A HEAVY RAINSTORM

BROKE OVER KINGSTON ON TUESDAY MORNING.

The lightning was very vivid—Pipe Knocked Out of Mouth of Dr. Albertson, Rideau Street.

The electric storm of Tuesday morning caused many anxious minutes, and there were many who breathed more freely after the storm had abated. About 7.50 a. m. the storm was at its worst, and it was nothing but flash after flash of lightning with incessant rumbling of thunder. Two or three heavy peals were particularly noticeable.

Lightning struck the flag staff on Henderson's grocery store, Brock street, splintering it from top to bottom, and carrying away one half of it. A strange thing about this flash was that after it struck, the ball of fire continued on its course and finally ended in close proximity to the city buildings near the island department, where E. Green, one of the city street cleaners, in company with another man, were sitting until the rain was over. Mr. Green said that he thought the flash was going to enter the doorway. However, it appeared to end a few feet out and disappeared as quickly as it had made its appearance.

At the home of Dr. T. A. Albertson, Rideau street, the lightning ran along the electric light wires and entered the room where Dr. Albertson's son lay on a couch smoking. The flash knocked the pipe out of his hand and gave him a pretty severe shock. Some few minutes elapsed before he recovered from the effects.

At the Prince George hotel on Ontario street, the lightning burst out the fuses and put the lights in the front section of the dining-room out of commission.

The cars were also stalled, and car No. 24, came to a standstill at the corner of Bagot and Princess streets, where it remained until the storm abated.

The amount of rain that fell was tremendous. Many gutters were blocked, and at some corners the water was a foot deep.

MERCHANTS' BANK REPORT

Annual Report Shows a Most Satisfactory Condition of Affairs.

In keeping with the other banks, the Merchants' bank of Canada has just concluded a very satisfactory year with net profits amounting to $1,218,694. This is equivalent to 17.30 per cent. on the average paid-up capital which, in view of the somewhat uncertain business conditions prevailing during the year, must be regarded as satisfactory. Comparisons with previous years are made somewhat difficult owing to the fact that in 1912 the fiscal year was changed from November 30th to April 30th and last year's report covered a period of only five months. Comparing the figures of the year which has just closed with those of April 10th, 1913, there have been increases in capital stock, in the rest account, in the savings deposits, in the bank's coin and bullion, call loans abroad, current loans in Canada and in total assets. The latter now stands at $83,120,741, as compared with $0,573,899 a year ago. A further examination of the bank's statement shows that dividend payments for the year absorbed $656,000, bank premises account $100,000, depreciation in investments $135,000, and officers' pension fund $50,000. The capital and reserve are now each $7,000,000, making the Merchants' Bank rank both in the matter of paid-up capital, rest and total assets as one of our largest financial institutions.

Attempt to Invade King's Palace

London, May 26.—A story is told of how the militants proposed to invade Buckingham Palace. An unnamed society woman secured a short lease of a large house on Grosvenor Place overlooking the palace gardens. She undertook to make the necessary "repairs," and in order to do this a number of ladders were brought into the grounds and placed against the palace garden walls. The neighbors and their suspiciousness aroused by frequent visits of women to the place at night and told the police. The officials went to work at once and nipped a plan of the militants to raid the palace gardens by clambering over the walls by means of the ladders which were already in place.

ITS VOICE NOT NEEDED

LABOR AND THE $45,000,000 GUARANTEE DEAL.

Alphonse Verville, M.P., Former President of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress Refers to the Proposed Aid to Mackenzie and Mann

"I want to go on record as being against this proposition," declared Alphonse Verville, the member for Maisonneuve, in speaking last week in the commons of Premier Borden's proposal to give to Mackenzie and Mann a further bond guarantee of $45,000,000. For a term of years Mr. Verville held office as president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. To-day he sits in parliament as a labor member.

In his speech Mr. Verville was clear-cut and emphatic on two points. He strongly opposed the plan to pledge the country's credit further for the benefit of Mackenzie and Mann and he was strongly in favor of public ownership of Canadian railways.

"I have heard, as has every member of the House," he said, "that Mackenzie and Mann are worth millions of dollars. If there is no reason more than another why I object to Mackenzie and Mann coming to this house it is because they are members of this get-rich-quick society. They are responsible for the much talked of coal strike on Vancouver Island. It has not been mentioned in this house before but every member knows that this famous strike was started in the mines of Mackenzie and Mann. If they are so rich, why could they not grant the reasonable demand of the men? Why have they not shown some justice in that matter?"

"Every time Mackenzie and Mann come before this house it seems to me that they have more friends than any other company. On two occasions I have heard gentlemen of this house state that they have been indirectly threatened by Mackenzie and Mann. What power is behind their threats? Is it the mighty power of their money, or something else?"

Mr. Verville pointed out further that since Canada would be liable for the $45,000,000 represented by the proposed guarantee the passage of the government's proposal was equivalent to placing a liability or mortgage upon every citizen of the Dominion. In return for this what are the people to receive? They are to become minority shareholders in a company controlled by Mackenzie and Mann. Labor's representative did not mince words in dealing with this phase of the case.

"It has been said," Hansard reports him as saying, "that we are going into partnership with Mackenzie and Mann. I, for one, do not want to go into partnership with those gentlemen because if they were absolutely honest I believe they would have put their own fortunes into this enterprise. We are told that the government is to give forty per cent. of the common stock of the company. I have read enough of trusts and mergers and over-capitalization to know what this is worth. I would favor even a greater guarantee than this $45,000,000 providing we got control of the company. If necessary let us eliminate altogether Mackenzie and Mann. I want to go on record as being opposed to this proposition. I do not want to be charged by the people of this country with having gone into partnership with Mackenzie and Mann. I would rather go into partnership with anybody else than these gentlemen."

Mr. Verville, a labor representative, a man whose life has been one of service to the cause of labor, opposes the government's plan to give $45,000,000 to two men who have already grown enormously wealthy out of the construction of a railway into which they have put none of their own money. He is opposed, and rightly so, to making this country the junior partner in the firm of Mackenzie, Mann and Canada—to having the Dominion put up more money to add further to the wealth of men who have become multi-millionaires through their handling of Canadian affairs. Other labor leaders and several labor organizations have protested against this $45,000,000 deal. Resolutions of protest have been passed by labor bodies in different cities.

But these protests from the workmen give Mackenzie and Mann no concern. They know that the Borden government will pay little heed to the views of labor. It is Mackenzie and Mann and the corporation interests generally which have the ear of the premier and his colleagues.

The Duke of Cornwall is to be invited to visit the battlefield at Craters farm, in Dundas county.
