"NO SECOND CHANCE"

ASSERTS BIBLE LECTURER IN IDEAL THEATRE

Declares That Heathen Who Have Not Yet Had Their First Chance Will Get It Before Being Eternally Doomed.

"Two Salvations, but No Second Chance," was the subject of the I. B. S. A. Bible lecture delivered Sunday afternoon in the Ideal theatre, by Joseph Frappy, of Stirling.

The speaker was emphatic in his declaration against a second chance, though he admitted the possibility of viewing the matter from different standpoints. Some hold that every time the infidel hears the church bell ring he has a chance to be saved, that most of them have had thousands of chances. Others claim that about the time the poor infidel has heard the church bell and makes up his mind to go to church and learn of God, his ears are nearly deafened with the din of pealing forth from many other church bells, each with a different doctrine. All is confusion. What shall he believe? Which is right? Will he ever get a chance of hearing the truth real from God's word without its being warped and twisted to suit the many human creeds and traditions of christianity? Has such a man had a fair chance to believe and be saved?

A chance for salvation, according to the lecturer, implies a chance of attaining perfect life, a life unclouded with death and its concomitants, a life therefore which will never end. Such a life was originally bestowed upon the human race, but the father of the race of sin brought upon himself and consequently upon his posterity the curse of death; for "the wages of sin is death." Death has reigned ever since, and would continue until the whole race is extinct, were it not that Christ became a man like Adam, to satisfy the claims of justice against Adam and his offspring.

It is by the grace of God, therefore, that man has a chance to be saved, and the salvation provided for them, are most heartless and unmerciful. Such are proving themselves quite unworthy of the favor of God.

The speaker endeavored to point out from the scriptures two salvations, entirely separate and distinct, the one for the church and the other for the world. He thought that it would be difficult in our day and time to find any one so narrow-minded as to believe that only the few saintly ones will be saved, while the great mass of mankind, good, bad and indifferent, will be heartless and unmerciful.

Those who study their Bibles are coming to see that while the church will be rewarded with a place in the heavenly realms with the Lord, there will be a salvation provided for all who will, in paradise, the earth brought to the full beauty of perfection. The great salvation pertaining to the church, the scriptures say, "be glad to be spoken by our Lord," at His first advent. All, therefore, who lived before that time, together with all sinners who are not of the church, will be with the close of this age, be granted a chance for eternal life on earth.

In conclusion, the speaker appealed to his hearers not to be lax, thinking that if they sin in this life, they will get another chance. He said that every willful sinner who is punished, then in the world's judgment day some will receive few stripes and some many. Those who are getting their full chance now will never have another.

He is wise, therefore, to come into full relationship with the Heavenly Father as soon as possible, understanding His wonderful love, we should feel like the more like drawing near to Him. It is the gross misrepresentations of His character that have driven the masses away from God in fear.

Rev. Henry Gracey, of Gananoque, preached twice in St. Andrew's church on Sunday, exchanging pulpits with Rev. S. J. M. Compton. Mr. Gracey delivered two fine discourses. He has been minister of St. Andrew's, Gananoque, for thirty-six years. Van will leave Bruce's livery, 290 Princess street, every day, except Monday and Saturday, at 2 p.m., for Cataract cemetery.

At St. Andrew's church, on Sunday evening, Miss Grace Mitchell sang "Come Unto Me," from Handel, the rendering of which was very effective and acceptable. You will never regret using White Rose flour.

The late Dr. M. I. Beeman, of Newburgh, was a former major in the 47th regiment.

FOR DELICATE CHILDREN

A Mother's Letter to Mothers Mrs. E. W. Cooper, of Bloomfield, N.J., says: "My child, seven years old, had a bad cold and was weak and quite run down in health. She had been in this condition for about six weeks when I began giving her Vinol. It was a wonderful help to the child, breaking up her cough quickly and building up her strength. Beside, I have also found Vinol a most excellent tonic for keeping up the children's strength during a siege of whooping cough."

Vinol is a wonderful combination of two world-famous tonics—the medicinal body building elements of cod liver oil and iron for the blood, therefore it is a perfectly safe medicine for children, because it is not a patent medicine, everything in it is printed on every package, so mothers may know what they are giving their little ones.

Therefore we ask every mother of a weak, sickly or ailing child in this vicinity to try Vinol on our guarantee. Geo. W. Mahood, druggist, Kingston, Ont.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Left for the West. Ian Revelle, B.A., College street, has secured a position at Hyas, Sask., and left on the noon train on Saturday.

Take Notice. Finkle's touring car for Cataract cemetery commencing Sunday, May 10th, 1.45 p.m., from 120 Clarence street, up Brock street.

Go to the West.

Rev. James Wallace, B.D., pastor of St. Andrew's church, Lindsay, has tendered his resignation, which was accepted by the presbytery. Mr. Wallace leaves immediately, to take charge of an important appointment in western Canada.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Higgenbotham, Guelph, announce the engagement of their daughter, Edith Maud (Daisy), to J. Gladstone Hardy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hardy, of Toronto. The marriage will take place early in June. J. P. Hardy is a nephew of John Corbett and Miss Corbett, King street.

Go a Little Further.

Rev. G. I. Campbell, in mentioning the clean-up days, intimated that the city fathers might go a little further and make the clean-up of a lot of growing animals that infested the streets. There should be regulation as to dogs wandering about, some of them very vicious and generally annoying.

Adulterated Ice Cream.

Of ten samples of ice cream, examined by James Hogan, local food inspector for the inland revenue department, seven were found genuine and three adulterated. The good stuff was found in the stores of N. D. Grimm, T. Sackell, H. P. Pappas, H. T. Price and George Masoud.

Dr. M. I. Beeman Dies

Dr. M. I. Beeman, Newburgh, died as a result of a stroke, aged sixty-three, after having been in failing health for the past year. He practiced in the country forty years. He was a prominent conservative. He was a member of the Provincial Board of Health. His funeral was set for Monday.

Barge Caught Fire.

Fire from some unknown cause started on the barge Lavington, on the ways, at the Montreal Transportation company's yards Sunday morning, at 8.45 o'clock, but it was caught in time and only slight damage was done. An alarm was sent to the firemen from Box 3 and one line of hose was used.

Sunday School Association

At a meeting of the City Sunday School Association, held in the Y.M.C.A. building, on Sunday afternoon, it was decided to have a gathering in June for the purpose of arranging some matters in connection with the Provincial Sunday School Association which is to hold its annual gathering in Kingston next fall.

Methodist District Meeting

The Kingston district meeting of the Methodist churches will be held on May 20th and 21st, in Sydenham street Methodist church. Rev. Dr. Ryckman will preach on the evening of the 20th, after which the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed. Rev. Melvin Taylor, of Gananoque, is chairman and Rev. John Webster financial secretary of the Kingston Methodist district.

The Lemieux Act.

Prof. W. W. Swanson, of Queen's, declares that one of the best acts ever placed upon the statute books in this country is the Lemieux act, passed in parliament under the supervision of Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux. It is said that Dr. Adair Shortt was chiefly responsible for the principles laid down in that famous measure. However, that may be, it can justly be said that this act has saved millions of dollars to the country and has prevented untold misery to the working classes through the adoption of the principle of compulsory arbitration.

Where Delay Is Useless

It is possible for some people to put off wearing glasses for a long time after they really need them, and they do so at the expense of unnecessary strain on the delicate eye nerves and muscles. An expensive engine might run a long time without oiling, but not smoothly. The friction would become greater and greater until it is ruined, and stops. Give your eyes at least as much consideration as you would a good engine. If you feel that your eyes do not perform their functions properly consult our eye-sight specialist, H. C. Brown, Oph.D. Delay is useless if not dangerous to your sight, Rodger Optical Parlors, 347 King street.

"Within the Law"

At the Grand Opera House on Tuesday, May 12th, "Within the Law," Bayard Vellier's tremendous successful melodrama, which ran for nearly two years at the Eldorado theatre, New York city, will be seen for one night. This four-act play, which made the fame of its author in a single night, tells an absorbing story of modern conditions in New York life, and has received the public endorsement not only of the president, but of prominent men and women identified with literature, art, politics and the drama. Among those who have lent their names as a guarantee of the worth-while qualities of Mr. Vellier's up-to-date play, may be mentioned, besides Woodrow Wilson, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch, the suffrage leader; Julius Harburger, sheriff of New York county; David Belasco, the great theatrical producer; George S. Dougherty, police commissioner of New York, and every dramatic critic in the metropolis, including Alan Dale, who wrote of the play, "If you don't thrill, you should; if you are of the right sort, you will."
