Men out of work, sick, tempted or in trouble of any kind will always find the pastor to be "a man's man" that fully studies the problems of men and is anxious to be a practical friend and big brother to all, especially the man that is down. Church motto for 1914, "Business in Religion and Religion in Business."

AT THE GRAND

To-night Nat C. Goodwin Will be Attraction

Nat C. Goodwin, who comes to the Grand to-night in "Never Say Die," a farcical comedy in three acts, by William Post.

This successful comedy is believed by both Mr. Goodwin and its author to be the epitome and climax of fine light entertainment, as it is now expressed and demanded of the American stage.

Humor that is wholesome, clean, irrepressible fun that is definitely and gracefully intermingled with all the tenderness and poignant meaning that comes so natural in the art of acting as depicted by Mr. Goodwin.

The whimsy story of "Never Say Die" has for its foundation the well-known facts that even eminent doctors sometimes err in their diagnosis and final analysis of what ails the patient, and their prognostications of exactly how long the subject may or may not live.

Peg O' My Heart

The attraction at the Grand on Wednesday, March 4th, will be "Peg O' My Heart." This successful comedy by J. Hartley Manners, is said to be one of the prettiest and cleanest plays seen on the stage in years. The story concerns a young Irish-American girl who has been brought up in poverty and who is suddenly transplanted to the home of unknown and aristocratic relations in England. Her unfamiliarity with the ways of high society gets her into all sorts of trouble and leads to numerous comic situations. There is an abundance of clever Irish wit and a beautiful love story. In sending this company here Mr. Morosco has taken great pains in selecting the cast that would in every way rival the one now playing in New York city. It includes Marion Dentler, Florence Roberts, Crosby Little, Violet Moore, Cecil Owen, Harold Hendee, L. G. Carroll, Albert Gran and John E. Trevor.

"50c Beef, Iron and Wine." Gibson's.

SNOW FELL OFF ROOF

And Two Ladies Passing Had Thrilling Experience.

Two ladies passing near the corner of Princess and Wellington streets, on Friday afternoon, had a most thrilling experience when a regular avalanche of snow came down off the roof and fell on them. They were badly frightened and in addition their clothing and hats suffered. Snow on the roof is very dangerous and on the mild weather the merchants should see to it that it is removed so as not to endanger the lives of pedestrians. Those who witnessed the accident thought sure the young women would be seriously hurt owing to the large amount of "the beautiful" which fell on them.

Saturday's Whig

The second section of the Whig is well worth reading. It is full of news from page nine to sixteen. Society and "The Map on Watch" will be found on page nine, along with things theatrical and the Mutt and Jeff cartoon. Agricultural topics are on page twelve and a page of especial interest to women on thirteen. Page fourteen has a new setting to the career of J. D. Rockefeller, with the Book Reviews on page fifteen and financial on page sixteen.
