

TORY LAW BREAKERS APPOINTED TO OFFICE

Examples Of Rewards To Party Workers

ROCHE EMBARRASSED

BY QUESTIONS PUT TO HIM IN COMMONS

Is it the Policy of Ministers to Retain Convicted Lawbreakers in Office After the Facts Have Been Brought to Their Attention?

Ottawa, March 20.—Another story of a law-breaker appointed to office and continued in office by the Borden government was told in the commons last night, and some more light was shed on the remarkable cynicism of the ministry in respect to the methods and actions of the party workers it rewards with public positions.

The main story had to do with Ambrose Gray, an Alberta home-stead inspector. Despite the fact that Mr. Gray had been convicted of breaking the law, he was appointed inspector after Mr. Borden became premier. An active partisan for years past, Mr. Gray resigned his inspectorship at the beginning of April, 1912, to become a conservative candidate against Hon. Wilfrid Laurier in the Alberta provincial elections. Defeated in these elections, said W. H. White (the liberal member for Victoria, Alberta), Mr. Gray was reappointed home-stead inspector in the very riding in which he had been a political candidate. Thus, home-steaders who had been his supporters in the election and other home-steaders who had been his opponents were under his control in matters affecting the property which they were seeking to patent.

Home-steaders Complain
Already, said Mr. White, there are home-steaders who claim that because they were opposed to Mr. Gray they have received "the worst of things" in subsequent relations with him as an official of the interior department.

Hon. George P. Graham joined with Mr. White and other members in condemning vigorously the methods which the government had followed.

Hon. Dr. Roche had little defence to offer for the government or Mr. Gray. For himself, he was in favour of nothing of the matter personally, but he would, if there was an investigation undertaken if any charges were made.

Senate Dinner to Veterans
The senate of Canada last night gave a dinner in the parliamentary restaurant in honor of Sir Mackenzie Bowell and of Hon. C. E. D. Boucher, celebrating the ninetieth birthday of the one and the ninety-first birthday of the other. Hon. J. A. Loughheed, government leader of the senate, presided, and had on his right Sir Mackenzie and Joseph De Boucherville, representing his father, who was unable to be present.

Helping Those Who Help Them

That is a function of the advertising printed in this newspaper every day.
It helps those who want guidance in judicious buying. It is the story of the market place, telling you what is best for your wants and where it is sold.
Frequently prices are presented in competition with each other, and advertising readers are always posted as to where their money will do the best work.

It is as foolish to purchase without first seeing what the advertisements say as it would be to purchase without looking at the goods themselves.
Advertising does not compel you to buy anything. It merely points you to that at all times you can purchase to your best advantage.
It is only by making the advertising pay you that the advertiser can hope to make it pay themselves.

HAILESBURY FRIENDS WORRY

Fear That Dr. Allan Has Met With Disaster

Halesbury, March 20.—Dr. Robert Allan, an American subject, who resided in Halesbury for the past year left El Paso, Texas, for Mexico City seven weeks ago, and no word has been received from him, since his friends are getting anxious.

He made a Christmas gift of fifteen thousand dollars to the local Baptist church, and the political troubles in Mexico resulted in the payment not being made when the cheque was presented at the bank in Mexico City. It was to secure the cashing of this cheque and the looking after of other personal interests in Mexico that called Allan south in January.

$2,500,000 TO CLEAN SNOW
That's What Father Knickerbocker Will Pay
New York, March 20.—Some estimate of the snow storms of the winter cost the city of New York was had when the street cleaning commission announced that $2,400,000 had been spent and that another $100,000 would be expended before the streets were in normal condition.

Altogether more than 5,900,000 cubic yards of snow were removed.
There were eight storms in the city during the winter and about thirty-five inches of snow fell.

STEAMER WAS RAMMED BY A TORPEDO BOAT

Fifty Persons Lost Their Lives By The Accident at Venice

Venice, March 20.—A torpedo boat yesterday cut down a German steamer which plies between Venice and the islands separating the lagoon of Venice and the Adriatic and fifty persons were drowned.
The sharp nose of the torpedo boat went through the side of the steamer, which sank almost immediately.

Fifteen persons who were on deck at the time were saved by the crew of the torpedo boat. The others were caught in the cabin and were carried down with the wreck.
The Italian sailors dived many times in an effort to rescue those who sank with the steamer, but without avail.

In the Legislature
Toronto, March 20.—Defects in the provincial budget were aired again in the legislature, yesterday, when an amendment to the motion to go into supply was moved by C. M. Bowman. Taking the position that the government had failed to make clear to the house what the estimated expenditure under current and capital account as well as statutory took the ground that the members should not be called upon to vote supply until this information was given.

Suffragettes Defeated in Senate
Washington, March 20.—Woman suffrage advocates yesterday lost their fight in the United States senate for a resolution proposing an amendment to the federal constitution giving women the ballot. The vote was 35 for the measure to 34 against it, a two-thirds affirmative vote being required for passage.

Canada's New Arrivals
Ottawa, March 20.—Immigration to Canada in the election month of the fiscal year ended February 28, totalled 363,028, an increase of 5,000 over the corresponding period. Of the new-comers, 136,699 were British, 97,406 Americans, and 128,925 from other countries.

Repairs to Cornwall Canal
Cornwall, Ont., March 20.—The Cornwall canal will be unwatered on Monday, and for four weeks extensive improvements will be made at lock 20. A concrete retaining wall will be built here, and also over the old lock, 19, which will do away with the expense of maintaining gates, etc.

ONE OF THE MOVES IN STAGING THE BILL

Rural Tory Member Shocked Over Government Intention To Grant Millions To C. N. R.

Ottawa, March 20.—The Free Press says:
The government has decided to guarantee the bonds of the Canadian Northern to the amount of fifty million dollars.
The conservative caucus, which was supposed to decide for or against the aid, was merely of the necessary moves in staging the bill.
The idea of endorsing the note of Mackenzie and Mann for fifty million dollars came as a shock to members representing rural constituencies. Most of them have had unhappy experiences after putting their names to the back of other men's papers. The proposal to put the name of Canada to the paper of Mackenzie and Mann aroused the hostility of a considerable group.

The government having determined to give the guarantee called its followers to caucus. It was announced that the caucus was to decide for or against the aid. But the decision had already been made by Premier Borden, Mr. Rogers, Mr. White and Mackenzie and Mann. The caucus was really for the purpose of having the conservative members get accustomed to the idea of fifty million dollars and to talk some of the soreness out of their systems behind closed doors.

EXCITING DAY

For Ulster Where Clank of Sabres Heard

SIGNS ARE OMINOUS

TERRIBLE EVENTS ARE PREDICTED BY SOME

Government Troops Prepared — Sir Edward Carson in Secret Conference With Unionist and Orange Leaders.
Belfast, Ireland, March 20.—(6 p. m. Irish time.) This has been an exciting day for Ulster and as the sun goes down blood-red in the west there are those who say it is an ominous sign of terrible events on the morrow, or within the next few days or months. The clank of sabres has been heard throughout the whole province during the day there has been unusual activity in the movement of British troops.

There are many indications that the government is preparing for any eventuality. Heavy detachments of troops arrived at Newry, Omagh and Enniskillen. Here only small garrisons have been stationed at these points. It is reported that the garrison at Belfast will be increased to-morrow and Sunday.

Sir Edward Carson was in secret conference with unionist leaders here all afternoon and leaders of Orange lodges. Volunteers will meet in Belfast hall to-night.

Warships for Ireland
London, March 20.—In some quarters it is said the navy will take a hand to-morrow morning, and that a fleet of British warships now at Bantry Bay has been ordered to sail for Kingston harbor, near Belfast, to-morrow morning.

WATCH FOR BOGUS AGENTS
Magazine Sellers Have Been "Trimmed" — Canadian Grocer, Toronto.
For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain they tell us the "heavenly" is peevish. But in the retail trade well known the "heavenly" has no monopoly on the dark and evil ways. To illustrate, a Kingston, Ont., grocer sends us the following:

"Thirteen young fellows, from seventeen years to twenty years of age, entered an onslaught on the citizens here, principally merchants, and cleaned up a few hundred dollars. They claimed that scholarships were offered by the Pearson Magazine people to young fellows sending in subscriptions of fifty cents each year. And, three thousand within a certain area, and these magazines have come as 'ama', and it looks like a hold-up again. Next!"

The dealer in question wrote the said magazine to determine whether these men were bona fide subscription agents or not, and he received this reply:
"Dear Sir:—We thank you for the interest in this magazine which prompted your letter of the 2nd inst. We have arrangements with various subscription agencies for canvassing subscriptions for Pearson's Magazine. We have made no scholarship offer. It may be that some of the agencies have made such offers to their canvassers."

Inquiries have been made by the Canadian Grocer in Toronto and it was discovered that this same gang, or one similar to it, has been operating there. There was at least one man operating with a proposition resembling that to which the Kingston dealer refers. He called from door to door offering magazines at greatly reduced subscription rates, giving three magazines for instance, for $1.50. It is only necessary to cite a particular case to show that this was a bogus subscription canvasser. One party is known who some three or four months ago gave him $1.50 for three magazines but nothing has yet arrived to represent the outlay.

This case is merely cited to show how we must ever be on the alert. Men are not prone to publish widely the fact that they have been separated easily from hard-earned money. Perhaps if they were more open about it these bogus agents might find their occupation gone. But since human nature is the average at least—such that these losses are kept secret, it must be urged, upon those who have not been caught, to "sleep with one eye open." One cannot be too secure in these days of fraudulent stock-watering and wild-cat schemes.

PREFERS ELECTRIC CHAIR TO 20 YEARS IN PRISON

Accused Murderer's Reply To Parent's Request That He Plead Guilty

New York, March 20.—"I would rather go to the electric chair than spend twenty years in prison," said 19-year-old Harry Schaeffer to his parents in the supreme court when they urged him to plead guilty to the second degree, his trial on the charge of first degree murder for the killing of William T. Martin, a Toronto milliner, last August.
Taking the stand in his own defence, Schaeffer said he and his companion, who is now a fugitive, had not intended to kill Martin, but merely to quiet him until they could rob him.

After the crime, the youth testified, he and his companion fled to Baltimore, pawned Martin's ring there, went to St. Louis and separated. Schaeffer later becoming conscience stricken and gave himself up.

BOARD OF HEALTH WANTS
Police Constable Timmerman As Sanitary Inspector
"It is understood that the Board of Health will ask the City Council to appoint Police Constable Nicholas Timmerman as sanitary inspector of the city, so that there will be someone to give his whole time to the work. At present, Market Clerk McCammon is acting, but he has other duties to perform.
The medical health officer has had samples of milk taken of late, and examination of some of them is not very favorable. In one sample, bloody mucus matter was found. It is likely that the board will enforce a more rigid system of dairy inspection, and see that the people are sold milk that is free from contamination.

A Clever Youth!
The Morrisburg Herald states that on the recent stormy Sunday night a number of young fellows who went to visit girls were unable to get home, and had to be put up for the night. Twenty-five years ago in Bruce county, they told a story of a young man who, being caught in a blizzard, was constrained to stay all night by the hospitable farmer whose house he had visited. He disappeared after supper, and on coming in explained that he had run home and fetched his nightgown, but we do not know for the story. We merely revive it.

FORTUNE SMILED UPON CAMP COOK

He Was Working For $70 A Month — He Now Gets $80 A Day

Winnipeg, March 20.—A few mornings ago "Jack" Hamber awoke realizing he was a cook in a coal miners' camp at Pouchon, Alberta. Before nightfall he learned that a distant relative in Glasgow, Scotland, had died and had left him a fortune of $400,000 and possibly $650,000.
The fortunate cook was drawing the munificent stipend of $70 a month; to-day his income is approximately $30 a day. Hamber is a Scotchman from Glasgow. Like the proverbial Scot he accepts the bounty of fortune platonically and he expresses his intention of returning to the old land and settling down.
In the camp at which Hamber had been cook, 350 miners were employed. His "boss" was "Jack" Villeneuve, one of the best known miners in western Canada.

Back by Parcel Post
Hagerstown, Md., March 20.—Rural Mail Carrier E. H. Kasper carried a fourteen-pound baby from Clear Spring to the home of its mother in Indian Springs, ten miles distant, by parcel post.
A relative who had sheltered the child, hung a tag around the baby's neck, and stuck postage stamps on its brow.

DOOR IS STILL OPEN FOR A SETTLEMENT

Although The General Outlook Is Dark

A VIOLENT RECEPTION GIVEN TO SIR EDWARD CARSON IN BELFAST

It is Stated That Premier Asquith and Other Government Leaders Have Broken Down Under the Irish Home Rule "Crash."

London, March 20.—The London Times (unionist) and probably the most representative of opinion of the thinking Tories, while admitting that the general outlook is dark, and could not be much worse, says that the door to a settlement has fortunately not been closed to any of the parties to the Irish controversy, and the minority members of parliament are still hoping for a settlement at the last moment.

Word comes from Belfast of an extremely violent reception to Sir Edward Carson, when he arrived at that city this morning. A great crowd of people gathered at the docks when Carson's steamer arrived, and he was received with a salvo of salutes and much cheering. During the night great quantities of records were removed from the unionist headquarters. Unionists in Ulster trust the postoffice no more, and all despatches are sent to the interior of Ulster by messengers on high-powered automobiles.

Despite the efforts to minimize the situation, leading liberals admit this morning that the situation in Ulster is serious. The Marquis of Londonderry and other leaders followed Carson to Ulster this morning. It is stated that Premier Asquith and other government leaders have broken down under the strain.

Vote of Censure Rejected
A vote of censure on the British government, which was moved in the House of Commons yesterday by Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, was rejected, 345 to 252. Arthur J. Balfour, summoned by Mr. Bonar Law, made a hurried return from the Riviera and participated in the division.
Sir Edward Carson, however, made a dramatic exit from the house before the debate was concluded, to catch a train for Belfast.

Aston Chamberlain declared last night that Sir Edward had been called away in response to sudden developments in Ireland. Other unionists asserted that the Ulster men can no longer be restrained from an outbreak and that Sir Edward's mission is to endeavor to hold them in check.

The Daily Telegraph's lobbyist says: "Unless all omens are false, blood will be spilt in Ulster before the House of Commons sees Sir Edward Carson again."
The Marquis of Londonderry and other prominent Ulsterites are now on their way to Belfast, and their action is regarded as a challenge to the government, if, as asserted, any intention exists to issue warrants for their arrest.

It is said that the government has assured the nationalist leaders that Mr. Bonar Law's referendum offer will not be accepted.

Guests of Edmonton's Mayor
Professor and Mrs. Lorne W. Mulloy, University avenue, are guests at the King Edward, in Toronto, of Mayor and Mrs. McNamara, of Edmonton, who have come east for a brief stay. Mrs. McNamara is a niece of Professor Mulloy. Mr. McNamara formerly lived near Winchester, but went west where he became a millionaire. He is a very young man and was the "dark horse" in the recent Edmonton mayoralty contest, and won out. Immediately he began to do things, and caused an upheaval in the police department, the chief being forced out. He is strong for commission government, and it was on this platform that he was elected.

GIVE SIX MONTHS

Henry Smith Sentenced to Central Prison on Theft Charge

Six months in the Central prison was the sentence meted out to Henry Smith, by Magistrate Farrell, on Friday morning, for the theft of a large quantity of brass from the pumping station of the Grand Trunk at the outer station.
Smith was arrested a week ago and remanded. When first before the court he admitted attempting to sell the brass, but declared that he was not guilty of stealing it. When the charge of theft was read on Friday morning he again made the same statement. He said he found the bag of brass near the cotton mill and that he was guilty of trying to sell it.
"Are you guilty or not guilty of theft?" asked the magistrate three or four times.
"I'm guilty," replied the accused, whereupon the magistrate sentenced him to six months in Central.

CHARGE WAS DISMISSED

Thomas Hartley Not Guilty of Being Drunk

The case against Thomas Hartley, who was charged with being under the influence of liquor, at the Battersea horse races on February 11th, was dismissed by Justices of the Peace George Hunter and J. W. Bradshaw. When the case was heard on Thursday, the county magistrates reserved their decision. They announced their finding on Friday morning.
During the past two or three months, about twenty cases have been dismissed by these two magistrates. For some reason or other witnesses brought by the prosecution will not give the required evidence to convict any man who lives in the neighborhood.

C. R. Webster appeared on behalf of the prosecution, while George Latour acted for Hartley.
