SALVATION ARMY BAND

GIVE A FINE CONCERT ON MONDAY EVENING

Mayor Shaw Presided—The Programme Was One of Merit—A Large Audience Was Present.

The Salvation Army Citadel was taxed Monday evening to its utmost capacity with an audience to witness the musical programme presented by the Salvation Army band, which is endeavoring to raise funds to increase its numbers and secure new instruments. The programme was highly creditable to the instruction of Bandmaster Christmas and to the individual members composing that splendid organization. Mayor Shaw presided and gave a practical address. After prayer by Captain Smith, who in a few brief remarks introduced the mayor. His worship remarked that it was worth while to preside over a gathering where the glorious gospel was proclaimed to the people.

The first number was by the juniors, "O Canada," Master Arthur Christmas taking the solo. "Mel-borne," a march, was played by the band. Miss Edna Treneer rendered a fine recitation, with vocal accompaniment, which was warmly received. Mrs. (Captain) Smith sang sweetly, "Remembrance," her voice being clear and distinct. A selection by the string band followed, and Bandman J. Hughes played a very fine solo on the euphonium, which was applauded. The male choir sang "The Old Brigade," the audience joining in the chorus with spirit, at the invitation of the mayor. A Bible reading (the 91st Psalm), by Captain Smith, followed. The next was a band selection, "Saving Grace," in which fine solos were given by several bandmen. The gem of the evening was played by Mrs. Downey on the violin, "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Her playing and handling of the bow was the work of an expert on that instrument. Those who had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Downey play on previous occasions gave her a warm reception. A vocal selection, "The Fountain," was splendidly rendered. Miss Edna Treneer again favored the audience with a humorous recitation, "Deacon Green's Daughter." Bandman Fraude was at home in his solo, "Love Eternal," and deserved the laurels he received. Bandman Wilkinson's "Men of Harlech," a bass solo, was fine. The male choir gave a fine song, "Rolling By," with much taste and feeling. A beautiful saxophone solo, "How I Love Him," with vocal accompaniment, by Bandman W. Rogers, was much enjoyed. Another band selection, "Comrades Frac," and the National Anthem, closed the proceedings.

KINGSTON CANOE CLUB

Held Another Pleasant Dance on Monday Night

Three hundred young people enjoyed to the limit the pleasure and fascination of the dance in the city hall on Monday night. It was the occasion of another of the season's events of the Kingston Canoe Club, which is composed of a number of very sociable and energetic young men.

The music of a Ganoquo orchestra, engaged on account of the Kingston orchestra not being available for the night, with the splendour of the floor surface, lent all necessary for delightful "ripping to the light fantastic," and twenty numbers, with repeated encores, were thoroughly enjoyed. The arrangement of the platform, as a camp scene, with the "moon with eyes on the company" from over the tent for the two moon dances was most artistic. The sides of the hall were also arranged with paddles, cushions and pennants. Dancing concluded about one o'clock Tuesday morning. A number were present from out of town.

The event was voted a decided success and the committee in charge was W. Milne, H. G. Cooke, A. W. Brundage, G. Sargent, C. Rogers, W. Johnston, T. Sherrill.

The late T. J. Moher Word was received Tuesday morning that Dr. T. J. Moher, superintendent of Cobourg asylum, had passed away at his residence in Cobourg. The late Dr. Moher was well-known in Kingston. He is survived by his wife and one son, Murray Moher, who is a second year student in medicine at Queen's university. The remains will be taken to Peterboro on Wednesday, where a requiem mass will be held for the repose of his soul at St. Peter's cathedral, Bishop O'Brien officiating. The remains will then be placed in the Roman Catholic vault at that place.

Milder Weather Promised The weather man was a little more considerate today. In his probabilities he stated that on Wednesday there would be a rise in the temperature.

William Sulzer has instituted legal proceedings before Justice Alden Chester, of the United States supreme court with the purpose of regaining the governorship from which he was removed last October. JUMPED HIS PAROLE

POLICE ARE LOOKING FOR YOUTHFUL CONVICT

James Foley, Released as Result of Action Taken by Prison Reform Commission, Took Flight From Mining Camp—His Case May Interfere With Liberty of Others.

The police in the different centres have been asked to look for James Foley, the lad who was allowed out of the Portsmouth penitentiary on parole a short time ago, to work in a mining camp near Sudbury. It will be remembered that Foley was one of the witnesses called before the prison reform commission. He is about sixteen years of age. The commission considered his case, and as a result he was allowed to leave the big prison under the parole system. Although the police have been endeavoring to locate the missing lad, up till the present, no trace of him has been found. The young man was released by the government in charge of an instructor as an experiment in dealing with youthful convicts, but this is the second time he has run away. On the first occasion he was captured and the prison committee consented to give him another chance to make good. Foley was given a good position, so it is stated, being employed as camp chore boy. He started at $25 a month, receiving in addition his board and everything found. An encouragement he was advanced to $30 a month, but he showed a disposition to be lazy and availed himself of the first opportunity to take French leave. He was well treated, both by his employers and fellow workers.

The result of the first experiment in paroling convicts in this way is considered most unfortunate, since the action of Foley may make the government cautious in paroling others, and it is known that the commission was considering the feasibility of sending fifty boys and young men to mining and railway construction camps during the coming summer. It is believed, however, that an example will be made of Foley as a warning to others. Although the first attempt has proved discouraging, the prison commission is not expected to abandon its novel reform scheme without further experiment. It is understood that two more young men are soon to be paroled, but they will be chosen with great care and will be kept under close surveillance.

DIED IN RENFREW

The Late Mrs. M. Albright Formerly of Kingston. On Monday night a lady highly esteemed by her friends in a number of Ontario places where she has resided, passed away in Renfrew, in the person of Eliza Rice, wife of Moses Albright. The demise of the deceased terminated an illness of nearly two months' duration, for it was on December 24th last that she became ill. Since that time she has remained in a more or less critical condition, in spite of medical skill, the attention of nurses, and the care of her daughters.

The late Mrs. Albright, who was possessed of a gentle and retiring disposition, lived in Kingston for a period some seven or eight years ago, while her husband was with the Kingston Hosiery company. From here they removed to Walkerton, and then to Renfrew. The deceased was a Methodist.

Surviving with Mr. Albright are two daughters, Mrs. C. S. Anglin, Wellington street, of this city, and Miss Mabel, at home. The remains will be brought here for interment. Mrs. Anglin has been in Renfrew during the illness of her mother.
