HEAVY SMOKE FOG REPORTED ON ST. LAWRENCE.

Wreckage of the Steamer City of Belleville was blown up at Prescott — Schooner Ford River made a Fast Trip.

An officer of the steamer Advance reports very heavy smoke fog on the river St. Lawrence for the last few days. The pilot of the Cadillac stopped the steamer at Kingston from evening until daylight, to-day, before he would venture out.

The schooner Julia B. Merrill arrived at Swift's wharf, last night, from Oswego, with coal.

The steamer City of Hamilton touched on her way east this morning.

The steamer Rideau King cleared for Ottawa this morning.

The government steamer Loretta is at Swift's wharf.

The steamer Advance, which struck a sill in a lock of the St. Lawrence canal, Tuesday, is in the Shipbuilding company's dry dock for repairs to her lower, which was seriously damaged.

The steamer Fairfax cleared, at 8 p.m., yesterday, for Pictou.

The steamer Cadillac and Saskatchewan passed east, and the steamer Arabian passed west this morning.

The uptake pipes and stack of the steamer Advance were put in yesterday, at Garden Island. She is again at the Shipbuilding company's wharf.

The schooner T. J. Wallis passed, yesterday, on her way up the Rideau canal, with coal from Oswego.

M.T. Co's elevator: Tug Hail, from Montreal, with two light barges, cleared for Montreal, with two, barges, grain laden; steamer Advance arrived from Montreal, Wednesday night; steamer Rosemount, grain laden, from Fort William, will pass down, to-night, on her way to Montreal.

The schooner Eccles arrived from Oswego, with coal for Garden Island.

The schooner Ford River has been unloading coal, from Erie, at the hosiery mill. Capt. Chauncey Daryeau made a very quick trip to Erie and return, making it in the time usually taken for the trip from Kingston to Montreal on return. The Ford River is one of the speediest schooners on the lake.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Bar Room Responsible for Delictive Children

Nipissing, May 19.—(To the Editor): I note with pleasure the increasing interest throughout Ontario re medical inspection of the pupils of the schools and venture to call attention to a cause responsible for many cases constantly arising in the schools and requiring medical attention—namely, the bar-room.

As a teacher of long experience it has often pained me to see at school underfed, under-dressed and almost shoeless children, with their hair matted and emaciated bodies, liable at any time to become victims of some ailment, all because the bartender got the money which should have fed, clothed and sheltered them. In too many cases also, their clothing and persons were none too clean, for when the poor mother had to scrub and wash for others she had neither time nor strength properly to attend to her own home and children.

I am now in daily contact with several appealing cases—the fathers in steady work at good wages, but the saloon man getting the lion's share of the weekly envelope. The longing cry of many an earnest teacher is: "The temperance people to be in a hurry."

The economic aspect of the government's policy of spending millions yearly in educating our boys and girls turning them over to the tender mercies of the bartender to undo all the work of the school does not come within the scope of this letter—ANTI-BAR-ROOM TEACHER.

INJURED AT BASEBALL

"Jack" Hay Spiked, and Bone in Ankle Displaced

The many friends of "Jack" Hay, University avenue, will be sorry to hear of an accident that happened to him while playing baseball at the cricket field, Wednesday afternoon. He was sliding into a base when the ball was trying to touch him with his ankle, accidentally stepped on his ankle, and he sprained his shoe.

As soon as he was taken to his home Dr. Bogart was called, and after putting the X-ray on the ankle, he set the small bone that had become displaced.

A Short Hay Crop

Toronto Weekly Sun.

ARE WORKING TOO FAST FOR THE CITY.

Men in Excavations Cannot Keep Far Enough Ahead of the Contractors Gang of Workmen.

It was found impossible to commence the work of laying the concrete base for the double track on King and Princess streets on Thursday morning, as was expected, on account of the non-arrival of the cement. It was expected on Thursday morning that the cement would be on the job by Thursday afternoon.

The contractors are rushing the excavation work along on Princess street at a rapid stride. The men have passed Bagot street and are now waiting for the city men to complete the drain work in front of the Singer sewing machine store.

It was the intention of the paving company to complete the south side of the street so that the street cars would be able to run on the new track on the south side of the street while the north side is being completed. On account of the delay of the city on the block on Princess street between Bagot and Montreal street it was found necessary for the paving contractors to commence the excavation work on the north side of the street instead of laying the men off.

Unless the city men employed in doing the excavation work on the block in front of the Grand Opera House proceed at a more rapid stride it will only be a few days until the paving contractors will be right on top of them.

QUEEN MARY LOSES TWO MOST VALUABLE PEARLS.

Breaks Necklace Fastening and Unfortunate Dresser Steps Upon Them — Worth $500 Each.

London, May 21.—Queen Mary, "the economical," has just lost two of the most valuable pearls in her possession. After the last court, while the queen's dresser was assisting her majesty to disrobe, she had some difficulty in unfastening the queen's pearl necklace. Her majesty, making an effort to unfasten the clasp herself, broke the fastening and half a dozen pearls fell to the floor. Stepping back to pick them up, the unfortunate dresser trod on two of the largest—pearls that were worth $500 apiece.

Queen Mary's everyday jewels are of such enormous value that English detectives are constantly present to protect them quite apart from maintaining a watchful eye on their royal owner.

SEARCH HIGH AND LOW

For Picture of Mrs. Robert Murray O'Hara

Ottawa, May 21.—Dominion postal authorities in Ottawa and elsewhere throughout Ontario are busy in the search for a photograph of Mrs. Robert Murray O'Hara, the beautiful sister-in-law of F. C. T. O'Hara, deputy minister of trade and commerce. It is feared the photograph has fallen into the hands of unscrupulous advertisers who have for years been trying to secure Mrs. O'Hara's picture to use in connection with advertisements of their wares and thus emphasize their beauty and purity.

Mrs. Robert Murray O'Hara lives at 20 West 129th street, New York, and a few days ago she mailed a photograph which she recently had taken to her mother-in-law, Albert street, Kingston. The letter in which the picture was enclosed has been received by Mrs. O'Hara, Sr., but the photograph was missing.

As soon as the photograph was taken by the New York photographer, Mrs. O'Hara received numerous offers from advertising firms asking to be allowed to use it in their advertisements, for which privilege they were willing to pay large sums. To all of these offers Mrs. O'Hara gave a refusal.

Mrs. O'Hara's beauty has caused her to be annoyed for years by firms wishing to use her photograph in advertisements. Even when she was a child her parents were in constant receipt of offers from various firms, but they declined large sums and kept the photographs private.
