BETHEL TO OBSERVE

THE FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF ITS FOUNDING.

Kingston Second Congregational Church to Celebrate This Event on Sunday 31st.

Four decades of life have been passed by Bethel Congregational church, in Kingston, and the congregation will celebrate its fortieth anniversary of existence this Sunday, May 31st, at both services. The pastor, Rev. A. P. Mershon, will preach in Ottawa, so that Rev. D. N. Morden, pastor of Erskine Presbyterian church, Ottawa, may be the fortieth anniversary speaker here. Rev. Mr. Morden is a former pastor of Bethel church and is always gladly heard in this city.

This church, now in the prime of life (speaking as of man), which was organized on the outskirts of the city, now finds itself in almost the exact geographical centre of the same city, with a fine location and enough ground for expansion of buildings when needed. The present buildings were erected over thirty years ago, and are substantially the same in appearance and furnishings as at first.

The church has no property or current expense debts, or any other kinds, and it is the home of a contented and thrifty congregation, who are always free from fret or friction of finances, though a small people, because they give by weekly offering and tithing in sufficient quantity to meet the current needs. Of late years the missionary workings have increased, and the weekly offerings to missions of 1914 have been double those of 1913 during the same period. The church has very little machinery, but its few societies aim to be excellent in their spheres. The Sunday School and the pulpit stand committed to one work of soul-saving.
