Radway's Ready Relief

Frank Mair, 420 6th St., New York, writes: "My wife suddenly fell very sick with influenza. I called in the doctor, but he failed to help her any. We have no time to be sick. So I bought a box of Radway's Ready Relief and gave her one according to Radway's directions, and she went back to work two days later."

GOLDS AND COUGHS

"Apply the Relief to the throat and chest with the rubber sponges and radium. Give Radway's Pills in such doses as will freely move the bowels. For a cold take a large dose Radway's Pills and a teaspoonful of Relief with a teaspoonful of molasses, in a tumbler of hot water. Relief at once. In the morning the cold will be gone."

READ this OPINION Of the Largest Jack Manufacturer in the Whole World About Zutoo Tablets

"I have been a sufferer from headache since childhood and have used all, or nearly all, of the so-called 'cures' on the market. Some months since my attention was called to your Zutoo Tablets and I have been using them ever since. I find they cure a 'sick' or 'nervous' headache in a few minutes and leave no bad effect. My family use them whenever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from headache, and they never failed to give quick relief. I find them a good remedy for 'neur' stomach as well as headache. I always carry them in my grip on the road and would not be without them at any cost."

Confessions of Church Treasurer

Proportionately, the Poor Give Infinitely More to the Church Than the Well-to-Do; Church People Have Not Been Taught to Give.

A certain class of church-goers must sing with great joy the line "Salvation is free for you and me," says a writer in the Congregationalist, and he adds that they consider it an absolute free as to feel "under no obligation to pay a cent for their share of it." The statement proceeds from a man who has been a church treasurer for twenty-one years and now for the first time breaks his silence about some of his discoveries in the realm of giving, reminding us that a church treasurer learns things no one else in the church may learn, many of which are rather amazing. For instance, he mentions the large number in some churches who give nothing at all toward their support; and he contrasts the man with an income of $200 a month who gives fifty cents on Sunday, with the washerwoman who gives the same amount. Proportionately, we are informed, "the poor give infinitely more than the well-to-do," while those who give least usually have most to say about how the church should be run. The writer cites some amusing apologies of members who have fallen behind in their contributions and speaks of others who when gently urged to pay their subscriptions treated him respectfully and accused him of un-Christianlike behavior. Nevertheless he has a word of appreciation for "the true-hearted men and women" who do their duty in the support of their church, and ventures the hope that the other kind may soon be "educated up to giving." On the subject of the greater generosity of the poor we read:

"The church treasurer who is making these reflections has on his books names of persons with incomes of but ten and twelve dollars a week who give from fifty cents to a dollar of this income every week to the various offerings of the church. He could, if he need be, produce the names of several working-girls receiving from five to seven dollars a week whose regular weekly contributions to the church alone are from forty to fifty cents, and all of these girls live away from home and pay room rent and board. He could place beside these names a long list of names of persons whose wages exceed $25 a week who give from twenty-five to forty cents a week. He could give the name of a widow with four children all under fifteen years of age, and the needle of this poor woman is the chief support of the family. Two of the boys earn a small sum before and after school, but it is doubtful if the combined income of the family exceeds twelve dollars, but this mother and each of her children have a package of church contribution envelopes and these envelopes are dropped into the contribution basket every Sunday of the year. There may be Sundays when only one member of the family appears at church, but when that happens, and it happens seldom, all five of the envelopes come with that member of the family.

"In contrast to this it would be easily possible to give the name of a well-to-do family of six persons, the husband and father of which is the only person having envelopes. He gives a dollar a Sunday for the entire family to 'save the bother' of all the family, having envelopes. The moral effect of each member of the family having his or her own envelopes and giving regularly and systematically is lost sight of, while the treasurer fails to wonder how this man can feel that a dollar a week is a fair and generous offering for six persons in a family in which the combined income must be well on to one hundred dollars a week."

Only an abundant sense of humor can keep a church treasurer from becoming sour and cynical, we are told by the writer, who says, in comparing the giving habits of young people that "girls and women are more conscientious than boys and men" and give more generously of their income.

BAKED WAVES IS LATEST

Women Can Have Curls That Will Last Year.

Literally speaking, the price is about $200. Figuratively speaking, it has a bad effect on the hair, but what else could you expect when the process is a sort of a baking?

This takes four hours, but in the end—behold!—Miss Vanity has her hair naturally (?) wavy hair!

What a relief—no more electric hair curlers, not curling irons. And the hair can be shampooed and brushed to the heart's content, without destroying the adored and fascinating wave.

It is a pity that it does not really last the rest of one's natural life, as it is supposed to do.

To tell the truth, a year is about the usual life of these baked waves, but—well, even that is a miracle, and many a Mistress Vanity will be willing to pay the price each year, as well as almost ruin her hair into the bargain!

When is the Prime of Life?

Living Church.

A Chicago man, a leader in the commercial life of that city, is quoted as saying: "Among the men I hire, nine out of ten are better workers at forty-five years of age than are the men of twenty-five or thirty." This man firmly believes that the man of forty-five or thereabouts is at the prime of life, physically and mentally. He also holds that men of mature years are more reliable and less apt to become restless after a year or two in a position and to seek new fields. The average young man, he says, is seeking a "soft snap," and is not the sort of employee who will stick by his employer through thick and thin until his services become highly valuable, and in many cases indispensable. We often hear young men complain of their inability to get settled. That is largely because they do not settle, do not seek to adjust themselves to their work and make the most of their opportunity. Opportunity seldom knocks at our doors. We must knock at the door of opportunity, and be prepared to push the door a little if necessary.

Retribution may be slow in getting started, but it makes up time on the last few laps of the journey.
