

ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK

FOR THE ANGLICAN SUNDAY SCHOOLS REPORTED

Delegates Elected to General Synod and Mission Board—The Salary of Bishop Bidwell Fixed at $4,000 a Year.

The outlook for the work of the Sunday schools of the Anglican church is a most encouraging one, was the cheering message Rev. R. A. Hiltz, M.A., Toronto, general secretary of the Sunday school commission, gave to the members of the Ontario Synod, at the Wednesday afternoon session.

Mr. Hiltz said that there was everything to encourage the workers. While it was a work of many discouragements, it was also a work of many encouragements, and the speaker felt that the workers were inclined to dwell too much on the discouragements. Even the most pessimistic must admit that the church was much wider awake now than ever before to the importance of the work. Progress has been slow, but certain.

"We are at last listening to the challenge the child is putting forth," said the speaker. "It is most encouraging to know that the church is listening to this challenge. There are many problems and we are making good progress."

Reports of Committees

The report of the Sunday school committee was submitted by Rev. H. H. Bedford-Jones. The report stated that it was expected that another series of conferences would be held this spring, likely in May, by the general secretary of the Sunday school commission.

The Children's day offerings amounted to over $382.00. This is a distinct increase over any previous year. The Sunday school commission is anxious to extend and improve its power of reaching and helping schools throughout the whole church, and for that purpose is asking for more funds. The committee believes a further increase would take place if parishes were told what might be expected from them, and would all bring the matter before the congregations as a whole, and not merely before the Sunday schools themselves.

The committee's report says: "In Leeds deanery an advance has been made in the organization. Superintendents have been appointed for a number of the departments suggested in the canon, and improvements have been introduced in several of the schools. Arrangements have also been made for holding a Sunday school conference in connection with the meetings of the rural-deanery chapter twice a year with the special object of stimulating the work of the local Sunday schools which can thus be reached. Two were held during 1913, and plans are in hand for another. It is recommended to the other deanery chapters to try the same plan. A teacher training course is likely to be held at Port Hope towards the end of June, and your committee hopes that a considerable number of the teachers may avail themselves of it. The supply of teachers, assisted in becoming more efficient in their work, as well as adequate in numbers, is probably the greatest need of our Sunday school system at the present time.

Our diocese was represented in the examination for teachers at Whiteside, and also in that for scholars in advent; in the former they did remarkably well, in the latter the results are not yet issued."

Canon Beamish reported for the Rectory Lands Committee. There is a debit balance, Jan. 2nd, 1914, of $2,026.15, and $13,154.30 was paid to the rectors. Two and one-half per cent. half-yearly was realized.

Rural Dean Jones also reported for the Clergy Trust fund.

The synod passed a resolution, submitted by G. F. Rutman, fixing the salary of Bishop Bidwell, at $4,000 per year and travelling expenses.

On motion of Canon W. Roberts, a committee will be appointed to revise the list of ordinations as given at the end of the Synod Journal of 1911. The list will be revised and corrected and placed printed in the Journal for 1915.

The following motion of the chancellor regarding insurance, was adopted:

"The churchwardens of every parish and mission shall keep the church, parochial school and parochial hall insured in some responsible company to at least two-thirds of the value thereof, and shall report in writing to the rural dean the name of the company, the amount and nature of the premium, and how payable.

"The rural dean shall furnish the secretary of the synod a copy of the said report, or, in default of the same having been received by him, shall report such default to the secretary of synod who shall report the same to the lord bishop of the diocese.

"In case of a loss the insurance money shall be paid to the synod to be held in trust for the parish or mission concerned, for the purpose of repair, or rebuilding, as the case may be."

A CURLING RECORD BY MARSHALL P. REID

The Toronto Star Thinks Oshawa Will Win From the Frontenacs at Belleville This Evening.

Marshall P. Reid, one of the members of the local curling club, established a record last week which will keep any of the other members bustling if they think they can break it. During the course of nine hours Mr. Reid played three games. The games consisted of fifty-three ends of six stones each, a total of 318 stones. Each stone weighed fifty pounds. The distance of travel of each stone was about forty feet, which would mean a total distance of seven or eight miles.

Nearly every stone which was shot was followed by Skip Reid which meant that he travelled about seven or eight miles, during the games. Three brooms and one pair of rubbers were put out of commission.

Ald. R. D. Sutherland and J. B. Cook were evidently trying to break a record on Tuesday morning, when they played two games in succession. Some of their fellow-curlers are wondering what these same enthusiasts would say if their wives asked them to wear out two or three brooms during the spring cleaning-time, or else move about seven tons of coal from the cellar at their homes.

That Salted Ice

Toronto Globe

Ottawa hockey club complains that it is handicapped on the artificial ice at the local arena. Let's see; didn't somebody once accuse Ottawa of putting salt on the ice at the capital in a Stanley Cup game? The arena management might permit the use of a little salt to suit Ottawa. First thing you know the artificial surface will be used as the basis of a protest.

A CLOCK WITH ONE HAND.

A new clock, or dial, has been patented which may be placed on any clock and by removing the hour hand on the hour spindle transforming the clock into a one-hand, easy-to-read time teller. Children have difficulty in telling the time by two-handed clocks, and those who have occasion to send a child into the house for the time can hardly ever be sure that the youngster does not confuse the "long" and "short" hands. The accompanying illustration shows how simple is the device by which, neither dark days, glare on the glass of the clock face, or a child's inability to distinguish between hour and minute hands can prevent correct time reading. In this there is no possibility of one mistaking, for instance, 12.05 for 1 o'clock.—From Popular Mechanics.

Longboat's Mother Dead

Friends of Tom Longboat, the Indian long-distance runner, will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Longboat, the runner's mother, at the Six Nations reserve, Caledonia.

Deceased was seventy years of age and is survived by two sons and two daughters in addition to Tom. Her husband pre-deceased her some years ago. The late Mrs. Longboat passed away in the home built for her by the famous runner with his first earnings as a professional at Kingston.

SIR IAN SCENTS DANGER

Sees Australia Menaced by Ring of Armed Nations

London, Feb. 19.—Speaking at a civic reception at Sydney, N.S.W., Sir Ian Hamilton declared that the nation's powers were arising now that it had got within the range of potential interference, and it might well be that the next phase of military struggles would be in the Pacific.

"Cast your eyes west, northeast and east," said Sir Ian, "and you will see a ring of armed men and armed nations, with Australia sitting in the middle of that ring. It appears to me that some of those nations are looking in a formidable manner at Australia. It is therefore important that the people of Great Britain, South Africa, Canada and India should know and feel that in what I may call the hub of the Pacific people are not waiting until danger actually arrives, but are taking time by the forelock."

AT THE GRAND

"Fine Feathers" Will be the Feature Tonight

The large and brilliant audience that will assemble at the Grand Opera House to-night to see the first local presentation of Eugene Walter's famous play, "Fine Feathers," undoubtedly anticipates a performance of unusual quality—and from all reports none will be disappointed. During the metropolitan engagement of "Fine Feathers" attention was shared by the play, which is described as the masterpiece of Eugene Walter, and the cast, which is the finest ever assembled for a modern drama. The fact that Eugene Walter is the author of "Paid in Full," "The Easiest Way," "The Wolf" and "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and "Fine Feathers" is pronounced his best work, speaks volumes for the play. But with every part in the hands of a star, even the casual attendant of the theatre can imagine the wonderful performance in store.

The engagement is for the Thursday night performance only.

"A Butterfly on the Wheel"

A splendid attraction will be "A Butterfly on the Wheel" which will appear at the Grand on Saturday, Feb. 21st, bargain matinee and night.

One of the greatest successes of the past season was this play in New York at the 39th Street Theatre, where it duplicated its triumph in London and that it will meet with deserved favor here is a foregone conclusion, since its theme is an appeal that interests everyone, and interpreted by such a cleverly selected company cannot but result in its approval.

"A Butterfly on the Wheel" is a play that teaches a great moral lesson, that practically appeals to women, and shows in a direct way how small things and insignificant actions may magnify themselves when done thoughtlessly.

Lawrence Irving in "Typhoon"

Melchior Lengyel's "Typhoon" has certainly justified its title by within no less than three years of its composition sweeping over Europe to the United States and now visiting Canada under the auspices of the British Canadian Theatre Organization Society.

The principal character, that of a young Japanese entrusted by his government with a very weighty and perilous mission, has been played in Paris by the celebrated character actor, M. de Max, in Berlin by Herr Ching, in New York by Walter Whiteside, described as the American Martin Harvey, in Stockholm by Ivan Hegdqvist, and Frederick Harrison has chosen for the English representative of the part Laurence Irving.

FROZEN IN RIGGING

WHILE CAPTAIN WAS WASHED OVERBOARD

Zero Weather Benumbs Life-Savers, Rendering Them Incapable of Handling Breeches Buoy Tackle

Wellfleet, Mass., Feb. 19.—Captain Garva and four seamen of the Italian barque Castagna perished when their vessel was thrown on the outer bar of Cape Cod near the Marconi wireless station just before dawn yesterday. The first mate and seven sailors were rescued by life-savers, one of whom, Captain Tobin, of the Coboons Hollow life-saving station was badly injured by the overturning of the surf boat. The skipper of the Castagna was washed overboard, three men were frozen to death in the rigging, and one died in the surf boat on the way to shore. The loss of life was the largest in a wreck on Cape Cod in twelve years.

The Castagna from Montevideo for Boston with phosphate rock, struck the bar during a blinding snowstorm and sixty-mile northwest gale. The beach patrol sighted her at dawn 300 yards off shore, with the surf breaking over her and threatening to pound her to pieces.

The combined life-saving crews from the Nauset and Coboons Hollow stations set up their beach gun and shot three lines across the Castagna's deck, but the seavers were benumbed by the cold that they were unable to handle the breeches buoy tackle.

The gale had moderated to 30 miles an hour, but the surf was so high that the life-savers had to wait some time before they could launch their lifeboat and pull out to the wreck against wind, sea and biting cold. Seven men helpless from exposure to the wintry gale were found on board, and lashed to the rigging were the bodies of Captain Garva and three men who had succumbed to the cold. The life-savers placed the living seamen in their boat, and rowed back to the shore, one dying on the trip. The survivors were carried to the Marconi station, where medical attention was given them. All were so greatly overcome by exposure that none could give a coherent account of the disaster.

JESUS AND PAUL IN DRAMA

George Moore Purposes to Contrast Their Personalities

London, Feb. 19.—George Moore purposes to write a drama in which the personalities of Christ and St. Paul are contrasted. The scene is to be laid in Palestine.

In order to study the country and obtain accuracy of detail, Mr. Moore is about to start for Jerusalem. "What I should like to describe," he says, "is the contrast between the two characters—between an ironical mystic—that is Jesus—and Paul, the man in the full tide of belief."

"That is what I am going to try to write. I don't say I shall succeed, and I think I shall write it first as a story. That will enable me to become familiar with the subject, to 'get into' it. The play will follow later."

GIRLS! CLEAN AND BEAUTIFY HAIR NO DANDRUFF--25 CENT DANDERINE

STOP WASHING HAIR! TRY THIS! MAKES IT GLOSSY, SOFT AND ABUNDANT.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair-Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil. In a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25c bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.
