THE DAM CONTROVERSY

COMPANY AND TOWNSHIP REPRESENTATIVES MET.

At the Court House Thursday Afternoon to Talk Over What Could be Done on the Napanee River.

The dam controversy between the Napanee River Improvement Company and the authorities of the townships of Portland and Hinchinbrooke came up for a lengthy discussion on Thursday afternoon at the court house. The meeting was presided over by W. D. Black, M.P.P., A. B. Colville, of Toronto, and N. R. Gibson, of Niagara Falls, two representatives of the Seymour company which has a deciding interest in the first-named corporation took the part of defending the Napanee River Improvement company against the combined authorities of the two townships, which were represented by J. E. Freeman, of Portland, and C. G. McKnight, of Hinchinbrooke.

As far as the meeting went, nothing satisfactory was arranged because, after M. Cronk, of Hinchinbrooke, had placed a direct question at Mr. Colville it appeared evident that the latter did not have any too much authority to act by way of giving concessions towards arriving at an amicable settlement. Mr. Cronk was followed by W. D. Black, M. P., who stated that there was no use of prolonging the discussion any further, seeing that everything was cut and dried.

Mr. Freeman who knows every square foot of the country in the trouble district advanced several methods by which a settlement might be arrived at. He proposed to increase the height of the dams at Fourteen Island lake so that an additional four feet of water or more might be held there surplus for the dry season of the year, and at the same time creating a better water power than the company has got at present. By doing this, the townships would like to have all the other dams removed and prevent the drowning of this valuable land.

The engineer for the company, N. R. Gibson, however could not figure out how this scheme would materialize. "We have no further offer to make than this," declared Mr. Freeman. "We have also got advice from several experts and they have all told us that it is a public nuisance. We are willing to take it upon ourselves to do certain improvements. I, as a representative of Portland, assert that as far as this township is concerned, the residents will either have to move out or be taken out."

Mr. Freeman declared that the company had not been dealing fairly with the people and "when we have started to complain it would simply remove the stop logs in the dams and let the water above until it thought us dormant. Then it would place them back and cause the former results. We are not going to stand for it much longer, and we are going to fight it to a finish. The dam could be raised at Fourteen Island Lake and I will guarantee that would remedy matters considerably."

Engineer N. R. Gibson, for the Napanee River Improvement company, said that it does not require an engineer to figure it out that this scheme would not be feasible. E. Jackson, of Camden, declared that the company should pay all damages that have been inflicted, because the charter reads that such is the case. Mr. Jackson also asserted that the only reason why the company's representatives did not have the charter, with them to-day, was because they were afraid to show it.

M. Cronk, of Hinchinbrooke, declared that the government had made a blunder in awarding a charter to this company. In turn the latter had stolen the people's land and intended to keep it forever, giving them in exchange land to settle on that is rapidly breeding disease caused by the stagnant water held back by this company.

"In summer time the water gets hot and would sicken a dog," declared Mr. Cronk. "The law says a public nuisance cannot exist, but still this company is acting in reverse manner to judgment."

C. G. McKnight, of Hinchinbrooke, stated that "we should have just as free air to breathe as anyone else." Other remarks were made by Mr. VanVels, of Verona, Ben Revell, of Bell Rock, and a couple of others. Mr. Colville, the Seymour representative, said that they were there to arbitrate and settle the question. However, nothing was done towards a settlement anymore than Mr. Colville saying that he would write to the company and see what concessions can be granted.

SAUSAGES FOR KAISER.

That Was Cause of Violation of Sunday Law.

Berlin, May 8.—Because the Kaiser forgot her "marketing" on Saturday, and the Kaiser was hungry for "sausages" on Sunday, is no excuse for a delicatessen dealer violating the "Sunday rest" law. This is the decision of one of the superior courts in Berlin. The delicatessen dealer in question received a hurried telephone order on Sunday, asking him to rush a goodly quantity of sausages, bologna and boiled ham to the palace. The Kaiser wanted them for supper. The dealer sent a delivery boy with a tricycle who was stopped by a policeman. The dealer was found guilty of violating the Sunday rest law and was fined $125. He appealed, claiming that law violation was excusable when done for "public interest."

He contended that when the Kaiser is hungry for sausages it was "for the public interest" to deliver them to him even on Sunday. The higher court held that no exception could be made for the Kaiser.

Prevost, Brock street, has received all his spring and summer goods for his order clothing department, also in ready-made clothing and gents' furnishing department. They are all well assorted with new goods.

MOTHER'S DAY.
The wizard of fate, through the hand divine,
Touched the heart strings of life with Holy design,
That Heaven's anteroom might entertain
In her tender breast,
Mother-love brightens the landscape of life
Shedding pure rays on this world of strife
With its roseate hues of beauty rife
Calm, peace and rest.
Mother is the most sacred name on earth
In Creation's magic line of birth
The Original needing an Icon of worth,
Gave a mother
The vestments of pure piety blending
With angelic love—that upward tending
Brings out the best—Heavenward bending
As can no other.
Gentlest music is her voice emotion
The Alchemy of Life has refined each portion
In complete accord and Christ-like devotion
To purest gold.
Far in her past lies the fresh blush of May,
The fulness of June is now far away,
Time on fleet wing has turned her hair grey
In life's chalice old.
The world to-day is a snow-white bower,
Symbol of fadeless Eden flower;
To the army of mothers, our nation's power
We homage bring.
Let us thrill to the magic of mother's day
May loving deeds and care repay,
To cheer life's loneliness times away
On love-laden wing E. E. H.

MOTHER'S DAY—Sunday, May 10
The bravest battle that ever was fought!
Shall I tell you where and when?
On the maps of the world you will find it not;
'Twas fought by the mothers of men.
Nay, not with cannon or battle shot,
With sword or nobler pan!
Nay, not with eloquent word or thought,
From mouths of wonderful men.
But deep in a walled-up woman's heart,
A woman that would not yield,
But bravely, silently, bore her part—
Lo! there is that battle field.
No marshalling troop, no bivouac song,
No banner to gleam and wave;
But, oh! these battles, they last so long,
From babyhood to the grave.
Yet, faithful still as a bridge of stars,
She lights in her walled-up town,
Fights on and on in the endless wars;
Then, silent, unseen, goes down.

Workless March to Ottawa.
Calgary, Alta., May 8.—Local I. W. W. leaders have the unemployed march from Calgary across the dominion to Ottawa to present a petition to the premier for work, similar to the trek of Coxey's army across the United States twenty years ago. The idea was brought up by speakers at an out-of-door mass meeting of the unemployed, and was received enthusiastically.

SPRING WAS BACKWARD
But Seeding Was Carried on in South and West Ontario.
Toronto, May 8.—According to the report of the Dominion Meteorological service for April, in Ontario and the eastern portions of the country the important features of the precipitation were some heavy local rains towards the close of the month in Ontario, a severe storm of rain, sleet and snow which passed over the maritime provinces on the 2nd, and a heavy snowstorm in Cape Breton on the 6th. The precipitation of the month was, with a few exceptions, below the normal for British Columbia to the Lake Superior district, while from Georgian Bay and Lake Huron eastward it was above in some localities and below in others. In the western provinces, in some southern districts of Saskatchewan and in Alberta, it was particularly light.
In Ontario the early part of the month was mostly cold and unsettled, while, after the 14th, except for two rather severe cold waves which occurred about the 19th and 29th, the weather in the southern and western parts of the province was mostly favorable.
Spring was rather backward in Ontario, and while seeding was fairly generally carried on in the southern and western portions of the province during the latter half of the month, there were few signs of spring in the northern districts, where thick ice still covered some of the lakes and ponds on the 30th.

MAIL CLERK EXPLAINS
Touch of Pouch Too Tempting—Sentenced to Three Years
Harrisburg, Pa., May 8.—William R. Baum, the railway postal clerk, who, in July, 1912, stole $20,000 from the registered letter pouch between Pittsburgh and New York, pleaded guilty in the United States district court and was sent to the penitentiary for three years.
"As the car swung around a curve just out of Pittsburgh," said Baum to Judge Witmer, "the registered letter pouch was thrown against me, and I saw the other clerk was asleep, and the temptation was too great."
About $9,000 of the money was recovered, the bulk of the balance going into bucket shops and an automobile.
