A VARIETY OF SPORTS SHORTAGE OF BREAD

HOCKEY, BASEBALL, FOOTBALL AND ICEBOATING

Kingston Has All These in Month of April—Baseball Fans Would Like Old Man Winter to "Skidoo."

At the present time Kingston has a variety of sports and at the same time, a record is being established. Monday night a game of hockey was played at Portsmouth, and it is of interest to note that during the day baseball and football was played on the cricket field, and there was ice boating on the harbor. Surely this is some record. The weather, no doubt, would permit of other sports, including golf, lawn tennis and lawn bowling.

Kingston certainly had its share of hockey this last winter. Old Man Winter is hanging on too long. In sporting circles the desire is to have him let up on the cold weather and start in with spring weather in earnest, so that the summer sports can get under way.

A number of baseball enthusiasts made their way to the cricket field on Tuesday afternoon and had a game. The diamond is in poor condition, but the boys did not mind it, even if they did take a few tumbles in the mud or lose the ball in a mud puddle. Some fine weather is needed to dry up the ground and then after it is rolled and given some attention, it will be ready for the season's sport.

Already the baseball fans are getting rather uneasy. They are looking forward with no small amount of interest to the opening of the games in the city league, when on Saturday afternoon they will gather at the cricket field to size up both the new and old material, and to hear George Sullivan, the genial umpire, call out "Strike," "Foul ball," "You're out."

Keen interest is taken in the baseball games in Kingston and the city league has provided some cracking good games during the past few years. Many of the games have been every bit as good as those given in some of the big leagues. Kingston has some promising players and the games this summer promise to provide even better sport than last year. "Kingston could support a baseball team in the Canadian league just as well as some of the other places," said a baseball fan to the Whig. "Of course it would take some money to get the necessary grounds and to get things in shape, but I believe the people here would support it."

"THE BIRD OF PARADISE."

The Slogan of the Leading Lady is Divine.

"Character, rather than beauty—always!"

This is the slogan of Miss Lenore Ulrich, the marvellously beautiful nineteen year old Luana in Oliver Morosco's "Bird of Paradise" production, which comes to the Grand on Thursday, April 9th. This statement is all the more unusual when one considers that Miss Ulrich was pronounced by Leonardo Borstellini the Milanese sculptor, as an absolutely perfect model of young womanhood in limbs and torso, while her face and head have been the subject for scores of paintings by well-known artists in and about New York City.

Plain women, angular women, and women with features which for kindness sake are called "severe" often make these intellectual statements. Pretty women—never! Yet, without doubt Miss Ulrich's singular success as an actress of serious parts, and her rise to genuine eminence in her profession before she has left her teens, is without doubt due to her staunch determination to act human beings rather than sweet China dolls.

Miss Ulrich in two years played eighty-six big roles, and she won in every one of them. "I am not one to give advice," says Miss Ulrich, "but if I were to say anything to stage aspirants, I would say: 'First of all, be human.' That is the greatest thing in acting, as it is the greatest thing in any art."

"A Girl of the Underworld." For a play that thrills, stirs and grips, theatre goers should not fail to see "A Girl of the Underworld," which comes to the Grand on Saturday, April 9th, matinee and night. Never has the question of the social problem, been more forcibly presented than in "A Girl of the Underworld," which the producers are offering to the public the present season. The story which is teeming with heart interest is one that is happening in the underworld of the great cities every day.

The author, Mr. Jack Gorman, a clever New York playwright, made a personal study of characters in these sections, before venturing on writing this story, and that he has pictured a wonderful revelation goes without saying, so true does it ring.

LICENSES WILL BE ISSUED

At Meeting of License Commissioners on April 23rd.

The board of license commissioners held a meeting on Tuesday night and discussed the granting of licenses to the different applicants. Another meeting will be held on April 23rd, when the licenses will be granted.

Tuesday night's meeting was called for the purpose of talking over the matter. In the meantime both the inspector and the members of the commission will pay a visit to all the hotels in order to inspect them. It is understood that there will be no licenses set off.

Y.M.C.A. Winter Season Nears End.

The Y.M.C.A. will this month close the busiest winter season in its history and on May 1st will enter on a very well-filled summer schedule, which will be largely conducted outside of the building. Since October 1st last there have been more than forty appointments a week in the association building.

OWING TO THE ICE CROSSING BEING BAD

A Few Came Across in Ice Punts, But the Men Got in up to Their Waists

Unless there is great change in the weather conditions during the next day or so, it is expected that the steamer Wolfe Islander will not attempt the trip from Wolfe Island to the city wharf until Saturday. Any of the islanders who come over to the city have come over by means of ice punts. The travelling in these punts is very risky, and for that reason the majority of the islanders will not take a chance.

On Tuesday, W. Card, Jr., in company with four other young men, came over from Wolfe Island to the city wharf on an ice punt for the purpose of getting a supply of bread for the islanders. One of the young men, when speaking to a Whig representative, stated that the bread supply on the island was very low on account of the bad condition of the ice which makes it impossible for punts to carry enough bread to meet the demand. It is reported that the four supply it also low, as it is an impossibility to bring flour over in the ice punts on account of their leaking.

The men who were in charge of the punt on Tuesday, stated that the ice was in a very bad condition in many places. From the time they left the island the ice was good for about one mile. For the next mile it was a series of holes. In many cases it was impossible to make much headway on account of their feet breaking through. A couple of the men got in up to their waists. After crossing the channel, the trip to the city wharf was reported to be fairly good. One of the young men who has been making trips to the city for years with ice punts stated that he could never remember the time that the ice lasted so long after the holes were first noticed. In some places where the holes were the thickest, it was perfectly safe for the men to stand on the surrounding ice.

The ice between Wolfe and Garden Islands is almost strong enough to carry a horse and cutter. The men who have been working on the steamer Wolfe Islander fitting her out for the opening of navigation, walk out on the ice where the boat has been tied up for the winter months. It is understood that the ice is very thick around the Wolfe Islander.

AT DAVIS' DRY DOCK

The Docking Season Will Very Soon Commence.

The docking season will soon commence at Davis' dry dock. The new tug which this company has been building all winter for James Prendergast, of Cornwall, is now about complete and ready to be launched, which will be in the course of a few days. The company is holding back until the ice is free from the harbor before the water is let into the dock. In the meantime the boilers and engines are being replaced and the necessary fixtures added, while the present time affords for doing such. Just as soon as this new tug can be floated, it will be taken from the dock and in its place several schooners will enter at various times to have repairs made to their hulls.

Different yachts and houseboats have been built and repaired during the winter months at the Davis dry dock wharf, and are also pretty well under way for completion. The line-yacht being built for Dr. Brasher, of Pittsburgh, Pa., will shortly be receiving its finishing touches and in the course of a week or so the purchaser will be in the city.

The Late Leander Hegadorn

The funeral of the late Leander C. Hegadorn took place from his late residence, 67 John street, Monday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. John Webster, pastor of Brook Street Methodist church. The general sorrow over his death was seen through the many floral tributes sent by his fellow-workmen; his fraternal and church friends; as well as a large circle of sympathizing friends who held him in esteem. The deceased will long be remembered for his cheerful and genial kindness; his transparent honor and honesty, combined with his simple and sublime faith as a Christian. In his home, as well as in his daily life, he was a model man, a thoughtful husband, and a true friend. Those from out of town who attended the funeral were: George Minor, Manufacturer; Clarence Minor, Pittsburg, Pa.; Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson, Brockville, the latter being a cousin of Mrs. Hegadorn.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Was it Legal to Kill Muskrat on the 4th of April?

Kingston, April 7.—(To the Editor): I noticed in a local paper yesterday that J. Angrove, the local game inspector for the provincial government, killed a muskrat while on his way home on Saturday night, and had the fur taken off. Would you please inform me if this act of the inspector was legal.—Citizen.

The law in regard to the muskrat season is as follows: "Open season from the first day of December to the 30th day of April in the following year, but no muskrat may be shot during the month of April. In the districts of Thunder Bay, Fort William, Rainy River and Kenora, the open season is the months of March and April only."—ED.

TONE UP THE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla. A Spring Tonic-Medicine, Is Necessary.

Everybody is troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, that tired feeling, or with biliousness, dizziness, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished. Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. Ask your druggist for this medicine and get it to-day. It is the old reliable medicine that has stood the test for forty years—that makes pure, rich blood—that strengthens every organ and builds up the whole system. It is the all-the-year-round, blood-purifier and health-giver. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else is like it; so be sure to get Hood's.
