WILL COUNCIL ADOPT FOR THEFT OF COLT

RECOMMENDATION TO PAVE PRINCESS ABOVE CLERGY?

Some Aldermen Are Opposed to Board of Works Report — The Street is in Need of Some Good Pavement.

This evening the City Council will be asked to adopt the report of the Board of Works recommending that asphaltic concrete be laid on Princess street, from Clergy to Alfred streets, and that the tender of Foley & Gleason, of Ottawa, for $34,819, be accepted.

There is opposition to the recommendation on the part of several aldermen, but citizens in general seem to be in favor of putting down a pavement on the blocks above named, now that they have been torn up by the street railway for double tracking. The railway company ceased operations ten days ago in order to allow the council to decide how it would pave the blocks in question.

Ald. Graham and Nickle favor paving the street from the curb to eight inches on either side of the rails. The former claims that the expense is too much for the property owners along the blocks involved, which are residential. Ald. Nickle claims that asphaltic concrete has not been successfully laid against such a light rail as the street railway company is putting down. Ald. Fair holds the same view.

In opposition to this contention, Ald. Litton, chairman of the Board of Works, quotes W. F. Graves, chief engineer of construction of the Metropolitan Tramways, who when here a week ago in connection with the pavement on the lower portion of Princess street. Mr. Graves stated, after looking over the asphaltic concrete specifications, that the latter were all right, and that the pavement should be quite satisfactory.

Five out of six members of the Board of Works are in favor of asphaltic concrete being laid right across the roadway, and think that the council should accept the tender of Foley & Gleason. They say that this section of Princess street, although in the residential section, is one of the most travelled places in the city, all the York Road and Division street traffic from the country coming over it.

DIVER FAILS TO FIND

The Bodies of Cadets Logie and Smith in Harbor.

George H. Myers, submarine diver, of Hamilton, who has been in the city for the past week for the purpose of making a thorough search for the bodies of Cadets Logie and Smith, who were drowned in the Kingshach harbor on May 2nd, 1913, when they were crossing in their canoe from Garden Island to the Royal Military College shore, has given up the search.

The tug William Johnson, owned by the Calvin company, of Garden Island, was used by the diver, who made a search for a considerable distance.

The diver was brought here by Captain Logie, of Hamilton, father of one of the dead cadets, in a last endeavor to locate the body.

SET ASIDE CONVICT

Labor Won a Great Victory in Supreme Court.

Washington, May 11.—Organized labor obtained a great victory, here to-day, when the supreme court of the United States set aside the conviction of President Gompers, former Vice-President John Mitchell and Secretary Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, for contempt of court, in the celebrated Bucks stove case. The court decided that the statute of limitations barred their prosecution. The jail sentences of thirty days and $500 fines, imposed on the defendants, were set aside by this judgment.

HERBERT JOHNSON, AN EX-CONVICT IN TOLLS AGAIN.

Animal Taken From Stable of Alfred Burnett, Near Cataragui Saturday Night, and Recovered Monday Morning — Colt Was Sold for $50.

Constables Bateson and Nicholson did quick work in finding a two-year-old colt which was stolen, Saturday night, from the stable of Alfred Burnett, living a mile and a half the other side of Cataragui. They recovered the colt on Monday morning, and at the same time placed under arrest Herbert Johnson, aged twenty-four, an ex-convict, charged with the theft, and he has admitted the offence. He will come before Magistrate Farrell, in the police court, on Tuesday morning.

The theft was a bold one. Some time during Saturday night the colt was taken from the stable, and it is alleged that Sunday morning, Johnson sold the animal, which was valued at $150, to a man named Robert Reid, employed as an attendant at Rockwood asylum, for $50. It appears that after getting possession of the colt, Reid got wise to the fact that it had been stolen. He secured his mount back from Johnson, and returned the colt. The constables got a tip-off the little transaction, and by closely following up the case, were able to catch both Johnson and the missing colt in record time.

Johnson lives in Portsmouth, and the constables went in search of him on Monday morning. Arriving at the house, they knocked on the door, but there was no response. They knocked again. But still there was no answer. Believing that there was some person on the inside, they set about on a little plan of their own to seek admittance, for it was plain to be seen that there was no welcome on the mat for the bluecoats. Their plan was to secure a ladder nearby, and get into the house via an upstairs window.

They got the ladder, put it up against the window and were about to carry out the rest of the programme when the front door was opened. Johnson was soon in the arms of the law. He was removed to the cells, but the case could not come up on Monday morning, as the plaintiff, Burnett, could not appear in court. He was in Gananoque, on Monday morning, endeavoring to get trace of the missing animal and happened to be in the office of the chief of police at Gananoque, when the local police sent word that the lost had been found. He then returned home. Johnson was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, at Napawan, in 1911, for horse stealing.

Two Bicyclists Collided

Two men riding bicycles on King street to-day near the city park had a head-on collision in which it was hard to decide who suffered most. The water-wagon had just been over the road and one of the rider's bicycle slid as he was turning out, and as a result there was quite a little excitement for a time.
