EASTER IN CHURCHES

SERVICES ON SUNDAY WERE LARGELY ATTENDED

The R.C.H.A. Band Assisted in the Musical Services in St. George's Window Unveiled in Memory of the Late Mrs. Indd.

Sunday was the glorious feast of the Resurrection. Hymns of praise and rejoicing succeeded the period of fasting and abstinence of the last forty days. There was gladness everywhere. Churches were brightly decorated and illuminated. Ministers of God put on their richest vestments. Choirs vied with one another in presenting music inspiring and triumphant. The pastor proudly and eloquently proclaimed the glad tidings of "Christ being risen" to large congregations, and the happy faces of the multitude indicated they entered fully into the spirit of the occasion.

St. Mary's Cathedral
At St. Mary's cathedral nothing was spared to honor the day. Archbishop Spratt officiated in the morning, assisted by deacon and sub-deacon. The sermon was given by Rev. Father Scully, who spoke on "Faith" with the masterliness which is all his own. The music rendered by the choir left nothing to be desired. Mr. Indd's celebrated mass being interpreted in a manner deserving the highest praise. The soloists were N. E. O'Connor and C. T. Cross, each acquitting himself in the most creditable manner.

The evening service, too, was most imposing, the vast edifice being filled to the doors. Another sermon, proper to the day, was preached by Rev. Father Scully, who added another jewel to his crown as a well nigh matchless pulpit orator. At benediction the deep, full voice of W. C. Bailey was heard to great advantage in a solo entitled "Annus Anglicanus," a composition by Prof. Paul Denys, the efficient organist of the cathedral. At the close of the service the papal blessing was imparted.

St. George's Cathedral
"We are commemorating to-day" said Bishop Mills, preaching at the Easter morning service in St. George's cathedral, "the greatest victory the world has ever seen—a victory of life over death. It is a most marvellous victory and one of tremendous character. We see life meeting death, and we see life overcoming death."

"On this Easter morning," added the bishop, "I preach to you not of a dead Christ, but of a living Christ, a living, present God, who is with us through all the days wherever we may be, and wherever we may go. He is the resurrection and the life."

St. George's cathedral was filled to overflowing in the morning, and the service was a most impressive one. To mark Easter there were special floral decorations. The band of the R.C.H.A. assisted in service and headed the parade of the R.C.H.A. to the cathedral. The band played "The Hallelujah Chorus" at the offertory. Bishop Mills officiated at the unveiling of a handsome memorial window in memory of the late Mrs. Ladd, aunt of Dean Starr.

At evensong, Bishop Bidwell preached from the words of the creed: "On the third day He rose again." In opening his discourse, his lordship spoke of the fact that just one year ago, the lord bishop of Ontario had been stricken with an illness from which few expected him to recover, but all were rejoiced that he was able to officiate as he had done on Easter day.

The R.C.H.A. band assisted again in the musical service, under the leadership of Lieut. Light. The anthem was "I am He that Liveth," with solo by Charles Harvey.

First Congregational Church
Easter was observed in the First Congregational church at both services on Sunday. Rev. Leroy Rice, pastor, preached. At the morning service he had for his text, "Evidences of his Resurrection." The choir under the leadership of Miss B. Rogers rendered special music. A duet was given by Miss Emma Leach and Miss Myrtle King. Miss King also sang a solo. Miss Florence Woodrow sang "Calvary."

Sydenham Street Church
At the Easter services in Sydenham street church on Sunday morning Rev. Alfred Brown preached on "The Living Christ." He gave a review of Christ's life, showing that His life could not be taken from Him unless He gave it voluntarily, and ending with this voluntary gift of His life. He then went on to say that Christ was still living and would always live. As this was so, Christianity would also live forever.

Special Easter music was rendered by the choir at both services, and at the morning service a duet was given by Mrs. James Small and Harold Angrove. In the evening M. Murray gave a solo. The pastor preached again in the evening taking as his subject "We Can Do Nothing Against the Truth, but For the Truth."

he could not go wrong. The choir, under the leadership of Arthur Craig, rendered special Easter music, the solo parts being taken by Mr. Craig and Miss May Hinkley.

Bethel Congregational Church
Special Easter services were held in Bethel Congregational church at both services on Sunday. The pastor, Rev. A. P. Marshall, preached at both services. Special Easter music was given by the choir. Miss Winnifred Woolgar sang "The Holy City" at the evening service.

Easter Sunday in Chalmers
A mass of white lilies constituted the beautiful Easter floral decoration on the communion table of Chalmers church. There was a large congregation at the morning service. Rev. Dr. Magillivray drew lessons from the appearing of the risen Christ to the two disciples at Emmaus. He showed that out of great tragedies good invariably resulted. Instead of seeing only the dark side of calamities and of death, we should see the brighter side. In this connection he referred to the tragic death the previous day of Miss Lulu Smith, the young student member of the congregation, saying that the blotting out of this young life would not be in vain, that there was a purpose behind it all, which would be revealed if we would seek for it. The choir rendered the anthem "I am He That Liveth," and Miss Hazel Massie sang "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth."

Princess Street Church
The services at Princess Street Methodist church on Sunday were in keeping with the Easter spirit. At the morning service, the pastor preached from the text, "If Christ be not risen." The subject of the evening discourse was "Evidences of the resurrection." Special music was rendered by the choir, assisted by Mrs. Rupert Brown.

The new gowns were worn by the members of the choir on Sunday morning for the first time. Three of the four Methodist church choirs are now gowned.

St. Paul's Church
The Easter services at St. Paul's were the best attended in the past seven years. The services were very bright and the sacred edifice was beautifully decorated. There were 250 communicants—the largest number on record. The vicar preached morning and evening.

St. Luke's Church
Special Easter services were held in St. Luke's church on Sunday and were largely attended. The sanctuary was prettily decorated with flowers. At the evening service, in addition to special music, an inspiring address was given by Rev. A. L. Green, of Belleville, who based his sermon upon St. Luke xxiv. 21: "But we trust that it had been He which should have redeemed Israel." The preacher declared that we all have no other ladder of reaching heaven than through the crucifixion of Christ. By this time all doubt should be cast aside and if we believe in this light He will open up and admit us into His heavenly kingdom. All doubt will then be cast aside. It was announced after the sermon, by Rev. R. S. Forneri, that the children had collected in their mitre boxes during Lent the sum of $33.52, which will be devoted to missionary causes.

Many Added to Church
Special and splendid music was given by the choir of Queen street Methodist church on Easter day. The tenor solo by William Eva was especially fine. It was from one of the oratorios and was rendered with much expression. At the morning service ninety-two members were received into church fellowship, the greater majority of them were Sunday school scholars. Communion services afterwards was the largest held in the church for years. The sermons were appropriate to the day. The evening address was a very strong one on "Christ as the Hope of Immortality."

First Baptist Church
The services at the First Baptist church, yesterday, were all of an Easter character. The choir, under the leadership of Sidney Salsbury, did excellently. The anthem in the morning was "Jesus Christ is Risen Today," the solo parts being taken by Prof. Buchanan and W. Salsbury, the duet by the Misses Muriel Breathwaite and Edna Singleton. The duet, "Christ is Risen," was sung at the close of the sermon by the Misses Breathwaite and Singleton.

At the evening service the anthems were, "Christ the Lord is Risen" and "Sing to God a Hymn of Praise." At the offertory, Miss Edna Singleton, of Smith's Falls, sang "The Way of the Cross" in excellent voice. The Bible school, too, under the leadership of the superintendent, Dr. E. J. Lake, carried through an interesting Easter programme. Many of the pupils took part. Miss Singleton favored the school with a much appreciated vocal solo, and Mr. Watson gave a very fine cornet solo.

St. John's, Portsmouth
The Easter service at St. John's, Portsmouth, was conducted in the morning by the rector, Rev. J. O. Crisp. The church was tastefully decorated with white flowers. The preacher took as his subject, "The Resurrection." At the evening service the sermon was preached by Archdeacon Dobbs, whose subject was "The Raising of the Dead." In the anthem the choir was assisted by Master J. Giles, who played a violin obligato.

Fire Chief Finch, Guelph, Ont., has resigned and will enter suit for damages against the city, alleging his reputation has been ruined by insinuations. Seal pellets found by the steamer Kyle off the coast of Newfoundland prove the fate of the Southern Cross. White Rose Flour pleases the most fastidious. New legislation will prevent children entering moving picture shows in company with strangers.

DARING THEFT BY MAN

WHO TOOK $2.50 FROM BAGOT STREET CHILD

Who Had Been Sent to the Butcher Shop to Pay Account—Theft Occurred on Saturday Evening

One of the most daring thefts reported in some time was pulled off on Bagot street near the corner of William, on Saturday evening, when a child was relieved of $2.50 which it was carrying in its hand. It appears that Henry Kelly, who resides on Bagot street, near the corner of Earl, had sent his child to the butcher shop with an envelope containing $2.50, which was the amount of his weekly account. The story of the child is that when it arrived a short distance from the store, some man took the envelope from its hand. When the child returned home and informed the parents of what had happened, the father made an attempt to locate the thief, but was unable to get any trace of the man.

The child has been in the habit of going to the store on Saturday evenings for some time past for the purpose of paying the household weekly account, but in the past had carried the money in his coat pocket. It is thought that the person who did the deed has been aware that the youngster made this weekly visit and had been watching for a good chance.

A VERY COLD EASTER

Temperature Monday Morning 17 Degrees Above Zero

Easter Sunday was the coldest in many years. The heavy wind which blew all day prevented many from wearing their new millinery. A number of young ladies who had put their furs away for the season were forced to take them out on Sunday evening. The wind cleared the harbor of ice which had been blown in around the wharves. During Sunday night the wind dropped and the weather became decidedly calm. On Monday morning Dr. A. P. Knight reported the temperature to be seventeen degrees above zero. The highest temperature on Sunday was forty-six degrees above zero.

Prevost, Brock street, has received all his spring and summer goods for his order clothing department, also in ready-made clothing and gent's furnishing department. They are all well assorted with new goods.
