MRS. OSCAR UNDERWOOD
 Wife of Democratic Leader and Senator From Alabama

COPYRIGHT HARRIS & EYING, WASH.

Mrs. Underwood is happiest when with her distinguished husband. She is one of the most ideally charming personalities in Washington and Alabama. She was Miss Bertha Woodward, of Birmingham. They were married in Asheville, N.C., in 1904, when she was spending the summer up in that beautiful stretch of summer resort country close to the Sapphire Land of the Sky. Mrs. Underwood often drives in her electric victoria to the capitol for her husband at the close of the day's session. She dislikes to go far away from Washington when he is kept here by his congressional duties, and lately they have been spending their spare-time hours, over Sunday, or in recesses of congress during last summer, at Hot Springs, W. Va. Mrs. Underwood makes a delightful presiding genius in the spacious home on G street that was once the home of Archibald W. Butt. "She possesses many charms of mind and manner," recently wrote an Alabama man of her. Her winning smile and quiet affability are the most sincere hallmarks of real cordiality among the official hostesses.

REV. FATHER MINEHAN.

On the Evils of the Drink and Politics.

Father Minehan said if the issue before them was a political one it was one that was honor to politics. "The May time of the liberal party is coming," he remarked. "The May time is already here. You will have a glorious June, a brighter and richer June than was known before, because the liberal party has got hold of the one thing that can lift politics above the narrow party mud, and that is a great vitalizing moral issue."

Father Minehan said he was a prohibitionist out and out. He was there simply as a citizen. He did not represent the Catholic church. No man or no church owned his vote. He would not stand dictation in this respect from anyone.

As a clergyman he had found the drink evil probably the greatest thing he had seen up against, and he welcomed the courageous stand which Mr. Rowell had taken in placing abolish the bar right in the front of his platform. Father Minehan also expressed himself favorable to tax reform and a back-to-the-land policy.

THOMAS MURRAY.

He is Sole Survivor of Ontario's First Legislature

Speaking with the Pembroke Observer, Thomas Murray intimated that he felt quite equal to another political battle in North Renfrew and would not be at all averse to again donning the armor of battle for the coming provincial fight. Mr. Murray is enjoying splendid health and would almost seem to be improving physically with advancing years. He is, as has been previously pointed out, the sole survivor of Ontario's first legislature, and it would indeed be a unique turn of the political wheel should he again enter the legislature now. Mr. Murray, we would infer, is not looking for a party nomination, but might yet decide to enter the field as an independent.

Mrs. John R. Gaynes of Calgary died from injuries received in a motor accident at Bond Lake.

COUNTERFEITER'S PLANT

Were Passed.

Seattle, Wash., May 18.—Discovery of a gang of international counterfeiters became known to-day, when it was made public that United States secret service operatives seized a counterfeiting plant at Seattle valued at $3,000. Detectives are working on clues concerning the identity of the men who have been operating in western Washington and British Columbia and eastward throughout Canada as far as Ottawa.

The counterfeiters have been turning out twenty-dollar Canadian bank notes and Canadian five-dollar bills, and secret service men estimate at least $10,000 of this money has been passed on the Pacific coast in the last six months.

STOP TRAINS A MINUTE

G.T.R. Activity to Cease in Memorial to Mr. Wainwright

Montreal, May 18.—The body of the late William Wainwright, senior vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, arrived in Montreal Saturday from Atlantic City.

An order has been issued by President E. J. Chamberlain that at 2.30 this afternoon every train on the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways, from Montreal to Prince Rupert and from Montreal to Chicago, should come to a standstill for one minute, and that for the same space of time every stop on the system should cease its activities, as a silent memorial to the man who for over half a century had been identified with the progress of the system.

TORONTO LADIES' TRICK

Of Wearing Expensive Gowns a Day And Then Returning Them

Toronto, May 18.—The simple method employed by some Toronto ladies of renting gowns for fashionable events without the inconvenience of paying for them is about to come to a sudden end. It has long been suspected, and now verified, that there are Toronto women who bought expensive French creations, with which to thrill the society reporters at the show, and then return them the following day to the stores and get their money back on the grounds that they were not satisfactory. "Spotters" are to be employed, and will make their first appearance at the coming races, to prevent this kind of thing.

RIGHT TO DIE QUESTION

German Schoolmaster Killed Wife at Her Request.

Berlin, May 18.—The question of the right to die has been raised again by a tragedy at Hirschberg, in Silesia.

Mr. Timme, headmaster of a school there, killed his wife and then attempted suicide. He told the police that his wife suffered such pain from an incurable cancer that for weeks she implored him to put an end to her sufferings. At last he decided to do so and to take his own life at the same time.

His wife was found dead in bed and Timme gravely wounded. If he recovers he will be blind, as the sight is destroyed.

NEWSPAPERMAN EXPELLED

Veracruz, May 18.—Oliver Madox, reporter, correspondent of the London Daily Express, has been expelled from Mexico City, although he was the bearer of a British passport.

Three times he was arrested in the capital on the allegation that he was a "notorious American spy." After his last arrest he received the order of expulsion, and arrived here on a refugee train.

He says no change has taken place in conditions in the capital so far as is apparent on the surface.

The refugee train brought in twenty Americans and a number of Mexicans.
