THE LION AND THE GINGER
The boy that is Ginger Bred,
Is the boy we would like to wed.

Ginger in a boy demands ginger in his clothes. Too much gingerbread will give dyspepsia to the boy or the best model suit, while a same dose of ginger in a boy's make-up or in his suit will give snap, freshness and merit that brings distinction. Lion Brand clothes have this ginger plus longer life. Double elbows and double seats, double the life.

Double up, boys, and get a Lion Suit!

SOCCER LEAGUE DRAWS UP A SPRING SCHEDULE

A Public School Baseball League Formed—Games to be Played on Monday and Friday Afternoons.
The new executive of the Kingston soccer league held its first meeting on Friday evening and drew up a spring schedule and framed new rules to meet all emergencies. W. G. Ferguson, the president, occupied the chair. The chief point that caused warm discussion centred upon the transfer question, which will be remembered as having caused much trouble last season, especially in the transfer of Lafferty from the R. C. H. A. to C. L. C.
It was decided that the name of the player must be in on the Thursday before the game to be played on the following Saturday. If a player wishes to get a transfer, it was decided that he be given the same by making the proper application, but at the same time it will make him ineligible to play for twelve days previous to the game, thus creating one Saturday on which the applicant will be a non-player. There is to be no transferring done for the last two games in the finals of the season.
A spring schedule was drawn up which will commence on Saturday afternoon, April 25th by a game at 2.30 o'clock on Queen's lower campus between R. C. H. A. and C. L. C. For the following Saturdays the remainder of the schedule will be: May 2nd, Shipyard vs. R. C. H. A.; May 9th, Departmentals vs. C. L. C.; May 16th, R.C.H.A. vs. C. L. C.
In connection with the affiliation of the Kingston Soccer league with the Ontario Football Union, the necessary fee was raised on Friday evening and will be forwarded to headquarters at Toronto.

Public School Baseball League

At a meeting of the principals of the public schools of the city, held in the Y.M.C.A. building on Friday afternoon, it was decided to form a baseball league composed of teams representing the different public schools of the city.

Almost every day of the week boys may be seen in the parks and on corner lots, busy with bat and ball. The idea is to organize these boys into representative teams.
At the request of the meeting W. H. Inman, principal of Victoria school, acted as chairman. The following officers were elected: President, R. H. Rhines, physical director of the "Y"; secretary-treasurer, F. J. Wilson, boys' secretary at the "Y". The other members of the executive, Messrs. A. J. Beatty, J. G. Ettinger, W. H. Inman, R. F. Green, Miss C. Lovick and Miss S. Gill are the principals of the public schools of the city. All matters in connection with the games will be decided by the executive committee.

The idea of the public school baseball league was started inside the walls of the Y.M.C.A. by R. H. Rhines, the physical director.
In order to put the matter before the school boys each principal will call a meeting on Monday afternoon at four o'clock for all boys who are interested. The boys will be asked to elect a captain and also a playing manager.
The managers will meet with the president and the secretary at the Y.M.C.A. building on Wednesday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock when the schedule will be drawn up and the date set for the opening date game. The umpires will also be selected at this meeting.
The games will consist of seven innings and will be played on Monday and Friday afternoons. They will be under the supervision of the Y.M.C.A., whose standards will be maintained by rules governing the conduct of the players.
No player shall take part in any game until he has handed in his certificate and fifteen cents to cover the cost of conducting the league. The expenses will consist of buying balls and a chest protector.
A request will be sent to the City Council to have it reserve the cricket field for these Monday and Friday afternoon games, and an effort will now be made to secure a suitable trophy, that the boys may be encouraged to have a winning team in their school.

The president, H. R. Rhines, is very enthusiastic about the league and has faith in its success, having seen the thing tried out in other cities, where organized and properly supervised play is considered an important factor in child life.

It is considered that this league will open the way to something bigger later on in the shape of a big field day which would be eagerly looked forward to by all the school children.

"O" IN IRISH SURNAMES

Proof of Social Distinction That All Misfortunes Cannot Obliterate
New York Tribune.

It is a pity so many people here drop the Irish O, for it is a prefix of nobility that is the oldest in Europe. Many of our best Dutch families in New York came here without a surname but there is not a family in Ireland possessing a surname in O that has not borne that surname since at least the twelfth century.
That is a high distinction and proof of social standing that Ireland's fall from its high estate cannot obliterate. I believe that Venice has families whose surnames date from this date century, but with that exception Irish surnames are the oldest in Europe.
Under commission of the penitents many people in Leinster adopted English names, but these people belonged mainly to the lower classes and the names they adopted—Smith, Carpenter, Cook, Butcher—served their occupations and the meaning of their Irish surnames.
Such names always bore the Mac, and in Ireland's whole history you will find nowhere in its ancient nobility a family bearing a name associated with any trade occupation, nor any such name with the O prefixed. Howard or Hogward, the most aristocratic name in Britain would have been borne only by hereditary swineherds in the old Irish world.
The belief prevails in parts of Ireland and Europe that only five families rightly bear the O—the O'Neills, high monarchs of Ireland and kings of Ulster; the O'Donnells, princes of Tyrconnell; the O'Connors, kings of Thomond, and the O'Flahertys, princes of Iar Connaught.

PRAYER MEANS MUCH MORE THAN SET FORM OF WORDS

Every One, it is Declared, Invokes Divine Aid Toward the Accomplishment of Certain Desires.
The Universalist Leader.
Everybody prays some time and somewhere and somehow. Even the one who openly denies the efficacy of prayer, yet in his mind will drop into the attitude of prayer as he seeks for reasons for not doing it! It is such a little prayer which can be confined within the words of even those "grifted."
Real prayers, great prayers, are too big to be uttered; they are so spontaneous that they are prayed before they can be spoken.
Some ministers lead us to a prayer they have made up; others lead us in prayer to the throne of God. There are those who address the congregation while pretending to invoke the Almighty. There are those who go with us into the presence of God and in becoming humility and reverence give our thanks and make our petitions.
Sometimes a man who has never prayed, in the presence of a great experience when he is conscious of his own helplessness, cries out, "Oh, if I could only pray!"
And in those words utters the first real prayer of his life.
Prayer is more than asking, more than thanking, prayer is communion, and some time, some where and somehow the soul of man communes with God and prays its way into yet holier communion.

Told In Twilight

The Cadet Charity ball and bridge, which was held in the City Hall on Friday evening, under the patronage of the officers of the 3rd division, was a decided success and those in charge of the affair are to be congratulated on the perfectly appointed arrangements. The floor of the City Hall was in splendid condition for dancing and the excellent music was supplied by Arbuckle's orchestra. Ontario Hall was reserved for the bridge players, and here also a delicious supper was served at midnight, the quartette tables being centered with tulips and narcissi.

The patronesses who received the guests were:
Mrs. J. B. Camuthers, black satin and lace.
Mrs. W. H. Macneon, handsomely gowned in black satin with jet overdress.
Mrs. Hemming, in a lovely gown of yellow satin.
Mrs. G. Hunter Ogilvie, wearing black lace over white satin, with touches of orange.
Mrs. R. J. Gardner, white satin gown, with handsome lace tunic.
Mrs. A. J. Wolff, blue satin, with overdress of white lace.

WATER FOR SOUDAN DESERT

Harnessing Blue and White Niles for Irrigation.

Work is in progress on another great scheme to reclaim by irrigation vast tracts of desert in the Sudan. It is believed it can be made to add enormously to the cotton output.
The tract which is to be watered is known as the Giza territory. It lies between the Blue and White Niles, below Khartoum, and consists of 1,500,500 acres. The force and flow of the two rivers are sufficient to water the entire district when properly harnessed.
The proposal is to build two dams south of Khartoum; one over each of the rivers. Thus the tract between the streams will be irrigated, while at the same time the force of the water flowing into Egypt will be controlled.
At present the Blue Nile comes down in a raging flow, and the White Nile, flowing in staidier fashion, combines with it to make a huge overflow. The building of the two dams will enable the flow to be properly regulated and will practically mean the final harnessing of the Nile.
A committee of the Massachusetts senate has reported a resolve which calls for a commission of the state to study the problem of taxing signs used for commercial invitations to the public or to mark the location of houses of thrift. After that has been applied to the raising of more taxes, there will be a commission appointed to count the gravestones and report how many dead ones may be arched and forced to pay taxes on signs which shows where they are buried. That commission will find that there are funds in the hands of city, town and cemetery officials, left for the care of graves. Then the commission can recommend that in all cases where the dead refuse to rise and pay the taxes on their signs these funds may be confiscated for the benefit of the live politicians who need the money. There are many kinds of signs, and the worst of these are the signs that claim to think the life and prosperity of the people, and far more than the care of grass-grown graves of the people who died before taxation became the one great issue in human life and death.—Worcester Telegram.
