R. WALDRON

AGAIN IN THE TOILS

BROCKVILLE BOY ARRESTED HERE FOR THIRD TIME.

Has a Mania for Travelling on Freight Trains and Staying Away From Home - Was Locked Up in Montreal on Saturday Last.

For the third time within two months, a fifteen-year-old Brockville lad ran away from his home and came to Kingston, and again he fell into the hands of Rev. A. E. Smart, inspector of the Children's Aid Society, and the police.

Rev. Mr. Smart took charge of the boy at the outer station on Monday night, acting on instructions received from the lad's parents in Brockville. The youngster had just arrived from Montreal, having ridden all the way on the back of the tender of an engine. The boy has been running away from home, and had a mania for travelling at light fare, and does not appear to be mentally responsible. He is being held by Rev. Mr. Smart, at the police station, pending the arrival of his father, who will take him home.

It will be remembered that just a couple of weeks ago, Police Constable Jenkins found the lad on the street, and at that time he was sent home, but he did not stay there long. He again got the fever to travel and boarded a freight for Montreal. After taking in the sights there he fell into the hands of the police, and on Saturday morning last he found himself in the Montreal juvenile police court. As it was his first appearance, he was allowed to go. Coming back he stopped off at Cornwall, but Brockville, his home town, he passed as if it were a mere flag station. He headed for Kingston. He likes Kingston, and says he wants to get a job here.

The last time the lad was arrested here he stated that he had secured a position at the cotton mill, and his story was that his mother and sister were both sick and that he wanted to go to work to help keep the family.

THE FLYING BOAT.

Toronto's newest arrival, a water-plane dropping the first ball on the diamond at the opening game of the baseball season. This is the first time that this unique means of starting a ball season has been used. Great interest is being exhibited in the water-plane, and although the charge is about four dollars a row, quite a number of people have taken advantage of the opportunity to fly.

The Late Mrs. Isaac Jaquith. A much-respected and well-known resident of Kingston passed away on Monday morning in the person of Mrs. Isaac Jaquith, 87, Lower Union street. The deceased, whose maiden name was Isabella Donnelly, had been confined to the house of her son-in-law, George McAuley, for the last five months. Mrs. George McAuley, Mrs. Thomas Hennessy, Livingston avenue, Miss Minnie Jaquith, of Detroit, Mich., Staff-Sergeant J. A. Jaquith, C.O., Thomas' J., and Joseph, all of this city, are the surviving daughters and sons. Misses Katherine and Elizabeth Donnelly are sisters. The deceased was a Roman Catholic in religion.

Lachute Doctor Injured. Lachute, Que., May 12.—W. W. Alexander received a number of bodily injuries this week when the automobile in which he and Mrs. Alexander were riding on a narrow road just outside the town, swerved and fell down an embankment. Mrs. Alexander escaped without injury.

The Temeraire Sold. Dr. Allan Black, of this city, has sold the yacht Temeraire to Mr. Bower, of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, of Toronto.

Dr. Roy Riddell, a Norwich veterinary surgeon, charged with having performed a criminal operation on his wife some time ago, was found guilty, at Woodstock, by Acting Judge Wallace. Sentence was deferred for a few days.

Spring Tonics, Gibson's. Douglas McGregor, one of Ferguson's most highly and esteemed citizens, committed suicide by taking Paris green. He was forty-nine years of age, and was town assessor. Montreal will shortly be visited by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the famous author of "Sherlock Holmes."

"MOVIES" OF ONTARIO

Newman's Funny Stories of His Experiences

"Bob" Newman, for years stage manager at Shea's theatre here, is now government inspector of moving picture theatres in the province of Ontario. And if he does not write a book about his experiences, it will not be for lack of material.

One afternoon he got off the train at Durham and told the village hackman to drive him to the moving picture place as quick as he possibly could, as he only had an hour's time. The driver drove and drove, and drove on through the mud; finally he came to the village and stopped; Bob got out.

"No, no," said the hackman, "this isn't the place; this is the post office."

"Where is the moving picture place?"

"Two blocks up the street."

Bob started to get back into the hack when a man standing near said:

"What place is it you are looking for?"

"The moving picture theatre," said Bob.

"Well, that is right next door here."

Bob turned to the hackman: "What are you trying to do—kid me, or get a long haul?"

"No, no," replied the hackman; "you said the moving picture place, and I thought you meant Mr. Johnson, the man that keeps the art store; you see, he has taken a new store, and is moving his pictures today, so I thought that was what you meant."

Another day Bob was at Palmerston. He had completed his inspection of the theatre, found it all right, and wished to report his O.K. to the mayor. So he asked the theatre proprietor where he could find the mayor.

"Well, now, I declare," the manager replied, "I don't know whether he is on the water wagon or not, today."

"I don't care," said Bob; "I can report to him drunk, just as well as if he was sober."

"Oh, I don't mean that," said the manager, "but, you see, three days of the week he drives the water wagon and the other three he drives the garbage wagon."—New York Star.

NO MONEY FOR MAIN

CIVIC UTILITIES STRIKES A SNAG.

Thought It Could Use "Waterworks Rest Fund, But It Cannot—City Auditor Will Not Authorize Payments.

The Civic Utilities Commission has struck a snag. It is constructing a water main extension in West and Clergy streets, and has no money to pay the cost. The extension will cost over $17,000. The commission assumed that it could use the $14,000 rest fund of the waterworks department and add to it part of the profits of this year on the water receipts. However, the city auditor, who is also auditor for the utilities, refuses to sanction any payments on account of the extension, as no funds have been provided to meet the cost. Thus the laboring men are without their pay, and will be for another fortnight, unless the auditor can see his way clear to stretch his conscience.

The difficulty was discussed by the City Council on Monday evening. The Utilities Commission asked that the council transfer the $14,000 rest fund to it for the extension. The majority of the aldermen, however, were inclined to hesitate. Why should the rest fund be used for an extension? they argued. An extension should be paid for by debentures. The rest fund was for renewals and the West and Clergy streets main was not a renewal. Future consumers should help pay the cost and not the people of the immediate present.

The result was that the matter was referred to the Finance committee and will have to come back to council, which is likely to refuse to part with the water rest fund, and to order that debentures be issued to cover the cost of the extension.

Opinion of Mayor Shaw.

Mayor Shaw, in speaking to the Whig, this morning, with reference to the above matter, stated that the council should hand over the rest fund to the Utilities Commission and allow the laying of the main to proceed. It would be very awkward otherwise; for it would be necessary to submit a by-law to the people to raise debentures if the rest fund was not given.

His worship thought it better to use the $14,000 rest fund, which was drawing only four per cent. in the bank, than to pay out five per cent. on debentures.

GYPSIES LIKE PITTSBURG

And Have Pitched Their Tents on the Old Camp Ground

The gypsies, who were gathered in by police on Saturday morning on Barrfield commons still refuse to leave Pittsburg. When they were released by the police it was on condition that they would leave. On Saturday afternoon they broke up their camp and proceeded toward Gananoque. When they arrived in the vicinity of the military camp grounds, they pitched their tents and were still there on Tuesday afternoon.

It is expected that the county constable will make a raid on their settlement on Tuesday afternoon or evening. Justice of the Peace George Hunter is bound that these gypsies will get out.

The Kingston Symphony Orchestra.

Judging from the personnel of the orchestra and the numbers on the programme, the citizens may expect a great treat, Tuesday, May 19th. The orchestra will be assisted by Mrs. Telgmann, Miss May Hinckley and Arthur Craig. The plan is now open at Uglow's.

John Stanfield, M.P., chief government whip, stated that the government hopes to prorogue by the end of May.
