SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNUAL

Held at Princess Street Church on Wednesday Evening

The annual meeting of the Princess street Methodist church Sunday school was held Wednesday evening in the lecture hall, when nearly all the teachers and officers were present. A delightful tea was provided at 6.30 o'clock, after which a business meeting was held, presided over by the minister, Rev. F. G. Robinson.

Encouraging reports were brought in from every department showing that the past year's work had been most successful. There are 328 on the roll and the school has raised $324.10. As well as paying the running expenses amounts had been contributed to missions, connectional funds, hospital, official board, etc. During the year three teachers have passed the examinations prescribed by the general board for teachers. On Decision Day thirteen had intimated that they desired to be Christians, and wished to unite with the church. The elections for the coming year resulted: Superintendent, Miss Emma Wilder, assistant superintendent, Fred. Rutherford; teachers, the same as last year, with the exception that Miss Laura Wilder will take charge of the junior department in place of Mrs. Meserve, who is leaving the city.

A pleasing event took place when the superintendent, Miss Wilder, presented Mrs. Meserve with a beautiful silver tray and hoped that in her new home it would suggest the pleasant memories of Princess street church. Mrs. Meserve feelingly replied, saying that she would never forget happy days and sympathy.

The meeting broke up with the singing of "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," and the benediction by the minister.

GIFT TO O. F. TELGMANN

The Leader of the Kingston Symphony Orchestra.

O. F. Telgmann, the well-known musician of this city, was on Wednesday evening, made the recipient of a conductor's baton during the performance of the programme by the members of the Kingston Symphony orchestra. The conductor, though taken by surprise, made a very suitable reply, and completed the practice of the evening using the new symbol of his authority to good effect. At the close of the address, W. G. Craig, William Hunsdell, and O. V. Bartels also made very appropriate remarks. The following was the address presented:

"The members of the Kingston Symphony orchestra have been practising under your direction for the last six months. During this time we know that you sacrificed many hours which you were pleased to give gratis. For this unselfishness we express sincere gratitude.

"We appreciate your abilities as a conductor. This is a position that requires a rare combination of talents—a practical knowledge of each different instrument, and an aesthetic taste for the finer orchestral effects. It is no flattery to say that you have not only these qualifications, but also a familiarity with the choicest classics of the world's masters. Your proficiency we express admiration.

"By way of expressing tangibly these feelings of gratitude, and admiration, we ask you to accept this conductor's baton. Long may you wield it! May it be in your hand a magic wand to thrill every patron of the orchestra with melody and rich harmony.

A Missionary Evening.

St. George's cathedral junior branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, gave a very enjoyable "missionary evening" in the parish hall, on Wednesday. First came lantern views of the schools and hospitals supported by the juniors. Some of the Indian views showed Miss Alice Hague, the Kingston girl who is working in the mission field of the far east, and who was at one time one of St. James' girls. The story of the views was told by eight little girls in turn. Then came some pretty drills and recitations by the juniors. Rev. C. K. Bourne, congratulated the branch on its work during the year and the programme was brought to a close by singing the national anthem.

Has Very Old Bible.

Mrs. Frances Kennedy, 356 Albert street, writes as follows: "I have a Bible dated 1653 which was printed by John Field, printer to the parliament. It was printed from the original Greek and is in excellent state of preservation. The letter 'S' always occurs where the letter 'F' should be.

Former Pastor Visits Kingston

TRUSTEES OF QUEEN'S

APPOINT COMMITTEE TO MEET MAJOR R. W. LEONARD.

To Discuss Details of His Military Offer — Medical College Appointments Made — (Continued from Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Smith.

At the annual meeting of the trustees to Queen's university on Wednesday night the military resignation proposals of Major R. W. Leonard, were considered at length, and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"That the board of trustees of Queen's university, having considered the proposals of Major Leonard, desires to express its appreciation of his generous interest in the welfare of the students, and approves of the establishment of residences for those students who may be connected with the C.O.T.C.

"Inasmuch as sympathetic co-operation between Major Leonard and the university authorities is essential to the successful working out of the project, the board appoints a committee to meet Major Leonard with a view to discussing the details of the proposition, the committee to report to the board of trustees."

Letters of regret at being unable to be present were presented from Dr. James Douglas, New York; J. K. Macdonald, Toronto; Judge MacTavish and G. F. Henderson, Ottawa.

Reports were received notifying the trustees that G. F. Henderson, Ottawa, had been re-elected to represent the benefactors on the board; that Dr. Adam Shortt, Ottawa, and R. A. Wilson, M.A., Regina, had been elected by the graduates, and W. F. Aikie, M.P., Kingston, by the university council. Hon. Mr. Justice MacLennan, Toronto, and Judge MacTavish, Ottawa, were re-elected, and E. R. Beacock, M.A., London, Eng., was elected a member of the senate.

On the recommendation of the advisory committee of the medical faculty, Dr. G. W. Mylks was appointed professor of pediatrics and gynecology; Dr. A. R. B. Williamson, professor of obstetrics; Dr. F. Etherington, assistant professor of surgery, and Dr. E. D. C. MacCallum, lecturer in clinical medicine. Dr. S. M. Asselstine was appointed Douglas lecturer in pharmacology and J. M. Farrell lecturer in jurisprudence.

In view of the five-year course which has been adopted, it was decided to strengthen the departments of medical physics and medical chemistry, and it was also decided to appoint an assistant professor in physiology and bacteriology and hygiene. A resolution of condolence to Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Smith, of Glencoe, in connection with the unfortunate loss of their daughter, was adopted. Assistant Professor H. T. Wallace was raised to the standing of associate professor in Hebrew.

Queen's Alumnae Tea.

About four hundred of those who attended the convocation ceremonies at Queen's university on Wednesday afternoon took advantage of the tea which was served by the ladies of Queen's alumnae association. The tea was given in aid of the building fund of the woman's residence. About $80 was realized. Miss Etta Henderson was convener of the general committee.
