

QUEEN'S CHAMPIONS

WON FROM MCGILL BY FOUR GOALS TO THREE

McGill Claims the Score Was a Tie - No Matter Which Way it Went, Queen's Gets the Championship.

Although no official announcement has been made as to the correct score of the senior intercollegiate game between Queen's and McGill here on Friday night, the hockey championship for this year practically comes to Queen's. Arthur Brouse, of the Frontenacs, who officiated, has not declared the winner, but has made a report to the union for it to decide.

From Queen's standpoint McGill was squeezed out by four goals to three, which would decide the guardianship of the championship. But McGill contends that the score was a tie four all, their last counter registered in the last five seconds of play. There is a difference of opinion upon the full time, this goal being scored by the red and white after the bell at the time the referee had sounded, but not heard by the referee or all the players.

After the teams had left the ice a large part of the crowd waited for the assurance that the championship was Queen's, which goal was argued out in the officials' room. The claim of McGill is to the effect that the bell for full time was sounded fifteen seconds too early. James Bews was Queen's timer, while J. Kennedy, of Montreal acted in that capacity for McGill. The McGill's alleged fourth goal was scored in excess of the hour, as Queen's timer holds, McGill scored its fourth and tying goal, ten seconds after the first gong. Hughes, the visiting captain, with others, talked it over with the Queen's representatives.

But the red and white will not forget this matter until the outcome of the Queen's-Varsity game is known. If Queen's go down before Toronto (and Varsity will have to come over with something of which she is not the calibre this season), McGill may try to have the tie upheld by the union, and the game replayed. There will be no protest.

Queen's played a dashing game. They showed great form in skating and back-checking.

Notes on the Game. Although, in the first half, Queen's had three shots on the McGill goal, Mann was right there with his horse shoes. He stopped dozens, and cleared the rubber in good style.

In the second period Queen's developed brilliant form, at different times. For periods Queen's defence resisted almost everything, and the forwards awarded in and out between big Ramsay Rankin and Hughes, and worried the McGill goal tend.

The penalties awarded were for minor offences. But wearing on the second half things at times were fairly deliberate. The players who got chances to feel the soft side of the penalty box were: Davidson, Box, Masson, Rankin, McKinnon, Ryley, and Parsons (for hetic tactics), and Masson.

Owing to an injured foot Dummitte retired in the first half, after sixteen minutes' going. Parsons, the young freshman, McGill put on, played a great game. He went on at rover, and Ryley moved over to left wing.

The play, although it could not be called a model exhibition of the game, was fast, and taken as a whole, very interesting. The rink was filled. Queen's team, to a man, acquitted itself in good style. The tri-color collegians, lighter in weight, held the pace for every stretch.

In spite of their repeated attacks on goal, and short shots being directed after Box, "Len" Smith, McKinnon and Dobson had got through the big McGill defence. Mann saved ten after tally. At the same time Smith, the Queen's goal tender, had during the entire game, scores of opportunities to exhibit his skill. And "Len" was sure there every time.

The first goal of the game went to McGill. Hughes carried the rubber up into Queen's territory and shot. The puck struck the wire behind, and it bounded back. From a scramble in front of the goal Davidson scored.

lar Furber as well as taking care of his defence. With fifteen minutes gone, the way Queen's was getting the puck out of their opponents' plays was wonderful. They were checking hard. McGill players were very dangerous when they got away.

Rankin soon began to come down with his forwards. On one of his rushes with two others he scored, but it was called back on off-side. Dobson then got the rubber back in class style, but Mann was carefully guarding his nets.

Rankin gave Smith a hard shot in the chest, when he again gained the vicinity of the nets. But Smith cleared it. Injury to a rib from this shot was attended to by Dr. Hanley at half time. When W. Smith checked Rankin on one occasion the towing defence man measured his full length on the ice.

Queen's finished the first half in great form, but no score resulted. McGill had the bulge on Queen's in the first of the second half, with Hughes the pivot of "operations." But Queen's revived from the spasms of listlessness. For their second ringer McKinnon passed to Box, Box shot, and McKinnon banged in the rebound from Mann's net.

At the time of Queen's third, the one which tied up the score—greeted as it was with loud applause—"Len" Smith was playing a horse of a game. He worked down the right wing and scored on a well-directed shot.

In the last period delays were caused by injured to Masson, Parsons, Quigley, Box, "Len" Smith and Davidson, but all re-entered the play. With McKinnon in the penalty box, Box scored Queen's fourth goal. Twenty-five minutes of the half was gone. McGill, with Rankin almost altogether in the line, made desperate efforts to again tie up the score. But not before time was called did they achieve this.

The Score Summary First half: McGill, Davidson, 5 1/2 min; Queen's, L. Smith, 5 min; McGill, Davidson, 11 mins. Second half: McGill, Hughes, 2 min; Queen's, McKinnon, 4 min; Queen's, L. Smith, 3 min; Queen's, Box, 16 min.

EVERY WIFE'S DUTY

Watch Husband's Hair. If Thin or Full of Dandruff Insist On His Using Parisian Sage

Men in a class gave but little thought to the care of the hair. Not until it comes out by the comb, or some friend remarks that they are getting bald, do they really take notice—then it may be too late. If your husband's hair is getting thin; if he has dandruff, or the scalp itches, take immediate action—do not let him become a bald head.

Get from your drug or toilet counter a 50c. bottle of Parisian Sage. It contains the exact elements to supply hair and scalp needs. The first application removes all dandruff—the great hair destroyer. A little Parisian Sage rubbed well into the scalp for a few nights will work wonders. When the hair stops falling and the new growth appears use every other night until the hair is thick and abundant.

Parisian Sage is a delightful and invigorating hair tonic for men, women and children. It is a scientific preparation based on a thorough knowledge of what is needed by the hair and scalp to keep them perfectly healthy and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Surgely try Parisian Sage. J. B. McLeod sells it with an agreement to return your money if not satisfied. Look for the trademark—"The Girl with the Auburn Hair." Accept no other.

Eczema Only Skin Deep

A few skin troubles originate in the blood. But a very few, Dr. Evans, ex-Commissioner of Health, and a famous writer on medical subjects, says: "We shall begin to make headway with skin diseases when we learn two things: first, that skin disease does not come from impure blood; second, that so-called blood purifiers have no such action." The skin can be cleared up and the most intolerable itching and burning stopped, by local treatment, applied directly to the parts affected. Make up your mind to start now and give yourself a smooth, velvet complexion. You can do it with the aid of the wonderful D. D. D. Prescription, a cooling, refreshing lotion—not a salve or grease. It soothes your tender skin, opens the pores, drives out the old impurities and gives you a skin like a baby's—smooth and clear. We sell D. D. D. on a positive no-pay guarantee.
