TWO DAYS IN THE ICE

THE STEAMER W. H. DWYER ARRIVED IN PORT.

Experienced Quite a Rough Time Around White Fish Point in Lake Superior — Movements of Vessels Reported Along the Harbor.

After battling with ice around White Fish Point, in Lake Superior, for a couple of days, the steamer W. H. Dwyer, loaded with wheat, arrived in port from Fort William, on Tuesday morning, at nine o'clock, and is unloading at Richardson's elevator. The arrival of the Dwyer marked the first steamer from Fort William this season. The vessel had quite a rough time of it in the ice, but it is not thought that she suffered any serious damage. The point on her bow was knocked off as a result of the encounter with the ice. After her cargo has been discharged she will be examined to see just what damage has been sustained. The steamer also ran against a great deal of ice in the Soo river. The Dwyer cleared from Fort William on April 24th. The steamer was laid up at Fort William all winter with this cargo.

The schooner Ford River arrived from Erie, with a cargo of coal, and is discharging at Richardson's wharf. The steamer towards Fort William, Charlotte, with coal for Robert Crawford. The schooner Kitchen cleared for Oswego. The tug Bartlett will arrive, light from Oswego, and clear for Fort Dalhousie, with the barges Hamilton and Ungava.

A few of the vessels of the Montreal Transportation company cleared from Fort William, for Kingston, on Monday, and some of the vessels got away to-day. The steamer City of Ottawa is now in the Shipbuilding company's dry dock. The steamer Dunelm, of the Inland Lines, touched here, to-day, to pick up her pilot on the way east.

BIG CADET CAMP

At Barrieffield in July — Reid and Hambrook Caterers.

On July 6th, one of the largest cadet camps ever held in Canada will open at Barrieffield heights when about 2,600 lads, who are members of the cadet corps of the 2nd division, will arrive for their annual training. The training will last from July 6th until July 12th.

The camp this year will be about twice as large as in 1913. This is the third time that the cadets have been given the opportunity to go under canvas at Barrieffield.

The latest to go through the parcel post to Kingston is a fine canary bird. It came through on Monday and was delivered in fine shape to a Kingstonian. "We will handle everything even to a house and lot," said a parcel post man to the Whig.

THE LEONARD OFFER

TO BE CONSIDERED BY TRUSTEES OF QUEEN'S.

The University Council Will Deal With It Tuesday Evening, and Forward a Recommendation to the Trustees.

It is expected that the offer of Major R. W. Leonard, chairman of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission, to establish a military residence at Queen's University, will be finally disposed of on Wednesday evening, when the trustees will meet. The council of the university will meet on Tuesday afternoon and consider the matter. It is probable that it will pass a resolution and send it on to the trustees for consideration.

Major Leonard gives the site, the building, and the furnishings, and the department of militia pays $84 per member per term, provides the resident adjutant and instructors, a course of lectures and examinations (military, of course), a drill hall, armories, gymnasium and equipment. The conditions of the offer, as finally agreed upon, are briefly these: That the students in residence shall be members of the C.O.T.C. after a year that they shall pay the weekly fee stipulated by the governors, say $5 per week; that as nearly as possible, represent the various classes and faculties; that they shall give at least an hour a day, for six days per week, to military drill and lectures, and spend a prescribed time in camp, and that the governors shall be six in number—the principal, the nominees of the trustees and senate, the nominee of the militia department, and the principal and commandant of the Royal Military College.

It is understood that some of the trustees object to the last condition of the offer. They claim the university should have the control instead of a joint board of the militia department and the trustees.

Major Leonard is at present in the city. He is one of the visiting board of the Royal Military College. On Monday afternoon he was at Queen's University.

CASE WAS DISMISSED.

Magistrate Said It Was Shame Citizens Had Been Charged.

"I'll dismiss the charge. It is a shame that such a charge should have been laid" remarked Magistrate Farrell, in disposing of a case before him on Tuesday morning.

Trouble over the collection of rent, led one citizen to take out a warrant against another, charging "attempted robbery." Through his lawyer, T.J. Rigney, accused pleaded "not guilty." The taking of evidence required but a few minutes, when the case was thrown out.

The plaintiff claimed that the accused met him on Princess street on Saturday night and taking hold of him declared that he would get the rent money from him. The accused, who was acting as collector of the rent for another party said that he was accused by the plaintiff.

"He told me that if I came to collect the rent again he would kill me," said the accused. The plaintiff denied saying this but admitted that he had said: "If you come again for the rent I will knock your head off."
