GRADUATING NURSES

PRESENTATIONS OF DIPLOMAS, MEDALS AND PRIZES.

At Commencement Exercises of Kingston General Hospital Training School for Nurses — Address to Graduating Class.

Twelve graduating nurses seven of whom reside in Kingston, stood on the platform in Grant Hall, on Monday evening, and took the pledge of Florence Nightingale, to care for the sick and the suffering. It was a most solemn declaration, made before a large audience, and marked the starting of their noble calling.

The occasion was the twenty-sixth annual commencement exercises of the Kingston General Hospital Training School for Nurses. F. G. Lockett occupied the chair, and the programme, in addition to the presentation of diplomas, hospital emblem pins, gold and silver medals, and prizes to the intermediate and junior classes, included a choice musical programme. The proceedings were of a most interesting nature. Following is a list of the graduates:

Miss Jean Dawson, Portsmouth; Miss Elsie Pearl Martin, Kingston; Miss Eva Margaret Dalgleish, Smith's Falls; Miss Estella May Reid, Kingston; Miss Anna McCaul Hiscock, Kingston; Miss Rebecca Harkness, Kingston; Miss Edna Jean Rolston, Metcalfe; Miss Annie L. Gibson, Kingston; Miss Nellie Jane Christie, Tillicoultry, Scotland; Miss Edith Huberta Coulter, Barrie; Miss Anna Augusta Wright, Kingston; Miss Mabel Gertrude Allison, Wolfe Island.

The Nurses' Pledge
The pledge which the nurses recited, led by Miss Claudia Boskell, superintendent of nurses reads as follows:

"I solemnly pledge before God and in the presence of this assembly to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. I will do all in my power to maintain and elevate the standard of my profession and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my calling.

"With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care."

Members of the board of hospital governors occupied seats on the platform and with the graduates, and members of the junior and intermediate classes, formed in procession, and marched to the platform, at the opening.

Rev. E. LeRoy Rice, was called upon to offer the opening prayer, after which the chairman, F. G. Lockett, made a few remarks.

A special feature of the evening was the address to the graduating class, delivered by Miss Charlotte A. Aikens, of Detroit. Miss Aikens, who is an fluent speaker, is recognized as an authority on the work of nurses, and is the author of several books on the work of nurses.

The proceedings were advertised to take place in convocation hall, but the audience which assembled was so large that an adjournment had to be made to Grant hall. Convocation hall had undergone elaborate decorations for the occasion. The large audiences at these annual events testify to the keen interest taken in the welfare of the hospital by the general public.

Chairman's Address
Mr. Lockett said he had been asked to take the chair by A. F. Chown, chairman of the board of governors of the hospital. He referred to the important stage in the training of the nurses, when they had completed three years' work, and were ready to go out to care for the sick and suffering. He also referred to the Empire wing recently opened as a result of the money donated by friends of the institution.

In a very happy and pleasing address, Governor Chown presented the diplomas to the graduates. He compared the work of the nurses of long ago with those of to-day, and in an impressive manner pointed out to the graduates that in having reached the present stage of their profession, they had not by any means reached the limit of their experience.

An interesting part of the programme followed the address of Captain Grout, when Mrs. H. A. Calvin, representing the Kingston Woman's Aid of the hospital, and Mrs. J. E. Robinson, of the Napanee Woman's Aid, were called to the platform to present to the members of the graduating class the hospital emblem pins.

Address to Graduates
Dr. H. A. Boyce introduced Miss Charlotte A. Aikens, of Detroit, who addressed the graduates. While so doing he took occasion to extend sincere thanks to the citizens generally who subscribed the magnificent sum which was the means of the erection of the handsome new Empire wing at the hospital, recently opened.

Pain of Lumbago
Cured by Austrian Doctor's Prescription
Dr. Stehr, a famous specialist of Vienna, discovered a prescription that has been endorsed by the medical profession throughout the world, as a harmless and quick relief for those terrible afflictions, Lumbago and Sciatica.

This unfailing remedy is called Kephaldol and has proved to thousands that in cases of severe nervous pain, no matter what the cause, it will afford quick relief. Sufferers from Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Nervous Headache, etc., will find relief with the first tablet. If you find difficulty in obtaining locally, send 50c. direct to the manufacturers who will immediately forward you a large tube. Kephaldol Limited, 21 Latour St., Montreal.

pire wing at the hospital, recently opened. Dr. Boyce also referred to the increased grant of the City Council, and returned thanks for the generous donation. Kingston and Napanee ladies were thanked for their share of the work.

Miss Aikens spoke on "Practical Ideals in Nursing," and in an able manner set forth the work of the nurse, and how it could be made a success. She went into the work, in detail, and explained how the nurse should meet every emergency. One of the outstanding features was that the nurse should, in every place, have the plain, every day quality of being kind. Self should be spelt with a small "s," and everything possible should be done to avoid becoming hardened and indifferent to the work, and narrow minded.

The nurse should remember that so far as the comfort and care of the patient was concerned there was nothing that could be done which was below her dignity. The opportunities for service were outlined.

Owing to parliamentary duties, W. F. Nickle, M. P., was unable to attend, to present the gold medal to the winner, Miss Edith Coulter. Col. Massie was called then to make the presentation for Mr. Nickle, and in doing so, paid a very warm tribute to the work of the graduating class. He said that this year every graduate appeared on the honor list, and this showed up remarkably well for the training at the hospital. The recipient of the gold medal had carried off honors each year of her training.

Dr. A. E. Ross, M. P., presented his prize of a silver medal to the winner, Miss Edna Rolston.

Dr. Boyce presented the intermediate class prize from the board of governors, won by Miss Martha Stewart.

Dr. A. R. B. Williamson presented the junior class prize for the mechanical staff, won by Miss Olivia Wilson.

The musical programme included songs by J. D. Bankier, "Once Again" (Sullivan) and "Banjo Song" (Sidney Horner); song by Phillip Macdonnell, in the place of Miss Hazel Massie, who was indisposed; violin solo, Miss Christina Cochran; songs, "The Island of Dreams," by Harold S. Angrove, and "To Sevilla," by Miss Annie Tweddell.

Mrs. J. R. C. Dobbs and Mrs. J. B. Cochrane were the accompanists of the evening.

The proceedings closed with the singing of the national anthem.

It Pays to Advertise.

It pays to advertise. While going from Convocation hall to Grant hall, on Monday evening, Mrs. Dalgleish, of Smith's Falls, mother of Miss Margaret Dalgleish, one of the graduating nurses, at the general hospital, lost a diamond necklace. The chairman, F. G. Lockett announced the loss to the audience, shortly after the meeting opened, and in less time than it takes to tell the story, the missing necklace was left with the chairman. It had been picked up by a member of the audience. The chairman said it was secured as quickly as a Whig advertisement would have found it.

PUTS ON A HOUSEBOAT

WILL BE ONE OF THE BEST ON THE RIVER.

Cape Vincent, N. Y., May 12.—L. L. Peo, of this village, is engaged in fitting out the houseboat Pamella, which he recently purchased from the Maxwell estate. This is one of the finest houseboats on the St. Lawrence river, and it is Mr. Peo's intention to have her for charter during the coming season. The Pamella is 102 feet long, with a beam of 24 feet, and draft of 28 inches, having a living room on the main deck, 12 by 18 feet, finely furnished with fire place, book racks, books and lounges. The dining room is 10 by 16 feet, and the kitchen 12 by 15 feet, containing range, hot and cold water and refrigerator. There are nine large airy sleeping rooms all furnished with spring beds, bed clothing and hot and cold water in each room. The two bath rooms, cupboards and a large linen closet are also on this deck. Each room is lighted with acetylene gas. The promenade deck contains a glass enclosed deck-house, which is used as a dining and lounging room, a dumb waiter connecting this house with the butler's pantry below. The hold contains the sleeping rooms for the crew, bath room, laundry tubs, coal and wood rooms and general storage place. The interior of the boat is finished throughout with curly poplar, and the boat makes an ideal summer home that can be towed to any part of the river or lake.

How I Made My Hair Grow

Woman With Marvelously Beautiful Hair Gives Simple Home Prescription Which Shows Most Remarkable Results.

I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all signally failed; many of them made my hair greasy. It was impossible to comb it or to get it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious and from my own experience I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair. After my long list of failures, I finally found a simple prescription which I can unhesitatingly state is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair I have ever seen. Many of my friends have also used it, and obtained wonderful effects therefrom. It not only is a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but is equally good for removing dandruff, giving the hair life and brilliancy, etc., and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class condition. It also makes the hair easier to comb and arrange in nice form. I have a friend who used it two months and during that time it has not only stopped the falling of his hair and wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all of his hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any druggist. The prescription is as follows:

Bay Rum, 6 oz.; Menthol Crystals, 1-2 drachm; Lavone de Cologne, 2 oz. If you like it perfumed add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. This, however, is not necessary. Apply night and morning; rub thoroughly into the scalp.
