THE LION AND THE GINGER
The boy that is Ginger Bred,
Is the boy we would like to wed.
Ginger in a boy demands ginger in his clothes. Too much gingerbread will give dyspepsia to the boy or the best model suit, while a same dose of ginger in a boy's make-up or in his suit will give snap, freshness and merit that brings distinction. Lion Brand clothes have this ginger plus longer life. Double elbows and double seats, double the life.
Double up, boys, and get a Lion Suit.

BEAUTIFYING A CITY
ADDRESS GIVEN BY REV. A. H. SCOTT, OF PERTH
In the Board of Trade Rooms—The Horticultural Society Should Urge the City Council to Do Something.
The horticultural enthusiasts of the city were, on Wednesday evening, favored with an able address from Rev. A. H. Scott, of Perth, past president of the Ontario Horticultural association. The meeting was held in the Board of Trade rooms, and a fair-sized audience attended. The president of the Kingston Horticultural association, Ald. R. E. Kent, occupied the chair. The audience was composed of some of the most prominent citizens of Kingston with a good showing of aldermen.
The subject upon which Mr. Scott spoke pertained to the "Owning, Tilling and Beautifying of the Homes and Gardens throughout a city." The speaker in opening gave an account of the various cities he had visited and the way they are being beautified. Toronto and Ottawa are doing considerable along these lines. In the old country, said the speaker, beautifying seemed to be the only object in life, and he described the beautiful gardens, drives, etc., to be met with in France and the British Isles. In the former country, Versailles came in for special mention and in the British Isles, Frognore, Eaton Hall, Chatsworth and Eden Hue. Such places as these are inviting, and a pleasure for the eyes to look upon. They drew large numbers of tourists, thus creating a revenue for the inhabitants. Special mention should here be made of Baltimore, Mr. Scott said, for the way in which the civic fathers have led the citizens of that place in beautifying enterprises.
Two or three of the audience called attention to the shameful way in which Kingston's City Council was acting in this respect. Mr. Scott said: "I took my theological course here in Kingston and I would like to have the limestone city beautified as well as other cities."
If beautification is left to the civic councils it will not be done, said the speaker. It must receive attention from the horticultural societies, which must petition the councils to advance matters along the beautifying lines.
"Before taking his seat," Mr. Scott called upon Ald. Harrison to express his views upon the subject. The latter said that there is hope that Kingston will become beautiful. A competition should be started and prizes awarded for the keepers of the nicest lawns and flower gardens. Kingston could be made a very attractive place, said Ald. Harrison, if the City Council would only devote more time to the matter. Drives could be made to the various historical forts and other places about the city, and be the source of bringing many tourists here at the same time a revenue.
It is Bushell declared that the subject of horticulture should be taken up in the schools, thereby training the child to respect beautifying principles.
Mayor Shaw intends holding a "cleaning-up day" meeting on Thursday evening, and a delegation from the meeting will be present at it. They were Dr. A. P. Chown, Lieut.-Col. J. Massie, J. B. Walken, K.C., and J. Watts.

MOVING TREES FROM INDIA
Coming to the Panama Exposition—Rich Soil Procured.
Old trees from India, Africa and the Philippine Islands have been uprooted, transported by elephants, ox teams, horse and mule-power, electricity, steam and sail to the grounds of the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco. The method employed is interesting, as it was at first thought impossible to re-transported this without a very large percentage of these centuries-old trees dying.
A rectangular cut is made around the base of the tree at some little distance from the edge of the trunk covering the side roots, leaving the bottom root only to nourish the tree, explains a writer in Popular Mechanics. Boards are forced down into these cuts to prevent the side roots from growing together again, and the tree is then left undisturbed for six months. By that time the tree has become accustomed to living through its bottom roots, and these are now severed, and beards are pulled over on its side.
The boards are then secured into a rough box, wrapped heavily with fire rope, and the tree lifted by derrick to the shipping point by such power as is available.

SHOULD BUY KINGSTON BRICK
And Thus Support Home Industries—A Word to the People.
Albert Neal, for the past two years manager of the Kingston Brick and Tile company, limited, Division street, has now taken over the plant and is preparing to start making brick, and expects to have brick burned ready for the market in the course of a few weeks. In the meantime he has a quantity of superior brick, both hard and soft, in the yard and will deliver them to any part of the city, and begs to point out to the citizens of Kingston the number of fine residences and factories already built of the brick manufactured in this yard, which will bear comparison with any brick being shipped in from outside points.
In view of the fact that there has already been large sums of money spent in Kingston, he feels it only right to ask for at least a share of home patronage.
There are at present a number of men unemployed, and if the citizens will encourage home industries they make it possible to give these men work, and keep the money in Kingston.

Distress of Mind From Nervous Exhaustion
Fear of Insanity—Dread of the Future—Depressed Spirits Disappear When Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is Used.
You may be accustomed to think of physical suffering as the greatest to which man is subjected. This is not so. Compare the sufferings of a man with a broken leg, for example, with the mental anguish of the nerve-racked patient who lives in constant dread of some terrible calamity or of losing his mind. Nothing can be more horrible to contemplate. Is it not right, therefore, to consider that no suffering is comparable to the anguish experienced by the victim of diseases of the nerves.
You will read here the experience of a nurse who feared for the loss of her mind, so greatly were her nerves exhausted. She is now enthusiastic in praising Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to her patients.
Mrs. R. J. Billings, nurse, North Bay, Ont., writes:—"I am happy to be able to say that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is fully worth all the praise given it. I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for some time, and would not be without it in the house. I know that if it had not been for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I would have been out of my mind. My nerves were so far gone that I had gloomy forebodings of the future and feared the loss of reason. I feel fine now and do not lose an opportunity of recommending this treatment to my patients."
There can be no mistake about such evidence as this, for the better you know Mrs. Billings the more certain you will be of the value of her statement. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50¢ a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

DISSOLUTION SUIT.
Eastman Kodak Company Loses First Step in Fight.
Buffalo, N.Y., April 30.—The Eastman Kodak company has lost the first step in its fight against the dissolution suit brought against it by the government. Judge Hazel directed that the company must produce its books, alleged black-list, and its so-called "Bible" in federal court at Rochester on May 25th.
The books, correspondence files and papers cover the business for the last twenty years—literally carloads of data and information.
There was a bitter tussle over the question whether the moving picture film business could come under the scope of the investigation. Judge Hazel ruled that movie films were proper photographic supplies and that that end of the business came under the suit filed by the government.

TOWN OF GANANOQUE
DEATH OF MRS. ELIJAH JACKSON WEDNESDAY.
Art Exhibit in Armoury—The New Postoffice Building Will Not be Opened on 1st of May.
Gananoque, April 30.—Julia I. Lloyd, wife of Elijah B. Jackson, passed away at the family residence, Princess street, yesterday, after an illness of some considerable duration. Deceased was well known throughout this section, and was held in high esteem by her many friends. For many years they operated a farm a few miles west of this town, and only recently sold out and moved into the town. Besides her husband she leaves one son, George, located in the western provinces, and two daughters, the Misses Edith and Lenora, at home, the latter a third-form pupil of Gananoque high school. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence, Princess street, to Christ church, where the rector, Rev. Walter Cox, will conduct the last rites of the Anglican church and the remains will be laid to rest in Willow Bank cemetery.
Three degrees came so promising young Gananoqueans from the recent examinations at Queen's. The degree of M.B. to Royal P. Lee, son of the late John Lee; B.A. to Harry Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Barnes, Princess street, and C.E. to Douglas Bews, son of D. W. Bews, Garden street.
The senior third form of the King street public school held a convocation yesterday as their teacher was spending the day in Kingston.
The art exhibit at the new armoury, under the auspices of the local public schools, was formally opened by Mayor W. J. Gibson last evening. There was a very fair attendance. Besides the vast number of pictures a musical programme was furnished. The ticket-selling of the school children has proved the zeal of the youngsters for a better condition of things in the line of adornment for their class rooms.
The new post office, which is rapidly nearing completion, will in all probability not be ready for opening to the public on May 1st, as was expected.
Miss Alice De Witt, who has been located in Kingston for several months, is spending a short time in town with relatives.
In the church bowling league series at the Inn alley on Tuesday evening the Methodist aggregation defeated the Anglicans by 700 pins. John Gould was high man for the winners and C. Cowan for the losers.
