THE MEDICAL COLLEGE

ANNUAL REPORT PRESENTED BY DEAN J. C. CONNELL

To Queen's University Council—A Professor of Bio-Chemistry, and Two Assistant Professors Are Required.

Dean J. C. Connell presented this report to the Queen's University Council:

The registration for the sixtieth session of the medical school is 268, an increase of 17 over that of last year. There are seventy candidates for graduation, not including those who already possess the M.B. and are now applying for the higher degree of M.D.

The health of the students has been very good. One promising member of the freshman class died following an operation for appendicitis and one of the final year has missed his examinations in consequence of an operation necessary for the same condition. There have been a few cases of measles and one of scarlet fever, the latter contracted while on duty in the general hospital. No doubt the compulsory physical training in the first year contributes to the maintenance of a higher standard of health. There are, however, many students living in small ill-ventilated and imperfectly heated rooms, for the supply of good lodging houses in the city has not increased in the same proportion as the attendance of students.

The faculty will cordially approve and co-operate in any plan for residences, in harmony with the life of the university, which will improve the physical training and add to the comfort of even a limited number of the students.

The demand for young graduates is still greater than the supply. Favorable reports are frequently received from superintendents of hospitals and from medical men who employ young graduates, as to the quality and training of those going out from this school. A graduate of another Canadian medical school writes, "I shall be only too glad to get Queen's men as, taken all around, they are men who are conscious of their responsibilities and give better satisfaction to me than other college men."

WEDDINGS IN ST. MARY'S

The Cote-Quinn Nuptials on Wednesday the 22nd

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday morning, April 22nd, at St. Mary's cathedral at eight o'clock, when Susanna Mary Quinn, daughter of the late John Quinn, Barrfield, became the bride of George H. Cote, Saskatoon. The winsome bride looked charming in a dress of white duchess satin trimmed with Irish net and shadow lace, and hat to match. She carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. Miss Margaret Anon, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore pink tulle over satin with shadow lace trimming, and hat of mauve silk brain. C. E. Canning fulfilled the duties of best man. A full-course dinner was served at high noon, only immediate friends of the bride and groom being present. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Father Halligan. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful pearl pendant, with monogram, and to the bridesmaid a pretty watch fob. Many costly and useful presents were received by the bride, among them being a substantial cheque. The happy couple will leave shortly for Saskatoon, where the groom has a beautiful home awaiting his bride.

HARRIGAN-GALLIVAN

A very quiet wedding was solemnized Monday morning at six o'clock in St. Mary's cathedral, when Rev. Father Hanley united in marriage John Harrigan and Miss Frances Gallivan. The bride was given away by her brother, Dennis Gallivan, Utica, N. Y., and attended by her niece, Cannel Cooper, while Frederick Harrigan, brother of the groom, assisted him. The young couple left on the G. T. R. noon train for western points. On their return they will take up residence on Barrie street.

ried on without interruption and has been uniformly efficient. Dr. Kennedy, Douglas lecturer in pharmacology, has retired after two years of service and Dr. S. M. Asseltine is recommended for appointment in his stead. The teaching fellowships in anatomy and pathology have been capably filled for the year by Dr. Asseltine and Dr. Jeffrey.

For several years the faculty has had in operation a modified five year course, in which the fifth year might be spent in any one of three ways. The plan was that followed by the Ontario medical council. Now, after full deliberation, the faculty has adopted the five year academic course. This will apply to all students entering in 1914 and thereafter. Most of the additional time will be given to the preliminary sciences of biology, botany, physics and chemistry. The degrees of M.D. and C.M. will be granted on the completion of the five year course. This important modification of the curriculum has already been made by other Canadian schools.

The fees received from students have increased from $25,381, to $29,021 and there is a balance to the credit of the faculty of $1,264.24. The resources of the university have so far been taxed for the support of the medical school, but as the medical faculty has been placed on the same level with the arts faculty as a constituent part of the university, and as the salaries have been increased, an additional financial responsibility for medical education has been incurred by the university.

The Ontario government has announced a generous grant of $10,000 to the medical faculty and part of this will at once become available for the increase in the staff rendered necessary by the changes in the curriculum. It will be necessary before the next session to secure a professor of bio-chemistry, an assistant professor of physiology and an assistant professor of bacteriology and hygiene. These appointments and certain other changes and promotions are submitted for your consideration by the advisory committee of the faculty.

"Anthony and Cleopatra"

If there ever were any doubts existing that the Societa Italiana Cines are the masters of the world in the production of artistic motion photography, George Kleine's production of their photo drama "Anthony and Cleopatra" completely dispels them. When they produced "Quo Vadis" it was thought the last word had been written, but according to all accounts, "Anthony and Cleopatra" not only rivals but excels it. The greatest love story of history is told upon the screen with a dramatic power that is amazing and a pictorial beauty that is simply marvellous. George Kleine's production is thoroughly in keeping with the artistic qualities of the subject and reveals him once again the premier producer of the world.

These wonderful pictures are announced at the Grand for Friday and Saturday, May 1st and 2nd, matinee each day at 2.30; evenings at 8.15.
