whereas Queen's will have won all three. Varsity comes to the city a week from Friday to play a postponed game. Queen's team will line up as follows: Goal, Ray Smith; defence, Quigley and W. Smith; rover, L. Smith; centre, Box; wings, Dobson and McKinnon.

POLICE COURT CASES

HUSBAND ARRAIGNED FOR ASSAULTING HIS WIFE

The Accused Goes on the "Indian" List — Four Cases of Inspection of the City By-Laws Heard.

In the police court, on Thursday morning, a husband, arraigned for assaulting his wife, agreed, on the advice of magistrate Farrell, to go on the Indian list. In the past there has been family trouble. It was the old story. The man admitted that he had been drunk when the incident in question occurred. After hearing a little from each side the magistrate, realizing the chief cause of the trouble, asked of the defendant: "Are you prepared to go on the 'Indian' list?" "Yes, sir, I am."

He signed a bond for $100 to keep the peace, particularly towards his wife. Magistrate Farrell counseled him and his wife, who have been twelve years together, to adjust matters, and preserve their home for the sake of their children, if not for themselves. The story of the man created some amusement in court. He said that after coming home drunk he was going upstairs with a lamp when his wife threw five boots at him. The court inquired if he was sure there were not six, for a drunken man cannot always count correctly. But the defendant said that he found them on the stairs in the morning. After the "bombardments" on the stairs there were, apparently, other developments.

Four other cases for infractions of city by-laws were heard and disposed of. A young man was fined $5 and costs, with the option of twenty days' jail, for driving a hack without a driver's permit. In two cases men were fined $2 and costs or fifteen days, for infractions of the traffic by-law. Another paid $3 and costs for the same. The first two pleaded guilty, but it cost the last $1 extra to have Constable J. Naylor testify.
